Grant Permit For More Oil Storage To Dolan Company

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night by a vote of 13 to 4 granted a permit to the John Dolan Coal Company of Lower Falls to increase the storage of fuel oil at its yard on Concord st. by 30,000 gallons. The present storage capacity there is 40,000 gallons. The Licenses Committee had split on this question. A majority of the committee, Aldermen Eaton, Temperley, Hoffman and Hughes reported against granting the permit. The other three members of the committee, Fahey, Cronin and Lockwood presented a minority report favoring the permit.

Alderman Hughes, presenting the majority report argued that the Dolan Company wants the increased storage not for its own retail business, but as a subterfuge so that it can operate as a distribution center for another large fuel oil company. He said that the original oil storage permit had been granted to the Dolan Company on a retail basis, and now they want to get a permit so they can store oil on a rental basis. Alderman Temperley agreed with Hughes, stating that the Dolan plant is used by the other company for retailing oil to surrounding territory, and this company should store its oil in the territory where it is dispensed. Alderman Hoffman argued that the objections of Lower Falls residents against granting the permit should be heeded, otherwise "what's the use of holding a public hearing?"

Alderman Rawson said the Dolan yard is in a manufacturing zone, and to deny the permit would be tending toward confiscation. Alderman Jameson said the Board would be on dangerous ground if it starts to determine whether a business shall be retail or wholesale. Alderman Eustis said he is new on the Board and was surprised to hear insinuations about subterfuges. He stated that he had visited the Dolan Company yard and believes that the petitioner seeks a legitimate extension of business.

Alderman Hughes asked Alderman Fahey why he opposed a permit for a warehouse for the storage of paper near the Stearns School, Nonantum, and then favors the permit for increasing the oil storage at Lower Falls? Alderman Fahey replied that (Continued on Page 12)

Newton Chamber Opposes Wage Bill

Rupert Thompson, secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, represented that organization on Tuesday at the hearing held in the State House on a bill sponsored by the State Minimum Wage Commission. The bill would establish a minimum wage of 44 cents an hour for part-time inexperienced women workers in office work; 47 cents for experienced women workers; $12 per week for inexperienced boy or girl messengers; $13.50 for experienced boy or girl messengers; 35 cents per hour for inexperienced boy or girl workers, and 39 cents per hour for experienced boy or girl workers.

Mr. Thompson stated that the opposition of the local Chamber is because its members believe that the rates are too high and would result in more unemployment, because it will interfere with part-time work for boys and girls attending school, and who earn while learning; and because the rates for large cities are the same as those for small towns where the cost of living is less.

The Minimum Wage Board recommends a minimum of $15 per week for inexperienced women office workers, and $16 per week for experienced workers. Those included in the provisions of the bill are—clerks, typists, secretaries, stenographers, bookkeepers, billing clerks, filing clerks, cashiers, checkers, invoice clerks, machine operators, auditors, office boys and girls and messengers.

Taxpayers Asso. Elects Officers

At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Taxpayers' Association on February 27th, Marshall B. Dalton of West Newton was elected President. Wendell R. K. Mick of Oak Hill and F. Ashley Day of Newton were elected Vice Presidents.

The principal subject for discussion was the Budget for 1941 recently submitted by Mayor Goddard to the Board of Aldermen and now under consideration by the Finance Committee. The Mayor's budget message was reviewed in detail with the Board and satisfaction expressed with the substantial progress made during 1940. It is apparent that there is the best of co-operation between the executive and legislative branches of our city government and that earnest efforts are being made by both to operate our business of government efficiently and economically.

The Newton Taxpayers' Association, whose objective is efficient and economical administration of public business, is increasing its facilities for research and co-operation with our city government. Representatives of the Taxpayers' Association will go over the budget in detail with the Finance Committee and make such suggestions as appear appropriate before the budget is finally adopted. The association is receiving full co-operation from Mayor Goddard and the Finance Committee. This kind of co-operation between the taxpayers who furnish the money to conduct our city business and the city administration who spend our tax money cannot help but make for more efficient and economical administration and as low a tax rate as is consistent with maintaining Newton as one of the most desirable cities in which to live.

Newton Business Shows Increase In Recent Years

The Newton Chamber of Commerce through its secretary, Rupert Thompson, has issued a very interesting report comparing retail sales in Newton for the years 1929, 1935 and 1939. During that 10 year period the population of Newton increased 7 per cent and retail sales 9 per cent. During this same period retail sales in Massachusetts decreased 15 per cent and in Boston 27 per cent. In 32 cities and towns of more than 25,000 population sales decreased 19 per cent. Among these 32 cities Newton stood 14th in amount of sales. Only seven of the 32 besides Newton showed an increase in sales.

In 1929 the number of stores in Newton was 512, sales were $20,744,183, employees 1912, payroll $2,425,820. In 1935 the number of stores was 521, sales $17,391,000, employees 1919, payroll $2,071,000. In 1939 the stores numbered 630, sales were $22,537,000, employees 2573, payroll $2,766,000. The population in 1929 was 65,276 and in 1939 it was 69,873. In the 5-year period 1935-1939 Newton sales showed a gain of 30 per cent. (Continued on Page 6)

Replace Draftees Who Are Deferred

Two volunteers will replace two men from District 113 who were to have been inducted on Saturday. They are Dominic J. Venuto, 20, of 133 Pine st., Auburndale, who obtained his father's consent; and Thomas H. Leahy of 18 Aberdeen st., Newton Highlands. They will replace Thomas A. Hamilton of 15 Wamsit rd., Waban, who has been deferred temporarily; and Peter Minkus of 37 Moffat rd., Waban, who joined the navy recently.

In District 112, Lawrence Clarke, Jr., of 424 Cherry st., West Newton, a volunteer, will replace Martin Peterson, formerly of 145 Fairway drive, who moved to Topeka, Kansas. In District 114, Alexander Grant of 1349 Centre st., Newton Center, will replace Harvey Cibiel of 63 Mandalay rd., whose case is being reconsidered by the Draft Board.

Board of Health Makes New Rules

The Newton Board of Health this week adopted a new rule which specifies that in the future persons keeping horses, cattle, swine, poultry or pigeons on their premises must obtain an annual permit on or before Sept. 30 of each year. Hereafter permits to keep live stock were issued on a permanent basis. About 400 permits are extant in Newton, and these will have to be renewed.

The Board of Health appointed Barbara Griffin of Lexington to serve as Health Department nutritionist during the coming year, as substitute for Miss Charlotte Raymond, who is on leave of absence while serving with the Red Cross in England. A masseuse's license was granted to Frieda Lack of Brookline. A permit was granted to E. W. Skelton, of 74 Needham st., to pasteurize milk.

Inspector Alexander Robertson was instructed to draw a set of regulations pertaining to the collection and transportation of garbage, offal and other offensive substances.

Eligible For Fire Dept. Captain

On Tuesday Chief Randlett of the Fire Department received from the Civil Service Commission the names of three lieutenants who are eligible for appointment to the rank of captain. They are in order: John L. Keating, Ladder 3, Newton; Everett H. Siebert, Engine 3, Newton Centre; Thomas J. Burke, Engine 8, Nonantum. The Board of Aldermen on Monday night appropriated money for the salary of a captain in the department to replace an officer who has been ill the past year.

Green Speaks At Meeting of Family Service Bureau

"Helping Newton High School Pupils to Adjust to Life" was the topic of the address by Mr. Raymond A. Green at the annual meeting of the Family Service Bureau of Newton, Inc. The High School, as shown by Mr. Green, is alert to changes in demand on young people, adjusting its curriculum to help all types. A placement service with a full-time employment director will strengthen the schools' interest in helping its graduates face the hard job of getting work. The demands of business would be studied carefully and thus bring back to the school needs in curricular changes, always keeping in mind the broad basic education fundamental for all types of community responsibility. Extra curricular activities and clubs in the school give the boys and girls practice in assuming responsibility, thus being better able in the future to be on their own and also give practice in practical citizenship. He emphasized that the co-operation of all citizens and community agencies was valuable in strengthening this adjustment which the school is attempting.

Miss Parsons, General Secretary, on reporting the year's work, spoke of the services of the Bureau as carrying out the main purpose of the Agency when founded over fifty years ago, namely the community's inherent interest in its individual citizens and a belief in the individual, respect for him and his ability to marshal his strength to help himself. The Board of Directors and the staff of the Bureau are constantly focusing its attention on how it fits into the community needs, how it can contribute its part to the common purpose of all agencies, public and private in Newton, and that of the wider community. During the year 581 families came to the Bureau for help and service and many more families were reached before financial help was needed, 52 1/2% of the total. Twenty-three children were sent to camp as a part of a year round plan in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A., Girl and Boy Scouts. The school consultation work has continued in its interest in helping young people to get the most out of Newton's excellent educational opportunities.

The Health Committee, which has supervision of the Christmas Seal Sale Fund, has along with its camp work with the tubercular contact children and educational work in connection with prevention of tuberculosis, developed a new project through the employment of a rehabilitation worker, Mrs. Amundsen. In co-operation with the Middlesex Sanatorium plans are made for vocational opportunities for patients prior to their discharge which means better adjustment in the community and an additional protection of their health after discharge.

Mr. Richard B. Carter was re-elected president. The other officers elected were, 1st vice-president, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. J. Earle Parker; 3rd vice-president, Dr. M. Russell Boynton; treasurer, William M. Cahill; clerk, Clarence E. Churchill; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Arthur W. Lane. Directors elected for three years were Mr. George A. Bacon, Mrs. Malcolm P. Ball, Mr. Charles E. Billings, Mrs. Norman W. Bingham, Jr., Dr. George F. H. Bowers, Mrs. Charles H. Clark, Mrs. John B. Coward, Miss Elizabeth Deans, Mr. Frank Grebe, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mr. Kenneth J. LaFlamme, Dr. Sterling Loveland, Mrs. Newton Merritt, Mrs. Arthur L. Miller, Mrs. Charles A. Riley, Mrs. Richard A. Winslow. Director for one year, Mr. Grosvenor Calkins.

Would Keep Trucks Off St. Mary's St.

A petition signed by 34 residents of St. Mary's, Lower Falls, has been presented to the Board of Aldermen asking that traffic on that street be restricted to passenger cars and trucks of not over 1 1/2 tons capacity. They complain that gravel trucks passing over the street create a traffic hazard during day hours and are an annoyance at night. The petition states that St. Mary's st. is short and secluded, on it are 23 homes which cost $175,000; that the street has been resurfaced at the expense of the abutters and should not be used as a thoroughfare.

Newton Men Drawn For Jury Duty

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the following Newton residents were drawn to serve as jurors at sessions of Middlesex Superior Court starting on April 7: civil business, William Hanson, 28 Brookside ave., Newtonville; John J. Daley, 17 Crescent square, Newton; N. Irving Paterson, 596 Grove st., Lower Falls; Clifton Curtis, 136 Fuller st., West Newton; Harry Warshaw, 276 Mill st., Newtonville. Criminal business sessions: John H. Welch, 66 Cherry st., West Newton; Henry Doherty, 73 Derby st., West Newton; Herbert Jackson, 26 Cross st., West Newton; Charles Carter, 182 Tremont st., Newton.

Soloists Are Guest Artists For Spring Concert of Glee Club

With a finely balanced program and two soloists as guest attractions, the Highland Glee Club of Newton assembles next Tuesday, March 11, for their 72nd concert. As usual the auditorium of the Newton High School will be filled to capacity for the concert of this prize-winning men's singing group who have become increasingly popular. For their March concert, the Highland Glee Club have chosen Olive Appleton and Harry Newcombe as their guest soloists.

Miss Appleton, soprano, has been widely acclaimed for her fine voice and for her concert and oratorio work with the leading orchestral and choral societies.

The baritone voice of Mr. Newcombe is known all over the United States. He has twice appeared with the Boston Symphony and his work with the Handel and Haydn Society is well known. In addition to solos and duets, both artists will sing numbers supported by the club.

For their part the Glee Club has assembled a program of unusual diversity and range, well flavored with songs in the lighter vein. Songs that will surely thrill the audience are Gains' arrangement of "The Day of Judgment" and Bach's "Death I Do Not Fear Thee." By request they will repeat "O Peaceful Night." For spring gaiety—"My Sylvan Nest" and "Spring Night." To add lightness and good humor—the popular Gypsy Song—the pert "But They Didn't," the plaintive "All Day on the Prairie." The concert will start at 8:15.

Aldermen Reject Claims for Damages

Several damage claims against the City of Newton were given leave to withdraw by the Board of Aldermen on Monday night after Alderman Rawson, chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, had explained why the committee reported adversely on these claims. The claim of the General Insurance Exchange was for damage to an automobile owned by a client, Edwin T. Booth of Dedham. His car was in collision with a city-owned truck which was plowing snow on Route 128. The Aldermen contended that this truck was engaged in a necessary function and the city is not liable. The claim of Leon W. Stetson of Otis st. was for damage to his automobile caused by its skidding on an icy street. The city is not liable for damage from this cause.

The claim of Herbert F. Simpkins of John st., Newton Centre, was for injuries received by him and his wife, and damage to his automobile caused by collision with a trailer-truck owned by the city. Alderman Rawson stated that this collision occurred on Feb. 4 at the intersection of Centre and Beacon sts., that the car was travelling between 25 and 30 miles an hour, and the truck 25 miles an hour. He commented that the car was travelling too fast. Alderman Hughes inquired about the city truck travelling 25 miles, and Alderman Rawson replied that the truck was going 25 miles just before the collision, but slowed down as it turned the corner. The claim of Rose Barisano of 317 Nevada st. for personal injury, received when she fell on Watertown st., was withdrawn. She was compensated by owners of adjoining property.

Public Speaking

The graduation dinner of the Effective Speech Class, which has been meeting weekly at the Newton Centre playground house, was held at the 1812 House in Framingham on Friday evening, February 28. It was enlivened by the singing of both old and popular tunes, played with delightful informality by Mrs. H. H. Gaffney. The class president, Mrs. Nicholas Lupo, introduced in turn the members of the group, each of whom delivered an excellent two-minute speech. Miss Grace Lawrence, supervisor of Newton's public health nurses, gave the class history, demonstrating perfectly the salient points of the course as given by Wallace G. Strathern. After a few pertinent remarks by Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, who directs the neighborhood centers, diplomas were awarded by Recreation Commissioner Wilson to Daniel Barton, Lillian Birrell, Marion Bridges, Joseph Chevalier, Julian Head, Grace Lawrence, Nicholas Lupo, Hilga Nelson, Elizabeth Porter, Louis Silverman, Elena Simone, Barbara Smythe, Helen Stewart, Robert Stewart, Marjorie Stinson, and Charles Walker. Many of these expressed their intention of joining the alumni group which is carrying on after graduation from the course sponsored by the Recreation Department last year under the same leadership as that of the season just closed.

Bowen Center

A group of ten girls from the Bowen School Center accompanied by their director, Miss Helen Anderson, visited radio station WAAB on Thursday, February 27. A guide showed them through the building and explained every detail very carefully before the broadcast. It was a most interesting educational trip which gave the girls much to talk over at their meeting on Friday.

Recreation Commissioner Wilson has been elected a member of the executive board of the Metropolitan Boston Amateur Softball Association. The association has accepted the offer of the Newton Recreation Department to hold the qualifying tournament in Newton in August.

Arrest Alleged Accoster of Girl

Angelo Larosa, 26, of 240 Crescent st., Waltham, was arrested on Tuesday afternoon by Lieut. Crowley and Sergeant Bannan on warrant issued last June. It is alleged that on the night of June 8 Larosa accosted a 19-year-old girl in this city, and as she ran toward her home he followed her in his car. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and his case was continued until Saturday.

Powers' Paragraphs

In recent years the uniforms provided for enlisted men in the National Guard compared in quality and tailoring with those worn by officers. But, the uniforms now being issued to enlisted men in the U. S. Army are quite different. In texture and "fit" they bear quite a resemblance to the sartorial creations which were worn by the privates and non-coms in 1917 and 1918. The other day we met a group of recently inducted soldiers in the Boston subway. They were enroute from Camp Edwards to Fort Devens. Each man was teting his own suitcase, and a duffel-bag. And the uniforms some of them were attired in left plenty of room for expansion. The wearers looked embarrassed. It was a new experience for them.

Residents of Newton who take an interest in civic affairs, and who organize to improve conditions in their particular part of the city, deserve commendation. But, when persons who have resided here but a comparatively short time threaten to move from this city, or that "they will get any Alderman who does not see as they do," when petitions they present are not acted upon favorably, such individuals only evidence that they do not know Newton and its methods. It has not been characteristic of Newton people in the past to exhibit a "spoiled child" complex, or to attempt to scare our Mayors and Aldermen by threatening—"Do as we want—or else."

Owners of public garages in the Newtons are complaining about the intrusion into their sphere of business by gasoline filling stations. When the filling stations were granted permits some years ago, these permits were for the sale of gasoline and lubricants. At that time most of the gasoline stations would also fix flat tires for customers. Several years ago gasoline stations began to obtain permits for "lubricatoriums," small structures in which automobiles could be driven to be lubricated. Recently some filling stations have been asking for permits for additional to the "lubricatoriums" for the purpose of washing cars, and selling other types of service. Some of them are even making motor repairs, ignition repairs and other types of motor vehicle service. One garage owner commented to the writer the other day that the gasoline filling stations are doing everything except straightening frames on cars. The garage owners and automobile repair men doubt the right of the filling stations to perform repairs and service work under the scope of the permits granted them.

The last item in the Street Department Budget is for an appropriation of $6400 for traffic signal construction. The Street Department wanted to install and change a lot of traffic signals, and recommended an appropriation of $20,052 for this purpose. The Mayor in his efforts to economize, didn't agree that all this traffic signal expense is necessary, so he cut the item to $6400. In our opinion, he might have eliminated the $6400 and saved the taxpayers that much money. Or this money might be used to give many clerks at City Hall who have been working years for small salaries some deserved increases.

The $6400 recommended for traffic signal construction is to replace signals now in the street at intersections along Commonwealth ave. with signals which will be located at corners of these intersections, and as we stated in this column last week, it is our belief that the traffic signals which are out on the street at the wide intersections along Commonwealth ave., have been quite effective in preventing accidents. It is true that some of them have been hit, but in almost every case by a drunken driver, and we again state that this fact, instead of making the "on the street" signals a liability, it makes them an asset to public safety. Better for drunken drivers to collide with signals or beacons than with pedestrians or other motor vehicles.

The writer is more than ordinarily interested in traffic signals because he was a member of the Traffic Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen a dozen or so years ago when traffic signals were first being installed on Newton streets. The first street traffic signals in Newton were made by a West Newton resident. They were crude and fragile but they produced good results in lessening accidents and were highly approved by the Chief of Police, Street Commissioner and other officials of the Police and Street departments. At meetings of the Board of Aldermen it was acknowledged that those early signals warranted the small amounts they cost. When, a few years later, State officials insisted on uniformity and standardization of traffic signals, Newton's home-made signals had to be replaced with signals which received the approval of the State Department of Public Works.

In those days traffic signals in the centre of streets at intersections were highly approved by employees of the State Department of Public Works who supervised traffic control. The contention was—that such signals were quite conspicuous, they loomed up in front of approaching motorists, and would not be unnoticed as frequently as traffic signals placed at street corners. They were not obscured by parked (or stopped) motor vehicles, as corner signals sometimes are. And signals in streets also served the very important purpose of keeping reckless drivers from cutting in front of approaching vehicles and causing collisions. Any experienced driver knows this is so. Many cities and towns continue to realize the value of signals and beacons at street intersections and squares wide enough for such installation, and (as in Waltham) have installed such safety aids during the past couple of years. But it is the vogue now among alleged traffic "experts" to denounce signals located in streets, and demand that such signals be replaced by off-street signals. And some of the traffic "engineers" and assistant "engineers" are those who only a few years ago were telling how effective were signals and beacons on streets to prevent criss-crossing of traffic. Of course, the "engineers" employed by manufacturers of traffic signals advocate replacement of the older type devices. Installing new signals makes business.

Veteran traffic officers have repeatedly suggested to us that the white lines on streets painted to define cross-walks, parking spaces and other traffic instructions, should be repainted late each autumn. If this were done, these lines would not become obliterated during the winter months, and the police would be assisted in preventing automobiles parking on cross walks, in prohibited areas, and out of position in parking spaces.

Citizens of Newton vote for three members of Congress; our two Senators and the member of the House of Representatives from the 9th District. Our two Senators, Walsh and Lodge, are strongly opposed to the Lease-Lend Bill. The Representative from this district, Congressman Eliot, voted for the bill, but favored some restrictive amendments. Senator Walsh, in his brilliant and scholarly address of last Monday, gave logical reasons for opposing the bill as it now stands. Senator Lodge, emulating his famous grandfather, is against involving this country in perilous, foreign entanglements. Congressman Eliot, one of the young men to have had a prominent part in "New Deal" activities during President Roosevelt's administration, remains loyal to his leader, but obviously is somewhat concerned over the passage of a Lease-Lend Bill without proper restrictions. Despite the fact that Newton is one of the outstanding Republican strongholds of this country, I believe that probably a majority of Republicans of this city approve of the stand taken by Mr. Eliot.

That the Lease-Lend Bill tends to drag this country into the war is indicated by the objections of administration leaders to the Ellender amendment, which would prohibit, insofar as the present bill is concerned, the sending of U. S. military forces beyond the Western Hemisphere, except to possessions of this country, including the Philippines. If it is being planned to send our armed forces to continue the status quo of the British and Dutch possessions in the Far East, those so planning are inviting the ruin of the nation. Because this action may create such dissension in the U. S. A. as to imperil the future of this country. And in making this statement I am neither a defeatist nor a Fifth Columnist, as labelled by those who would involve this country in war far across the Pacific. For traffic signals and permanent thinners walls and lighter arches would have paid for much paint and putty, but such was not the taste of our people, nor the desire of the committee and the architect. Elaborate ornamentation and ornate windows may be added in course of time. And now, only the pleasant duty remains of transferring to Mr. George S. Harwood, the chairman of the standing committee, the keys of the building. The cost of the building were then presented to Mr. Harwood. The cost of the church is about $70,000.

Good swimming in the tunnel under the B. & A. tracks opposite Channing st. The Northsiders who were so willing to have the crossing at Richardson st. closed up if they could only retain one opposite Channing st. are now finding out what it means to walk around the two long sides of a triangle, instead of cutting across the short side.

About 125 high school pupils enjoyed Monday evening at the reception tendered them at the residence of D. W. Farquhar on Sargent st. Refreshments, music and dancing added to the zest of the occasion.

About 10 o'clock Wednesday morning a man called at the home of Henry Brooks on Sargent st. and told the servant girl that Mr. Brooks had sent him to get the latter's overcoat. On being told that Mr. Brooks was in the house, the fellow ran away.

On Friday evening as Dr. Madison Bunker was driving out of Richardson st., onto Centre st., another team collided with his, breaking the shafts of the buggy. As the driver of the other team immediately drove off, the doctor could not learn his identity.

In response to a call from the Newton Centre Baptist Society a meeting was held on Thursday to consider plans and estimates for a new edifice. The committee appointed about a year ago reported favorably on the plan of John Lyman Faxon of Boston for a store building in the Romanesque style of the 13th century, to be located where the present edifice now stands, except that the distance from Beacon st. will be greater; also the distance from Centre st. The committee visited Hanover, New Hampshire, to examine the new chapel of Dartmouth College, which is on the same general plan.

Number of tramps furnished with lodging in the police station the past week was 28; nationalities, U. S., 18; Irish, 7; English, 2; Scotch, 1.

The following persons lost dogs during the week ending February 24: Edward Polkner, Newton Highlands, black pointer; J. A. Newell, Alpine st., black and tan collie. One dead dog found on Washington st. near Riley's crossing.

Last Monday was a memorable day in the history of the flourishing Newton Baptist Society. At 2 o'clock the beautiful, new building of the society was thrown open for inspection and a large number availed themselves of the privilege of examining the handsome and costly structure. At the hour of commencing the exercises, the church was completely filled. Rev. A. J. Gordon preached the sermon. The report of the building committee was submitted by Stephen Moore. In concluding his report Mr. Moore said: "And now the result of our work is before you and speaks for itself. What you see is not hollow sham or veneer, but solid and permanent. Thinner walls and lighter arches would have paid for much paint and putty, but such was not the taste of our people, nor the desire of the committee and the architect. Elaborate ornamentation and ornate windows may be added in course of time. And now, only the pleasant duty remains of transferring to Mr. George S. Harwood, the chairman of the standing committee, the keys of the building." The cost of the building were then presented to Mr. Harwood. The cost of the church is about $70,000.

The bids for the drill shed at Newton High School have been received from seven Newton builders. The lowest bid was that of F. W. Stevens, $11,489; R. J. Morrisey was second with $12,552; William Pettigrew was high with $14,995.

Arrangements have finally been perfected by Chief Bixby so that anyone who has a telephone, if a fire occurs, can ring up the telephone exchange and ask to be connected with Chief Bixby either by day or night. He will direct the fire apparatus to respond, and in this way much valuable time and property may be saved.

There is a street in Ward 2 less than ¼ mile in length, the residents of which represent 7 nationalities, and have 42 children all under 12 years of age.

C. W. Leonard's Goddard buggy collided with E. H. Cutler's carryall on Walnut st., Newtonville on Thursday afternoon. A rear wheel of Mr. Cutler's carriage was shattered and the occupants, two ladies, a child and the coachman, were thrown out but not injured. The driver, Mr. Leonard's buggy said the horse became frightened and shied toward the other team.

Alderman Fenno has inaugurated a good idea in caring for pedestrians. By his orders employees of the Highway Department sand the sidewalks at night following a cold spell, when walking is hazardous because of slippery conditions. It has been the custom to wait until the next day before sanding. Under the new plan, theatre patrons and belated pedestrians can walk home comfortably at night, and claims for damages from falls are lessened.

A petition has been in circulation for a week or more asking for the extension of the tracks of the Newton Street Railway through Newton Highlands to Upper Falls. It has over 300 signatures. It would be a paying investment for the company to extend the tracks as about everyone from Upper Falls who goes to Boston, would take the electric cars to Newton Highlands and then use the ticket-books which most of them use from the Highlands to Boston.

Find Stolen Safe At Chestnut Hill

A safe stolen from the store of the Spencer Shoe Company in Quincy on Sunday was found abandoned near Hammond Pond Parkway at Chestnut Hill on Monday afternoon. Richard Hesslein, 14, of 698 Beacon st., was walking along the parkway when he saw the safe. He told his parents when he arrived home and they notified the police. The safe had been broken open and about $100 in cash stolen from it. Metropolitan police took the damaged safe, as the parkway is patrolled by them.

Clafin Club Minstrel Show Attracts Large Audience

In the assembly room of the Newtonville Methodist Church last Friday evening a large audience gathered to witness the annual entertainment presented by the Clafin Club, the men's organization of the church. The entertainment, entitled "1941 Frolics" included comedy dialogue action by George W. Taylor, Jr., and Norman Lockwood, a one-act play, and a minstrel show including several specialties. Members of the cast of "Buddy Buys an Orchid" were Allan J. MacQuarrie, Jr., Elmer E. Colcord, Howell E. DuPuy, Jr., Roger Cotting and David Morris. The trials and tribulations of "Buddy" (Allan MacQuarrie) in getting ready for his first formal dance with the assistance and hindrance of his mother, Mrs. Bradley (Elmer Colcord), his sister (Howell DuPuy), Belle, the colored maid (Roger Cotting) and his sister's boy friend (David Morris) provided minutes of laugh-provoking entertainment.

Fred Drew was the interlocutor of the minstrels. End men included Albert Hudson, Allan MacQuarrie, Norman Lockwood, Roger Cotting, Allan MacQuarrie, Junior, and George Taylor. Miss Mary Rose gave a specialty tap-dance and Joe DiDuro selections on the accordion. Albert Hardy singing "God Bless America" costumed as Uncle Sam, led the entire company in the grand finale. Spaulding's orchestra provided the music and the evening program was under the direction of Mr. Allan J. MacQuarrie. On behalf of the club the president, Frank M. Simmons, presented a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Charles R. Spaulding and a gift to Mr. MacQuarrie.

Dr. Porter's Will Being Contested

In Middlesex Probate Court last Friday Judge Leggat granted a motion which permits a contest over the will of the late Dr. Francis E. Porter of Auburndale who died on October 11, 1940. Dr. Porter left an estate valued at about $250,000. After making several comparatively small bequests, he bequeathed half of his estate to the Newton Hospital, one-fourth to the Auburndale Congregational Church, and one-fourth to the Centenary Methodist Church. The will is being contested by his two nephews, W. Damon Porter of Melrose, and Edward Porter of Chicago. They contend he was of unsound mind when he made the will in 1937. He was then nearly 90 years of age. The nephews ask that a jury determine whether or not the will shall stand.

The month of February with its school vacation of one week gave the various groups at the Pomroy House, 24 Hovey st., Newton, a splendid opportunity to go on many interesting trips. These tours included a trip to the fascinating Wayside Inn, the historic Bunker Hill, the State House, Middlesex Fells Zoo, the Boston Museum of Natural History, and the Peabody Museum with its glass flower exhibit.

Mr. and Mrs. Green entertained the mothers on Monday evening with pictures of Scandinavia and handiwork of that country.

Kiwanis Club

Mr. George Doherty of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Boston office, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club last Tuesday noon. Mr. Doherty has been on the staff of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for more than twelve years. He said that the F. B. I. was investigating staff for the Attorney General, and operated directly under Mr. J. Edgar Hoover.

Mr. Doherty described in detail the strict qualifications which applicants who work in the F. B. I. must meet, and the thorough training which they must undergo. He said that they have in Washington a collection of more than 10,000,000 fingerprints. His report showed that more crimes were committed by young people of nineteen years of age than by those of any other age, and he felt that this was due in most cases to improper training during youth.

Mr. Doherty said that the F. B. I. was always glad to receive information from individuals regarding any persons making statements detrimental to this country or in favor of an enemy of this country.

Mr. James B. Riggs, a vice-president of the Newton club, reported that he expected to arrange shortly for a bowling tournament between at least six clubs in the fifth division. He is also organizing a bowling team to represent the Newton club.

Mr. Frank Perkins, chairman of the Inter-Club Committee, reported that an inter-club meeting with Allston-Brighton would probably be held sometime in April.

Savings Bank Life Insurance Shows Steady Growth In Four Years

Mr. Henry E. Bothfeld, President, in announcing that the fourth year of the Life Insurance Department of the Newton Savings Bank had been completed, commented on the phenomenal growth of the department as convincing proof that Savings Bank Life Insurance is of real worth to those who avail themselves of this low cost over-the-counter insurance.

In the four years that the Department has been operating, over six thousand policies have been issued and on February 28th there was insurance in force totalling $5,067,304 which represents a substantial annual saving to the many who have turned to this insurance as a means of protecting their families. It also represents increased purchasing power for the community as the savings made possible are released for the purchase of other commodities.

The assets of the department, conservatively invested, total over $330,000.

Savings Bank Life Insurance represented by a system of twenty-nine Issuing Banks which actually write the policies, is further augmented by over one-hundred additional banks which act as agencies. Further, there are over 200 industrial concerns and credit unions throughout the State which also co-operate in bringing Savings Bank Life Insurance to the attention of their members. According to the most recent figures available there is insurance in force totalling over $193,000,000 of which the System is justifiably proud as it demonstrates that the public, already life insurance conscious, has now reached the point where thought is being given to cost. However, it is not on cost alone that the increase in Savings Bank Life Insurance can be attributed but also to the services which are rendered and to the liberal policy provisions, first year dividends, first year loan values, and cash values after six months. Newton has the unique distinction of being the only city in which all the banking institutions co-operate in furthering Savings Bank Life Insurance in the interest of the members of the community in which they serve so adequately.

A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Entitled

Christian Science: The Healing Power of Spiritual Understanding

By GEORGE CHANNING, C.S.B., of San Francisco

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

On last Sunday afternoon, George Channing, C. S. B., of San Francisco, gave a lecture on Christian Science in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton, before a large and appreciative audience which filled the main auditorium and the Sunday School room.

The lecturer was introduced by Mrs. Mary D. McKee, Second Reader, who said, in part,

Dear Friends:

In connection with my study of the Bible this last year, two pictures presented themselves to my thought. They have been treasured in memory for many years, but in these troublous times they seem to bring a sweet and sacred sense of something beautiful and permanent.

For the first picture we must visit a farmhouse in the Middle West where, by the light of a kerosene lamp, an elderly man and woman are reading from the Bible, as is their early-morning custom. The Songs of David, as recorded in Psalms, are a great favorite and have been studied so lovingly and for so long a time that when the wife reads one verse the husband repeats the next from memory, and they are able to go through the whole book of Psalms in this way. I like to think of these two dear people. They are very solemn in this morning worship, perhaps an heritage from forefathers who came here seeking religious freedom.

The next picture is of my own grandmother, with whom I lived at one time for some seven or eight months. I always see her at the close of a busy day getting out the large family Bible and placing it on the dining-room table. I used to look out at her from another room, and early realized that her reading brought release from the cares and petty annoyances of the day. Her expression became so peaceful and happy that she is always thus photographed in my memory.

There is a third picture upon which I love to meditate—one which all Christian Scientists hold dear. It is of our beloved Leader, Mary Baker Eddy, who insisted that her students, every day, study prayerfully the Bible and obtain the spiritual understanding of its promises. We see her for three long years she devoted all her time and energies to searching the Scriptures in order to give to us the positive rule for Christ-healing. Her discovery she named Christian Science and our lecturer this afternoon—George Channing of San Francisco—will speak to us about "Christian Science: The Healing Power of Spiritual Understanding."

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:

If you and I were asked tonight by the Power capable of satisfying our every request to name the thing that we most desire, there should be no more reluctance or confusion in our thought than there appeared to be in the thought of Solomon, the new, young King of Israel, whose wise reply to that question is recorded in the Bible in the third chapter of the first book of Kings. "Give me, O Lord," he said, "an understanding heart."

The correctness of this request, the reason why it was fulfilled, and the additional blessings it brought to Solomon so long as he was true to his spiritual understandings are significant in the hint they give of the true way to pray to God. Solomon did not ask specifically for anything more than the understanding, as the Biblical narrative amplifies it, "to discern between good and bad," yet he experienced the affluent results which follow our offshoots of prayer. God always does answer the prayer for spiritual understanding, for such a prayer comes out of spiritual understanding itself—some unveiling of this divine quality in the so-called human mind, some yielding of the human mind to its presence as the infinitely intelligent and perfect Spirit of God Himself. It takes wisdom to ask for wisdom, and Solomon in asking for it, was, in the degree that he discerned the spiritual nature of wisdom, recognizing the true nature of his own being and asking to see more of that nature. This brought him, as Bible readers will remember, the commendation of God, which remained with him so long as he was true to his high ideal. "Behold," said the heavenly Father, "I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart." And the divine Spirit further explained that because Solomon had not asked for riches and honor, nor to have his enemies destroyed, nor had asked for the one true thing, he was to have all the other things as the effect of his right desire; and if he would but serve God truly he was also to have long life in which to serve Him.

The Purpose and Effect of Prayer

You and I, in our search for full, rich, satisfying and useful lives, will do well to remember the lessons of that narrative and to utilize them with even greater fidelity than Solomon continued to do after he had grown older on the throne of Israel. The first and most important of these lessons is that the purpose of true prayer is always to gain and utilize spiritual understanding, or the understanding of divine Spirit, God. And the second is that the effect of such prayer, when its purpose is attained, is always seen in improved human experience. Centuries after Solomon had succeeded in illustrating these great truths in some degree, Christ Jesus, the divine son of God, stated the rule in all its perfection and demonstrated it in the flawless practice. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness," he urged, "and all these things," he promised, "shall be added unto you" (Matthew 6:33). And years after that, in the fullness of God's own time for mankind's discernment of Christ Jesus' complete meaning, came Christian Science, through its divinely inspired discoverer, founder, and revelator, Mary Baker Eddy, proclaiming that it is unselfed love, a spiritual understanding of God, that constitutes the prayer that heals the sick and reforms the sinner. "A great sacrifice of material things," says Mrs. Eddy (Science and Health, p. 16:1), "must precede this advanced spiritual understanding." In the phrase "this advanced spiritual understanding," she was referring to an explanation she had previously made that, to paraphrase her words, we can receive holiness only as we are fit for holiness, and fitness for holiness is attained through the constant practice of self-forgetfulness, purity, and affection. It takes both practice and understanding, she makes clear, to be heard of God, to feel His perfect power for good and to be conscious of His infinite blessings, for, in her exact words, "Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings" (S & H, p. 15). In this light, therefore, we are led to see that "the great sacrifice of material things" which "must precede this advanced spiritual understanding" turns out to be no sacrifice at all, for it results in our becoming aware of having all we could need and all that enlightened sense could ever ask for. For Mrs. Eddy refers to such spiritual understanding as "prayer," and declares that "Such prayer heals sickness, and must destroy sin and death" (S & H, p. 16).

If spiritual understanding is thus the object of our true desires and the means by which our daily experience is improved, manifestly it will profit us to know more about spiritual understanding and how it is utilized. "Spiritual understanding," by which human conception, material sense, is separated from Truth, is the firmament," says the Christian Science textbook, referring to God's creative command (Genesis 1:6) "Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters." That which separates the falsity of human conception from the reality of all that God conceives or creates is, then, spiritual understanding.

God, the All-Inclusive Source

The acquisition of this spiritual understanding—this divine quality that exposes the nothingness of human conception and recognizes, discerns and realizes that God is the father of man, including the universe, requires an answer to the foundational question: "What is God?" Already in this lecture we have been using the word Spirit as a term for God. Spirit is one of the Scriptural names for God. Christ Jesus, you will remember, told the Samaritan woman at the well that "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

Surely it is the understanding of this Spirit, which must be worshipped "in spirit and in truth," that constitutes the spiritual understanding we must attain. Spirit is not the only name for Deity used in Scripture and for that reason accepted by Christian Science as a synonym for God. Life, Truth, Love, these words, with their spiritual meaning, are exalted to their high place in the language of Christian Science as names for God, both because of Biblical authority for their use and because reason and revelation informed Mrs. Eddy that the creation of God is in the spiritual realm, its cause or source. Hence, since all that truly lives is the effect of God, its source can be designated by the word Life (with the capital "L") as a convenient synonym for God. So also the source of all that is true or, more properly, all that truly is, can be designated by the word Truth with a capital "T." And the source of divine and spiritual ideas is Spirit (with the capital "S"), the spiritual, divine Mind, Soul, as Webster states it. Soul is a synonym for God because it is the source of conscious expression, or ideas. Love, the creative, all-encompassing, infinitely attractive source of all that nourishes and sustains and protects is also a name for God. And to these synonyms Mrs. Eddy has, with great discernment, added the name Principle because, from its Latin root, it means the source of all that exists.

God, then, is defined clearly in Christian Science as "incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite, Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (Science and Health, 465:9). It will be observed that the first adjective modifying these terms is the word "incorporeal." God is incorporeal; that is, without material embodiment. He is divine; that is, Godlike. He is supreme; that is, above all, above even the appearance of mortality. He is infinite; that is, boundless, all-inclusive, without limitation of any kind. When Christian Science makes its great declarations about God, that He is omnipotent, meaning all-powerful; that He is omnipresent, meaning everywhere present; and that He is omniscient, meaning all-seeing, all-discerning, it follows these declarations to their necessary conclusions. If God is omnipotent, He can have no opponent and no opposition, for there cannot be more than ALL. In the same way, if He is omnipresent, He cannot be absent from His universe, which means He can never be absent from man. And if He is omniscient, He cannot be unaware of the slightest detail in His unfolding, spiritual creation. Moreover, His infinitude implies His perfection and His perfection implies goodness, for that which is infinite cannot be imperfect since imperfection means that something is lacking, while infinitude means completeness. Furthermore, perfection has no element of destruction and accordingly is synonymous with goodness. The Anglo-Saxon tongue doubled the vowel in the word God and called him good, thus stating His essential nature.

The Bible Unfolds True Concept

Sometimes there are those who would deny the Bible and the God it presents, and rule them out of their own affairs and those of others. Sometimes there are those who question the meaning of the Bible but try to accept it only as a narrative of historical fact. Sometimes there are those who question not at all, but are nevertheless holding to mistaken interpretations of its meaning that work no good in their lives. To any and all of these and to the world in which they live, Christian Science comes with the greatest message of origin" (Science and Health, 262:27-28) — a declaration that obviously implies that a right sense of man's origin is the foundation of true harmony?

perfect since imperfection means that something is lacking, while infinitude means completeness. Furthermore, perfection has no element of destruction and accordingly is synonymous with goodness. The Anglo-Saxon tongue doubled the vowel in the word God and called him good, thus stating His essential nature.

Man Is Spiritual Idea

What we have been saying about God is revealed in Christian Science as the foundation upon which all true consciousness rests, the basis for all right reasoning and true intuition. The Christian Science textbook puts it this way: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is" (S & H, 275:10-12). It is clear that once we understand the nature of the creator we are in a position to deduce the nature of creation, for like produces like. Once we understand God, we understand man. For, as pointed out by the Christian Science textbook (p. 467), "Reasoning from cause to effect in the Science of Mind, we begin with Mind, which must be understood through the idea which expresses it and cannot be learned from its opposite, matter." Since God is Spirit, His creation is spiritual. This amounts to saying that there is no material man and no material universe, for man, including the universe, is the creation of God, Spirit. Matter being finite cannot be included in the infinite God nor be the offspring or outcome of Him. That which is not material is spiritual and partakes of the nature of Spirit, or Mind. Hence man, the offspring of divine Spirit or Mind, is spiritual. The offspring of creation of Mind is idea. Hence, man is spiritual idea and exists as idea in the divine Mind.

In arriving at this conclusion, let us put aside the protestations of human sense that man is material and give no quarter to them. If our premise is correct that God is perfect, divine Mind or Spirit, then our conclusion is correct that man is perfect, divine, spiritual idea. And at this point Christian Science raises its revolutionary banner and declares that anyone who realizes that this is the truth will find evidence of its truth in his own consciousness and therefore in his experience. "Spiritual understanding," to quote the Christian Science textbook again, "by which human conception, material sense, is separated from Truth, is the firmament." This definition supports our position, already arrived at, that spiritual understanding is the divine quality that exposes the nothingness of human conception and recognizes, discerns, and realizes that God is the father of man, including the universe. By this understanding humanity is healed of its discord, inharmonious, and distress. By it, it gives up its material sense only to find it replaced by a divine sense of truth and love. For has not Mrs. Eddy declared that the foundation of mortal discord is a false sense of man's this age to men. It is not an exhortation or a plea for sentimental goodness based on a hope that some reward may by chance observe and reward. It is a straightforward, direct, scientific message that your conceptions of Deity will control your experience. It is the revelation, based on demonstration, that the Bible presents the one true God and His unchanging law which, when understood, will make you conscious of good and not of evil. "The fool hath said in his heart, 'There is no God,'" cried the Psalmist (Psalms 14:1). That cry is based upon the fact that the fool is merely fooling with the mesmeric suggestion that there is no substance, presence, power, or law in the universe; and the tragedy of it is that it will be so to him in the degree that he believes it. Whatever our conception is of divine reality, that conception will operate in our consciousness to produce evidence of its own nature. If the conception is divinely true, it will reveal the evidence of harmonious Truth in us in terms of health, holiness, and immortality. If it is untrue, it will produce in opposition to that extent, the mesmeric evidence of inharmonious and discord. Man cannot escape his relationship to God as spiritual idea expressing the perfection of divine Principle, Love. If the spiritual fact of this relationship is permitted to dwell in consciousness, the human mind will yield to it, and the clear proof of its truth will be made apparent by the operation of divine law.

Right Concept of God Heals

I recall with gratitude that I have often witnessed the operation of this law in my own experience. On one occasion a member of my household, very dear to me, became ill with a disease, besides being very painful, brought on inactivity and was said by some to have a possibly fatal termination. Although we were Christian Scientists in our household, we permitted ourselves to be seized with fear, anxiety, and a sense of personal responsibility. We watched and hoped during the day and then spent sleepless nights expecting to hurry the next morning to the bedside of the loved one to make sure that nothing tragic or disastrous had happened. Weary and worn after a period of such thinking we suddenly discovered what was wrong with our prayers. We were laboring under wholly erroneous concepts of God, as evidenced unmistakably by the conduct we were pursuing. We were believing that God is sometimes separated from man, at least temporarily, else why were we hop-folding Love shall never for a moment cease to be expressed by the man He made. No individualized expression of this Principle, Love, could, therefore, ever cease to carry out its destiny as a witness to the everlasting eternity of God, good. The responsibility is God's; the response to His government and His goodness is man's. With the restoration to our consciousness of this right sense of being, our conduct changed for the better, as conduct always will when such restoration occurs. Anxiety and worry lessened to the vanishing point. We rested peacefully that night, and in the morning, witnessed the beginning of the end of the disease. Our loved one was shortly restored to perfect health in an atmosphere of calm assurance that God never ceases to govern.

In this experience, I had seen the power of spiritual understanding overwhelm the spurious claim to power which false conceptions of Deity, or divine reality, had seemed to assert. I had witnessed the operation of that great spiritual law of healing which Christ Jesus exemplified with glorious perfection and which Christian Science is now stating in its entirety and demonstrating again for mankind. Right here let me make it clear that the assertion and proof offered by Christian Science that spiritual healing is as available today as ever it was at the instance of Christ Jesus himself is no arrogant or unauthorized claim of its own. That assertion and proof is included in Christianity itself. Christ Jesus himself is authority for it, so emphatically so that it is difficult to see how one can be a Christian without accepting both the possibility and the necessity for Christlike works, including spiritual healing, here and now. After going up and down Palestine, making manifest the presence of God by healing the sick, regenerating the sinful and replacing material death with a sense of spiritual life, he not only promised his followers that they could do all that he did, but he commanded them to do it.

Jesus, the Great Example

Jesus moved among men just as you and I move among men, but his every thought had its source in God. His consequently expanding demonstration of his own salvation from mortal conceptions of God and of his ability to save others from them is yours and mine to follow. You and I are under the divine law which demands demonstration of perfect spiritual manhood and we shall attain it, now or ultimately, only in the way marked out for us by our perfect Exemplar, Christ Jesus. He is infinitely resourceful, because he knew no other Mind, save that which is God in which dwell all the spiritual ideas, the infinite resources of man, supplied by the heavenly Father. This enabled him to know instantly where to find a coin with which to pay the taxes and to feed, without confusion, five thousand hungry mouths on the desert place in Galilee. His spiritual understanding of the self-nourishing capacity—of the infinite divine Mind of man was manifest in these results, operating as a law of destruction to material suggestions that divine resources were absent or limited. He was independent of matter or, in other words, self-reliant, because he understood and relied upon his divine Principle, Love or Spirit, which encompasses and governs all true being. This enabled him to disappear from his enemies when material obstructions challenged his escape, and to reappear among friends or enemies whenever his progressive demonstration of the presence of God required him to do so. It enabled him to still the tempest at sea when it threatened the well-being of his disciples. It enabled him to go through the crucifixion and to prove at the end that the divine Life he expressed was unscathed. He was intelligent beyond human comprehension, because he understood the divinity and infinitude of his Principle or source which is God. This enabled him to confound his adversaries when they sought to match intellectual argument against divine understanding. And it also enabled him to heal sickness, sin, and all manner of discord. For divine intelligence, or spiritual understanding, sees through and exposes as false any and every material, finite conception of divine Love, God, thus dispelling the effect of such misconceptions and replacing them with true spiritual ideas manifest in holiness, harmony, and health. He was humble, for he ascribed all power to God and never let the false suggestions of timidity, hesitation, or self-aggrandizement limit the effectiveness of his outstanding talent for expressing God's power. This enabled him to say to the Centurion who pleaded for help for his servant who was ill, "I will come and heal him" (Mark 8:7) and to follow the word with the healing. It enabled him to speak spiritual truth to the officers sent to arrest him so that they made no arrest but reported in wonderment to their superiors, "Never man spake like this man" (John 7:46).

Christ, the Power for Salvation

It will be observed from what has been said here that Jesus is our Example because he utilized perfectly the spiritual understanding of God for the healing and salvation of mortals. We cannot honor Jesus too much nor follow his example too reverently. But it is important to you and me, striving to follow his example by utilizing his power, to recognize that he was not himself the power he used. His power was the spiritual understanding of God, the right idea of man's divine source—the Christ, with which Jesus was endowed beyond measure and which was available to you and me for doing the works he did and the greater works he promised. Jesus and the Christ are inseparable, yet distinct. For Christ is the divine idea of sonship to God and is inseparable from the true spiritual man. The Christ dispels falsehood. It destroys in the human consciousness material misconceptions of Deity and the discord, disease, and death which attend them. "Christ," says the Christian Science textbook, "expresses God's spiritual, eternal nature" (Science and Health, p. 333:9-10). As the activity of God for salvation, the Christ has a divine office, and Jesus as the Saviour fulfills the office of the Christ. But this office is not an ending, vanishing, or terminated one. It is ever present as the healing and saving activity of the Mind which is God, the Mind which St. Paul says was in Christ Jesus and which he exhorted you and me to permit to operate in us. This healing and saving activity of God, operating in the human consciousness to destroy the misconceptions of God which largely constitute the so-called consciousness, is the Christ. It is the right idea in whose presence wrong notions cannot exist any more than darkness can dwell with light. It has impelling force. It may be described as the divine impulse, as distinguished from Jesus, the perfect example, who supplied the true model of man forever yielding to this divine impulse. You will yield to it too, my friend, for it is Truth itself. It will never cease to be Truth and will therefore never cease to assert itself in your thought, for it is divine life unfolding the understanding of its own reality. It is forever making headway in the recesses of human thought, sometimes through the hard-learned lessons of our mistakes, sometimes through the light it sheds and which we happily let in without the scourge of resistance. It will presently or ultimately remove from human thinking every false, material theory, hypothesis, and notion about the all-powerful, beneficent, perfect creator, and reveal man as the spiritual son of God, inheriting the infinite health or wholeness of divine Life, expressing the perfect harmony of divine Love and knowing the permanence of eternal Truth.

Human Consciousness Regenerated

What is this human consciousness which the Christ, or spiritual understanding of God, persistently saves from itself? It is the apparent mind of humanity deceptively seeming to be a mixture of mortal notions about God and of right ideas which the Christ is revealing. Right ideas and wrong notions cannot truly mix, although they may seem to exist side by side in individual human thought, like the tares and the wheat. But the error which seems to mingle them with truth in the so-called human mind is one with the completely unregenerate mentality called mortal mind, and is therefore as unreal as mortal mind, whether it "nasquades in the guise of good or is blandly unregenerate and evil. For mortal mind is always unreal; it claims to be a place where the Christ does not work, and this claim exposes this so-called mind as a myth, for Christ, be it remembered, is the activity of God, and there can be no place where God, divine Life, is not infinitely active. Thus, whatever appears as mortal mentality in the so-called human mind is, let me repeat, a myth, and must be so seen to be destroyed; and whatever shines forth in the human mind as divinely good is real and true, for goodness that is divine is of God. It is the belief in the presence or existence of mortal consciousness, appearing as mortal thought, that is being dispelled by the Christ; and this is the process of salvation. It will go on "until mortality is swallowed up in immortality," as St. Paul puts it, "until all belief in a dying, suffering, limited, ignorant mentality is crowded out of supposititious existence, and the divine Mind, Life, Soul, Principle, Spirit, Truth, and Love, is seen to occupy the whole ground of His own creation, man and the universe, consisting of spiritual ideas."

The Spiritually Metaphysical Rule

In pointing the way for rising above material and physical seeming, and making the salvation of mortals from sin, sickness, and death apparent here and now, the Christian Science textbook gives many a rule of divine metaphysics (meta, the Greek prefix meaning beyond, and the whole word meaning beyond or above physics, or matter.) "The categories of metaphysics," it explains on page 269, "rest on one basis, the divine Mind." And then it states the rule. "Metaphysics," it says, "resolves things into thoughts, and exchanges the objects of sense for the ideas of Soul." On the basis of all that has been said here today, this divinely inspired rule for healing and salvation ought to be clear to us all. "Metaphysics," let me quote again, "resolves things into thoughts, and exchanges the objects of sense for the ideas of Soul." Can you resolve a thing into a thought? Well, the illness of my loved one about which I told you a few moments ago was resolved into a thought when I saw that this illness was presenting itself to my observation in conjunction with a misconception of God. And the healing appeared when I exchanged the notion of God's separation from man, of the suspended operation of His perfect law, for the ideas of Soul which corrected these notions. Christ Jesus resolved a thing into a thought when he saw that the hunger of the five thousand was identical with a notion that God, the one Mind, could wander from His nourishment, and the law of His self-sustaining nature could cease to operate. He exchanged this object of sense for an idea of Soul when he demonstrated the divine Mind's ever-present awareness of its sustenance and made this idea manifest in the way the five thousand could understand it, through receiving and eating all the bread and fish they needed.

Spiritual Guidance

Important in these demonstrations of the power of spiritual understanding is the guidance and direction which accompanied them. God always leads and guides His man, or idea, for the wisdom to take the steps that we need to take appears to us under prayer when we need to take them. Jesus knew to send his disciple to find the needed tax money in the fish's mouth. He knew to go back to Bethany to restore his friend Lazarus to a sense of life at just the right time to glorify God in the healing recorded in the Gospel of John. So will you know, my friend, and so shall I; so will the business man, the cultured scholar, the practitioner, and the workman, if we cultivate the Mind that was in Christ Jesus; and knowing, and which we shall never lose, for action, the activity of divine ideas, included in every demonstration of the power of God. True prayer is action. It is not merely asking God to make us good; it is being good. It is not merely asking for wisdom; it is being wise. It is not merely asking for spiritual understanding; it is using it. It is right to petition for wisdom? Yes, but only if you can see it, desire to know yourselves as reflecting the wisdom of God. But in desiring wisdom we have already begun to use it, and the use of it brings its own right effects. "The fear of the Lord," says the Bible, "is the beginning of wisdom" (Proverbs 1:7), a passage which might be translated as "the love of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." This is the modus operandi of divine, spiritual healing and salvation. Spiritual understanding aids the resolving of inharmonious conditions into false thought. Spiritual understanding reveals the right, or spiritual, idea which displaces and replaces false thought. The right, or spiritual, idea, entertained in consciousness as true in other words, realized or accepted as real—operates as a law of healing, of harmony, of restoration to life and peace in human experience.

Healing Proves God's Love

Healing is not physical. It is the manifestation of the love of God restored in consciousness. The Christian Science textbook begins its statement of the doctrine of Christian Science with the declaration that "divine Love cannot be deprived of its manifestation, or object" (Science and Health, 304:10). The Christ, the divine idea of God, is ever-present, without beginning, but the dull eyes and ears of humanity had for centuries caught only faint glimpses of this spiritual Truth. In this situation of need, the love of God was such that Jesus appeared, for Jesus was necessary in order that the effects of the Christ might be seen and heard, and human sense taught and enlightened by the spiritual idea. Hence, in Biblical language, "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16). It will always be thus wherever the spiritual idea is entertained in consciousness. What appears myth of mortal mind, that supposition of mortality that is untouched by the Christ. Out of that illusory mentality, like a hypnotic dream, comes the thing called sin, the belief that man can have a mind wholly the opposite of God and that he has power to act apart from the impulse of the Christ. The healing of sickness is but an attestation of the fact that sin can be and has been healed. The healing of sin is accomplished by persistent employment of spiritual understanding whereby the divine Mind is demonstrated to be the only Mind, and man the conscious expression of that Mind. Such healing comes like the awakening from a sleeping dream and demonstrates the nothingness of sin by showing that man has no power to sin for he has no mind with which to do it. This is the true forgiveness of sin—the demonstration of man's perfection—made manifest in human experience as the forsaking of sin. It is the infinite mercy of God appearing in the proof that God made His man in the likeness of Mind wherein is no element of injury or harm.

Thus we are led into the consciousness of eternal harmony to which spiritual understanding is united through divine Science by the Principle which is God. The calm and exalted thought, which the textbook indicates is synonymous with spiritual apprehension, is at peace. What a peace this is in its spiritual significance! Sin conquered, sickness healed, God all, and man His expression! This is an ideal by no means impossible of attainment; and the "peace of God which passeth all understanding" accompanies every step of progress along the way. What a blessing to a confused and war-fearing world that this spiritual peace which Christian Scientists are striving after and attaining in some measure must now shed its healing light upon nations and men!

World Peace Is Demonstrable

Perhaps it may be well just here to apply our thought briefly to the problem of world peace in the light of what Christian Science teaches regarding the healing power of spiritual understanding. First, let us make clear that it will do no good to condemn nations or persons. Misconceptions of divine Truth, which constitute discord, are no part of man. They need to be displaced by the spiritual ideas of God; and the displacement must begin first in our own consciousness. Why do nations seek war? It is because of the human mind's false sense of substance—the belief that substance is material and therefore limited.

Nations are today regarding raw materials as "something," or substance. Competition grows among nations for as great a supply of raw materials as can be had, because raw materials appear to human thought to be the life-substance of a nation, determining its trade and its material wealth. But raw materials, like all material things, are limited. There is seemingly not enough to give every nation all it wants of them, especially when some nations seem to have cornered an excessive share. When some nations get an abundant share, other nations feel themselves deprived. And from a sense of deprivation, the human mind seems to move rapidly toward hating, hurting, and even killing in the hope of freeing itself from that sense. In this situation, as in all situations, the human mind is totally inadequate to stem the destruction wrought by its own unleashed passions. It has no answer to the problem it seems to create. But Christian Science supplies the answer.

True Substance Appears in Spiritual Qualities

Here is the crux of the whole matter. A nation's true substance is in the spiritual qualities its people express, just as your substance and mine is in the spiritual qualities we express. The expression of a spiritual quality by one individual one nation does not in any way limit the expression of it by another. Accordingly, war will be outlawed when we come to see spiritual qualities as substance and recognize the law by which spiritual understanding meets men's needs. There must be cultivated in human consciousness a realization of the fact that men and nations will be aware of having all they need of raw materials, or whatever it may be they need, if their outlook and practice are divinely spiritual.

Material Loss, Spiritual Gain

Fortunately we are not at the mercy of the decisions of others before making a start in this march toward peace. Each of us is a law to himself, herself. As the individuals are who live in the world, so is the world and the nations that constitute it. Salvation is individual; and peace, so far as it is real to any individual, must abide in his own mental dwelling place. How can nations abolish fear, so long as in-truth. It was just seven years ago when a distinguished British General, Jan C. Smuts, then head of a society for the advancement of science, declared before that society that "scientific discoveries point to evidences that the material objects recognized by man's senses are, in their origin, as immaterial as thought or mind." Another distinguished British scientist, Sir Arthur Eddington, known far and wide for his writings on physics and astronomy, stated just four years ago before a group of students at Cornell University that "we must not attempt to answer the question 'What is the mystery of existence all about?' by looking only at that part of experience which comes to us through certain sensory organs and saying: 'It is about a universe of atoms and chaos; it is about a universe of fiery globes rolling on to impending doom.' Rather it is a spirit, within which truth has its shrine, with potentialities of self-fulfillment in its response to beauty and right."

Christian Science, the Comforter

Statements like these from intellectual leaders show plainly that the resolving of things into thoughts is arresting their attention as a possible explanation of the so-called mystery of human life. This is a step, a first move in the right direction. The discoverer of Christian Science knew, and her followers also know, that the only true and final way is the divine way which demands "exchanging the objects of sense for the ideas of Soul." The resolving of things into thoughts, is so to speak, part truth. Christian Science leads on into all truth. For Christian Science is the divine Comforter, so accepted by its discoverer and her followers as the fulfillment of the prophecy of the Master Christian that the Comforter would come and lead into all truth—the full and complete truth, as Christian Scientists understand it—that God creates man as His spiritual idea and that God is the only creator.

Let me emphasize here, lest there be misunderstanding, that the practice of Christian Science is no mere intellectual wrestling without the support of goodness and purity. Indeed purity and goodness and like qualities are the gateways through which spiritual understanding appears in consciousness to do the work of Christ. Moral goodness is not the healing power, but there can be no true healing power that is not accompanied and supported by a genuine striving after and attainment of moral goodness. Mrs. Eddy gives this fact its proper importance when in her book "Rudimentary Divine Science" she begins her long and enlightening answer to the question: "How should I undertake to demonstrate Christian Science in healing the sick?" with the simple command: "Be honest, be true to thyself, and true to others; then it follows thou wilt be strong in God, the eternal good."

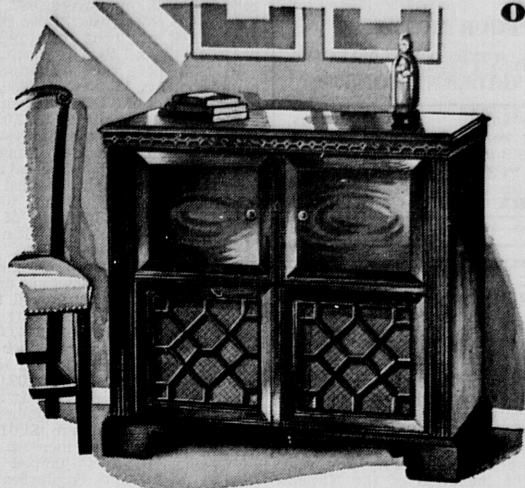

Peace, Through Healing of Sin

The purpose of Christian Science, as we have seen, is to blot out the taught others to do the healing work for which she herself had been taught of God. Her extraordinary love for humanity was dictated by her boundless love for God. It contributed towards marking her as the greatest benefactor of the age. She wrote her great book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," which, as has been previously remarked in this lecture, is the textbook of Christian Science, organized her Church, and founded it as The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, with branches which have since spread throughout the civilized world. And she founded Christian Science in the consciousness of men where it will be as the Rock that is Christ, overturning and overwhelming false concepts of Deity and bringing to light spiritual truth which will ultimately, surely usher in God's kingdom on earth.

In the seventy-two years since her discovery, the world has felt her influence profoundly. No longer is the "mentalizing of the objects of sense," as it may be called, a reluctant procedure in the world. Leaders of human thought, distinguished men of physical science, are beginning to accept the mental nature of the universe as a clue to scientific

Mrs. Eddy, Discoverer and Founder

Is this a new concept—this recognition of the mental nature of existence in all its aspects? Yes, it is new to the unenlightened thought. It was so new when Christ Jesus practiced it on the shores of Galilee that men called his works miracles, although they were the divinely natural effects of divinely natural law. It was so new, so revolutionary in 1866 when Mrs. Eddy through spiritual purity and fitness, discovered the divine Principle of those works, that she had to demonstrate against great opposition from the world's thought, that her discovery, which she named Christian Science, could be founded and established in the world. Nevertheless, she persevered, healed the sick, regenerated the sinner, and dividuals are afraid? How can nations remove the sense of limitation, so long as individuals harbor the sense of being deprived of what is good for them? How can the nations seek first and single-mindedly that spiritual understanding that guides and directs in true harmony, when individuals neglect to seek after spiritual understanding? No man can be in need who lets spiritual qualities shine forth to identify him as he really is, and no nation can lack the full realization of its destiny when its citizens are individually and increasingly utilizing man's endowment of spiritual qualities.

The Peace of Active Dominion

In revealing true, spiritual peace, therefore, Christian Science comes not to deprive men or nations of anything, but to point the way to spiritual fulfillment through spiritual understanding. It will solve, and is solving, the problem of war, but not by asking men to live with a gnawing sense of need or to become martyrs to a false sense of meekness. It will curb, and is curbing the fierce and self-willed spirit in men and nations, but not by asking that ambition be discarded and life become a hum-drum. Christian Science, through spiritual understanding, comes to deprive men and nations not of their desires, but of a false concept of their desires; not of their ambitions, but of a false concept of ambitions, and it replaces these false concepts with spiritual ideas which reveal the ever-satisfying, unlimited abundance of God.

Just as spiritually-minded individuals are seeing it in increasing degree in their own consciousness, so will the world yet see the disappearance, not only of war, but of discord, sin, disease, inharmonious of every kind, as life is lived on the Christ-like scientific basis of spiritual fulfillment. "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need," declares the discoverer and founder of Christian Science (Science and Health, 494:10); and Christian Scientists understand her teaching to mean that the human need is to let divine Love displace the myth of mortal mind and be revealed in the majesty and power of its infinite goodness as the only

Mind of man and the universe. The need of humanity is for spiritual ideas and these are ever-present in the Mind that is God. Spiritual understanding reveals them. Your desire for it, and mine, is born of spiritual understanding itself. In utilizing this understanding we shall be praying the already answered prayer of the young King Solomon—the prayer of rich fulfillment and the consciousness of spiritual peace: "Give me, O Lord, an understanding heart."

Two Burned In Fire At Newton Center

Edmond Poulin, 74, of 16 Everett st., Newton Centre, was burned on his arms and hands while saving Mary Demmon, 29, a domestic at his home on Wednesday morning when the girl's clothing became ignited from a blazing can of floor wax. She received burns on her left arm. The girl had placed the can on top of a stove to thaw its contents, and it became ablaze. Miss Demmon started to carry the burning can to the kitchen sink when her apron caught afire. She ran to the stairs, and Mr. Poulin, hearing her cries, seized rugs and smothered the flames.

Speeders Fined In Newton Court

Francis O'Connell, 28, of 133 Nonantum st., Brighton, was fined $100 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. Police Seek Use Of State Armory

The Newton Police Department has applied to the Adjutant General of Massachusetts for permission to again use the armory at West Newton for "revolver practice." The police had this use of the armory for years "until the induction of the National Guard into Federal service caused an order forbidding the use of armories to other than military units. Since then the police have been without a range in which to practice shooting. A plan to build a range alongside police headquarters as a WPA project was postponed when the cost appeared too high to WPA officials. Mayor Goddard has recommended $1800 for police revolver practice in the 1941 budget.

Sacred Heart School Juniors To Present Comedy

On Sunday and Monday evenings, March 16 and 17th, the Junior Class of the Sacred Heart High School will present the comedy "Come Out of the Kitchen" in the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

The story is written around a Virginia family of the old aristocracy by the name of Dangerfield, who, finding themselves temporarily embarrassed, decide to rent their home to a rich Yankee. One condition stipulates that a staff of white servants should be engaged for his sojourn in the stately home. The servant question presents practically insurmountable difficulties and one of the daughters of the family conceives the mad idea that she, her sister and two brothers shall act as the domestic staff. The Northerners find the servants possessing so many methods of behavior out of the ordinary that a delightful series of incidents and complications immediately arise.

The leading role of Jane-Ellen is played by Mary Constance Hunt, and the hero is portrayed by J. Robert Lucas. Other members of the cast are: Barbara M. Chisholm, Eleanor D'Innocenzo, Verna Kelly, M. Katherine Pickard, Robert D. Holt, Lawrence J. Baker, Thomas J. Murphy, Gerald Uniacke and Roger Myette.

Other members of the Junior Class in the various dances are: Frederick Capriccio, Lester Conrad, William De Rusha, Robert Myette, Stanley Ross, Charles Sia, Donald Vohar, Doris Conlin, Geraldine Curtin, Dorothy Foley, Virginia Foley, Dorothy Haddock, Louise Hoar, Virginia Jansie, Mary McGowan, Mary Maloney, Ellen Murray, Kathleen O'Neil, Elizabeth Phelan, Katherine Roberts, Barbara Rhode, Patricia Sheehan, Betty A. Shellenback, Marjorie Thornton, Esther Wall and Frances White. Miss Katherine Roberts will render vocal solos and Lester Conrad selections on the trumpet. The play is produced under the direction of Miss Margaret McElroy. Bishop Richard J. Cushing, D.D., LL.D., pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, will be guest of honor.

Last Monday's meeting proved another interesting affair when Mr. Charles C. Batchelder, former secretary of the Interior of the Philippines, gave an excellent viewpoint from the eyes of the Japanese relative to the present crisis in the Far East. Japan, with a population of 72 million, must live in a country no larger than the state of Montana and only one-sixth of the land can be cultivated. As a result the population cannot be fed from home agriculture and must depend upon foreign trade entirely for existence. In 1931 Japan appropriated Manchuria and the United States immediately warned that we would allow no change of sovereignty in the East. The warning, however, was disregarded and in 1937 Japan invaded China with the idea of increasing her living quarters and with the hope that she could procure from China some of the much needed imports. The conquest of China has not proved successful and Japan has not received the commercial help which she expected from that source for the simple reason that the raw materials which she really needs are not available in China.

At the time of the China invasion, the U. S. imposed half-hearted embargoes on Japan which not only allowed Japan to receive practically everything she wanted but at the same time antagonized China because of the success Japan was having in obtaining scrap metal from this country. As a result Japan now intends to occupy the Dutch East Indies and does not expect any opposition from the United States other than their usual line of diplomatic threats.

Mr. Batchelder stated that the United States fleet could not conquer Japan from its nearest available base at Pearl Harbor and that that successful waging of war would necessitate the use of the British bases at Hong Kong and Singapore. Furthermore, if Japan and United States came to war, it would be necessary to stop imports to England as we would need all of our available facilities for our own use. Apparently the policy will be to continue to give aid to England and neglect the Japanese issue until after the end of the European war. Meanwhile, undoubtedly Japan would seize the Dutch Indies and possibly the Philippines with very little opposition from the United States.

Next week the speaker will be Lt. Johnson of the Army Air Corps regarding the program now under way for the training of new pilots.

Central Club To Reivive "Kindergarten" In Annual Show

Central Club has fixed Friday and Saturday, March 28 and 29, as the date of its annual show, to be held at Central Church, Newtonville. This event is one of the leading features of Newtonville life. Questionnaires were circulated by the president, Chet Hervey, to find what kind of a show was desired. A strong majority asked for a revival of "The Kindergarten," given eight years ago, which has been felt by many to be the most successful entertainment the club ever gave. Rehearsals twice a week have begun. The ordinarily serious men of the club will roll the years off their backs on those joyous nights, and become boys and girls of five years of age. In this favorite performance there will be charming nursery songs and humorous new features. They will twitter with the birdies, stamp with the elephants, career through the atmosphere with the airplanes, and Jack and Jill and all the rest of the favorites will appear in person.

Exhibition of Water-Colors At Newtonville Library

Life Insurance in action!

BY ITS VERY NATURE, Life Insurance is an active, continuing force—a living force in the homes of millions who share its benefits.

Last year Metropolitan visited many homes in times of family crisis, for a total of over $182,000,000 was paid on account of death claims to scores of thousands of beneficiaries of Metropolitan policyholders. Dividends, matured endowments, annuity payments, disability, and health and accident claims, and other benefits paid or credited to living policyholders during the year amounted to more than $426,000,000. The total of almost $609,000,000 for payments to policyholders and beneficiaries is a record high for the Company.

Metropolitan funds, invested for the benefit of its policyholders, continued to play a part in the economic structure of the nation. These funds aided in financing Government activities, helped to keep industry humming and men in jobs, to erect public and private buildings, and assisted farmers to own their farms and to keep them in proper repair. However, the low interest rates generally prevailing, continued to have their effect on the Company's earnings and consequently on dividends to policyholders.

Moreover, through its Welfare activities, its nursing service for eligible policyholders, its research, its health and safety literature and advertising, Metropolitan again contributed to the task of bringing better health to America. The death rate of Metropolitan policyholders as a whole continued to be low, and mortality among Industrial policyholders was approximately the same as the 1939 figure, a record low for this group.

Metropolitan is a mutual life insurance company. This means that the assets of the Company are held for policyholders and their beneficiaries. The value of these assets will ultimately be paid out for their benefit . . . and for them only.

"Shoes, shoes, shoes, for children of all ages from babyhood up," was the plea made by the manager of the shop, Mrs. Francis H. "Men's shoes also are always in demand, although there is usually a splendid assortment from which women may choose. We also need at least one stroller," added Mrs. Williams, "as with the prospect of spring coming soon, when more babies will be out for airings, the demand never has been entirely met."

There are many families in Newton and nearby towns who are not dependent upon public relief, yet have to outfit not only children but adults with clothing for all seasons, and they welcome this opportunity of buying at a reasonable price, goods which have originally cost much more, but have been laid aside for various reasons.

All of the money raised by the shop is used by the Association for such needs of the Newton Hospital as are approved by its Directors.

He is then ready for his job, which includes uncovering the gangs and rings of the underworld, the apprehension of criminals of all types, the fingerprinting of criminals and non-criminals which is a valuable aid in many ways.

Mr. Doherty pointed out that the United States has over 4,700,000 criminals and that their influence can be far reaching and dangerous especially with people who may have non-American ideas. The G-Man therefore, plays a most important role in safeguarding our country from acts of espionage and sabotage during this critical period of national defense.

Extensive Redecorations

At McCammon's Shoe Store

Store styles change and improve just as styles in merchandise do. With this in mind, W. L. McCammon has made extensive improvements in his store at Newton Corner.

The newest type ceiling has been installed and the walls have been done in a rich peach, fading to ivory accentuated by a delicate blue stripe.

Clever shadow boxes, with concealed lighting break into the monotony of countless shelves of stock, and in which are displayed the latest trend in shoe styles.

Fixtures have been rearranged, which together with new lighting effects, give the store an air of luxurious roominess.

A feature of McCammon's is an x-ray fitting device which enables the customer as well as the salesman to actually see the bones of the foot thus assuring the perfect fitting of shoes.

Our Lady's Plays
St. Mary's In Playoff
Basketball Game

Our Lady High basketball team and the quintet representing St.
Mary's High of Waltham oppose each other tonight in a single playoff game for a qualifying place in the next week's New England Catholic tournament at the Boston Arena.
The two teams were winner and runner-up in the southern division of the Greater Boston Catholic league.
Our Lady High lost its two games in a playoff series with St. Mary's of Lynn over last week-end and the Waltham team won two out of three games from Cathedral High of Boston. Lynn and Cathedral were winners and runners-up in the northern division.

Our Lady's game with St. Mary's of Lynn last Saturday at the local court found 600 spectators on hand to witness a hectic struggle that went to the invaders by a 27 to 26 margin. Trailing by four points going into the final period Our Lady's crept up to almost even terms with the visitors. A free shot try in the final seconds of the game by Joe Codrone missed the tying point as the ball rolled around the edge of the hoop. Mike Geegan paced the locals with 13 points.

Monday night at Lynn an overtime period was necessary when the regulation game ended in a 30 to 30 tie. With but a few minutes to play the Newton five led by two baskets but the home team extended itself knot the count and in the extra session scored twice more to clinich the verdict, 34 to 30. Captain Marco Marino, and Frank Kinchla, each with nine points, and Mike Geegan with 8 were outstanding for the locals.

Two good mixers
are better than one

THERE you sit, watching the long road ahead as it dips and rises.

Under your feet there's a quiet whispering, to let you know that all eight able Buick cylinders are happily on the job.

You're giving not a single thought to what's happening under that long bonnet nosing out in front, but here's what's going on:

Instead of the single, compromise-size carburetor you find on most cars, this Buick FIREBALL eight with Compound Carburetion* has two good mixers on the job.

A single one of them—the front one —handles all your normal carburetion needs in frugal fashion—keeps you rolling smoothly, easily, quietly, on the very minimum rationing of gasoline.

But the other carburetor is alert and ready for any sudden need. Just tramp down on that accelerator pedal
—it goes into instant action.

What for? To give you more fuel and more power for any emergency purpose!

To swing you up a tough hill without slacking pace—to swoop you around slow trucks with sudden power—to let you take advantage of long, open stretches where timesaving is possible.

It's almost like having two engines—
one to handle normal requirements thriftyly, another to team up with the first for extra oomph and wallop
when you want it.

That kind of teamwork pays.

Owners by the thousand will tell you it's more economical too—as much as 10% to 15% more economical.

If you haven't experienced what it feels like to have that under the bonnet of your automobile, better go have that Buick demonstration now.

*Standard equipment on all Buick SUPER, CENTURY, ROADMASTER and LIMITED models, available at slight extra cost on all Buick SPECIAL models.

"Acquiring A Sense Of Loyalty For Our Democracy" By Education

Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren Suggests Democratic Living Can Be Aided by Educational Program

Pointing out what must not be done and what must be done in a program of education by which the schools will materially assist in the acquisition of a sense of loyalty for our democracy, Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren addressed the Women's Alliance of Channing Church in Newton on Tuesday afternoon. The address was that given by the Newton educator at the National Education Association Convention at Atlantic City two weeks ago and which was one of the outstanding addresses made by leading educators of the country.

Mr. Warren questions how well community, state and local school control has functioned in the matter of education for democracy. The success of any program is measured by the quality of its product. Democracy, like other concepts, must adapt itself to constantly changing forces. To be successful we must, under guidance, learn democratic living democratically and must actually accept democracy as our way of life instead of talking about it.

The major part of Mr. Warren's address is substantially as follows:

"Recently I participated in a panel discussion on what, in the judgment of our school principals, were the most significant problems facing the secondary schools in our area. The meeting was spirited and productive until the last two questions, the only ones directly concerned with democracy and secondary schools. At this point a sort of pall descended on the group, audience and panel members alike. Then and since I have tried to analyze why this was the case. Certainly there was no one among the representative New England group who is favorably disposed toward any of the foreign 'isms,' nor was there a lack of genuine interest, for daily these men and women are bringing intelligence and vision to the problem of building for democracy in their own schools. Rather, it seems to me, the apathy at this point was grounded in dissatisfaction arising from any past discussions of this very big ideal, of much talk, inspirational, to be sure, but which, shorn of its verbiage, leaves one not much to do anything with when he gets back on the job.

"Scholars, philosophers, statesmen, practical school leaders, politicians, industrialists, labor leaders and laymen are expressing themselves, and many of them wisely, on the values and the soundness of democratic ideas and action. Over the years we have been concerned chiefly with building a case for democracy and for sound democratic education. The difficulty has come in translating our democratic philosophy, however clearly and unequivocally stated, into action, into specific things to do about the lives of particular children. Intellectually and spiritually we have basked in the aura of ideas and inspiration when we are relieved of the pressure of individual cases and problems faced on the job by convention, discussion group, and conference. Too often when we reach home we do not see clearly the implications of those ideas to a particular case.

"At home, we tend to justify and defend our procedures and practices by the special circumstances and difficulties which are so thoroughly familiar to us. Because we find it hard to do a creative job of re-thinking the whole problem, we tend to analyze whatever our present procedures may be in terms of the democratic features already present in them. Too often, in building a defense for our consciences we jump forward with, 'Yes, we have a Student Council,' or 'Yes, we teach a course in Problems of Democracy on the twelfth grade level.' We justify what we do by things that we have established here and there with the purpose of teaching democratic ways. What we need to do is re-examine the whole of our educational program. In this process we will most certainly select a loyalty to and a living of democracy as primary objectives. Then, and only then, are we ready to build, in purpose, in understanding of human behavior, in curriculum and method, a sound plan of democratic education.

"Now comes the world crisis, the national emergency, the word 'democracy' is on every lip. Every week books, magazine articles, creeds, plans and systems for teaching democracy pour over my desk and over the desks of all teachers in my community. How select from this avalanche of materials the right and best ways for teacher and child to acquire a genuine and enduring sense of loyalty to our democracy? There can be no question of the responsibility of the school in the matter. Our whole business is the business of education. We do not exist for any other purpose. If we have accepted as a primary objective of education this loyalty to and a living of democracy we know that one of our major responsibilities will be to see to it that democracy shall survive as a way of life in this country, and perhaps in the world.

"With this our communities are thoroughly in agreement. Yet, many times in the past they have become impatient with us and somewhat skeptical of the ways in which we were going about it. So they urged upon us the patriotic essay contest, legislated onto the statute books of our states the daily pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, the compulsory article-by-article study of the Constitution, confident that through forms and words we will acquire beliefs and attitudes for which we are ready to sacrifice our lives, if need be. It is safe to assume that these practices have been initiated sincerely, but it is certain that this verbalization is not enough, for man is also a rational being, and must understand, if he is to serve. The school must hasten to give guidance to legislators and to community thinking as they earnestly seek quick action from the schools in this matter of teaching democracy, lest they legislate the schools into a position where freedom in action to teach for democracy in the best manner we know how is no longer possible.

"The success of any program or plan is measured by the quality of its product. While the schools must provide the leadership, much of the guidance, and the major part of the formal teaching, it is clear that the whole job of learning democratic

Health Department Waging Campaign For Clean Glasses

Inspectors of the Newton Health Department completed last week an examination of drinking utensils in Newton restaurants, drug stores and alcoholic beverage dispensaries. The places where examinations were made of drinking glasses and other utensils included 34 beer taverns, 54 places (mostly drugstores) using soda fountains, and 32 restaurants.

A bacteria count of 500 or under is permissible. The beer taverns showed the least cleanliness. Of the 34 visited, drinking glasses in 10 places gave a bacteria count of 100 or less, and the bacteria count from glasses in 7 other taverns was under 500. Thus, half of the taverns complied with the health law. The results from the 17 other beer dispensaries was as follows: glasses in one tavern tested from 500 to 1000 bacteria; in six taverns from 1000 to 5000 bacteria; in 4 taverns from 5000 to 10,000; in three taverns from 10,000 to 20,000, and in one tavern over 20,000.

At drugstores and other places using soda fountains, drinking glasses at 26 places contained under 100 bacteria by count, and 14 other places had glasses with a bacteria count of less than 500. The percentage of places using glasses that conformed to the law was 74. At two drugstores the glasses had a bacteria count of between 500 and 1000; at six stores a count of between 1000 and 5000; at two stores a bacteria count of 5000 to 10,000, at two other places a count of between 10,000 and 20,000, and at two places a count of over 20,000.

The restaurants were about on a parity with the drugstores, 73 per cent.

Newton Firemen Will Give $100 to Brockton Fund

The Newton Firemen's Relief Association will hold a meeting next Wednesday evening at Ladder 2 House, Newton Highlands. It is expected that a motion will be passed appropriating $100 to the fund being raised for the relief of the dependents of the 12 Brockton firemen killed on Monday morning in the collapse of a theatre in that city.

Newton Firemen In Disagreement

A hearing was held at the State House last Saturday before Deputy Insurance Commissioner O'Leary on a complaint entered by members of the Newton Firemen's Relief Association. William C. Fanning, representing a group of members who are stationed at Engine 4 in Newtonville, spoke for the complainants. He told the Deputy Commissioner that in accordance with a vote passed at the annual meeting in January, 1940, the annual meeting this year was supposed to have been held on January 2, and that the meeting was to have been held at Engine 4 house, Newtonville.

Fanning said that on December 31 the members were notified that the meeting would be held on January 1 instead of January 2, and at Engine 1 house, Newton, instead of Engine 4 house, Newtonville. He argued that the meeting which was held on January 1 and continued to January 8, was illegal, and that a new election of officers and annual meeting should be held at Engine 4 house.

Thomas J. Joyce, who was re-elected president of the association at the January 8 meeting told Deputy Commissioner O'Leary that his reason for changing the date of the meeting from January 2 to January 1 was that he had been told by the State Insurance Department that since the rules of the Firemen's Association specify that the annual meeting must be held on the first Wednesday in January, the meeting had to be held on that date even though it fell on New Year's Day this year. Asked why he had changed the place of the meeting from Engine 4 house to Engine 1 house, Joyce replied that since the

City Employees To Have Credit Union

Employees of various departments of the City of Newton are planning to organize a credit union. They have applied for a charter and a hearing will be given them at the State House on April 4. Those active in the plan to form the credit union, consulted with Mayor Goddard and he informed them that he approves of the plan.

Similar credit unions have been in operation for years among city employees in other municipalities in Massachusetts and have served not only as mediums of savings, but also to give city employees opportunities to receive loans under more advantageous circumstances than they can from privately operated loan companies.

Those active in the plan to organize the credit union in Newton are: Thomas P. Joyce, Matthew J. Phillips, Philip Purcell, Robert B. Turner, John N. McMullen, Francis J. Linnehan, Michael J. Sullivan, Paul L. Mullen, Mary Cronin, Margaret C. McMullen, Rose F. Silverman, Eleanor A. Hannigan, Richard A. Murphy, Frank L. Guerrier, Joseph A. Delaney, William H. Fitzgerald, Lawrence H. Kerr, Fremont W. Keyes, John L. Foley, Thomas F. Leeahan.

Burglars Damage Newton School

Newton police were notified on Saturday that on the preceding night $24 was stolen from cash boxes at the cafeteria and athletic office in the administration building at the high school. The burglars broke panes of glass in several doors to enter various parts of the building, started to drill a hole in a door at the towel room in the boys' physical department where a cash box was kept, and partly drilled a hole in the vault at the main office. It was apparent that the intruders were well acquainted with the building. It is supposed that someone secreted himself in the building on Friday night while a concert was in progress.

14 In Quotas From Newton Rejected In Physical Exams

Of the 104 draftees in the quotas from the three Newton districts who went to Boston last Saturday to be inducted, 14 failed to pass the physical tests given by the army physicians and dentists. Of the fourteen, 3 were from District 112, 3 from District 113 and 8 from District 114. The replacements from Districts 112 and 113 must report on March 18. Those from District 114 must report on March 19th.

In addition District 112 has been notified to send colored draftees on March 19, and a white draftee on March 24. District 114 has been ordered to send 2 white draftees on March 24, and 2 colored draftees on March 25.

Three volunteers will report at Newton City Hall at 8:30 a. m. next Tuesday as replacements for the 3 draftees from District 113 who failed to pass their tests. The volunteers are—Julius Aisner, Jr., 38 Braeburn rd., Auburndale; Francis S. Bemis, 24 Pine st., West Newton; Edgar E. Dunlap, Jr., 1929 Commonwealth ave., Auburndale. The latter is only 20 years of age and had to obtain parental consent.

Keating Promoted To Captain In Fire Department

Lieut. John L. Keating of 1335 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, who has been stationed for the past 4 years at Engine 1, was appointed a captain in the Newton Fire Department last Friday to fill a vacancy caused by the protracted illness of a captain in the department. He was first on the list of eligibles. Captain Keating was born in Newton Centre 41 years ago, was appointed to the fire department on November 6, 1922, and made a lieutenant on December 22, 1936.

Gifts Wanted For Newton Soldiers

A visit paid last week to Camp Edwards at Cape Cod by Roy Edwards, chairman of the committee to provide comforts for Newton men in military service revealed that articles which can be supplied by Newton residents, will be appreciated by the Newton soldiers at the camp. Captain George Henrikus of the Newton State Guard Company accompanied Mr. Edwards on the trip.

Newton residents are requested to contribute the following for the recreation room of the Service Company of the 101st Quartermaster's regiment, a former Newton unit: pool table, ping-pong table, victrola and records, sheet music, playing cards, and boxing gloves. Undoubtedly there are Newton people who have these articles lying unused for years in their homes. Contribute them for the recreation of the young men at Camp Edwards. Telephone Roy Edwards, LASEL 5500, and he will arrange to pick up any articles donated.

Solicitor Files Cullen Case Brief

On Monday William G. Guernsey, a legal associate of City Solicitor Joseph W. Bartlett, filed with the Supreme Court in Boston the brief prepared by Mr. Bartlett in the case of former Sergeant-Mechanic Bart Cullen of the Newton Police Department. The full bench of the Supreme Court recently decided in favor of Cullen in his petition to be reinstated to his former job, and by doing reversed a decision made by one judge of that court.

Following the decision of the full bench, City Solicitor Bartlett asked for a rehearing, so that he might file an additional brief, and his request was granted. It is expected that the court will take action on the City Solicitor's brief in the near future.

Hutchinson Appointed Chairman of Community Fund Campaign For 1942

Former President and Campaign Head of Newton Community Chest To Lead Next Greater Boston Drive

Maynard Hutchinson, treasurer of the Newton Community Chest, has been appointed general chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund 1942 Campaign. It was announced last night by Charles Francis Adams, president of the Community Fund.

Hutchinson, treasurer of Loomis, Sayles and Company, investment counsel in Boston, is a former president and campaign chairman of the Newton Community Chest and has long been identified with social agencies.

ty Chests of their own with corresponding gains resulting. Then came the establishment of the Greater Boston Community Fund as the sponsoring body. Under responsible management and continuity of leadership, social planning and financing have multiplied their gains on a community-wide scale.

"The uninterrupted record of progress in all phases of this undertaking is indisputable evidence of the soundness of the plan and of the quality of the service that has been given without stint by hosts of our citizens in every walk of life. It is not by accident that Greater Boston has come to have the largest community chest in the country. It is the result of untiring effort day in and day out.

"This progress must be continued. Is it possible to imagine a calamity that would be worse than one that would result from the closing of all of our member agencies at midnight, December 31, 1941? We are assured of the funds necessary to write a creditable chapter in the philanthropic life of Greater Boston for the current year and I have a deep conviction that we have right now in this grand community of ours men and women of character and calibre who will perpetuate our finest traditions in this field. I am further convinced that the demands to meet other problems that are being forced upon us by those who are jeopardizing our rights and liberty will be met, not at the expense of the Greater Boston Community Fund, but rather through less indulgence in non-essentials.

"A city or a nation in which moral fiber has degenerated would not long endure against the assaults of tyrants from within or without.

"One only has to read the bulletins from Britain to realize the meaning of the fortitude and morale for which our health, relief and character-building agencies strive. May I please put the proposition finally and simply by urging that everyone of us start right now to plan for the 1942 Campaign so that when the time comes we shall be ready to give of ourselves and our means and make sure that in these distressing times we put first things first. In all humility but with plenty of courage I make this appeal to you, my neighbors, to help build a community that is as strong as we can make it in health, strength and morale."

Expressing the gratification of the board of directors of the Greater Boston Community Fund in Hutchinson's willingness to serve as general chairman of next year's Campaign, Charles Francis Adams said: "The appointment of Maynard Hutchinson of Newton as general chairman of the 1942 Campaign of the Greater Boston Community Fund marks a milestone in this great co-operative enterprise involving 46 cities and towns.

"As a former president and campaign chairman of the Newton Community Chest, now affiliated with the Greater Boston Community Fund, Mr. Hutchinson brings to his new job ability and experience, which fact augurs well for the success of the campaign."

THE LEASE-LEND BILL PASSES

For many weeks there has been volumes written in regard to the lease-lend bill. There is no one person or group of persons who can say with certainty that the passage of Bill 1776 will plunge America into war or will keep America out of war. We do know, however, that the Hitler octopus has been reaching out its tentacles, devouring all that it can overpower and reach by one method or another, from subtle psychology and fear, to the actual use of armed forces. We fear for ourselves as to what the future may bring—whether or not eventually the tentacles of the monster will not reach out to engulf us.

There is little use in speculating as to what might have happened had Britain gone all out in the beginning to assist the smaller countries which have now been shorn of all ability to cope with the forces which have mastered them from without and within. And we know now that if we are to help Britain we are helping her to win. It is futile to even think of helping Britain if that help is not going to bring victory. We gave England fifty destroyers. The giving of more destroyers or the giving of other necessities of war is not going to make us at war any more than at present. The question of whether we are at war or not is dependent only upon whether or not Hitler considers us a warring foe. In all probability he does, but so long as he does not proclaim us a belligerent foe he keeps alive that fear which has become such a potential weapon. Should Hitler infer that America is at war then we would no longer fear him, but plunge into the task of destroying those forces which he would use to master us. And America would accept that task with courage, fortitude and determination to win. Lease-lend bill, or not, if America is going to live, if England is going to survive, if civilization itself is to progress we must gird ourselves to give everything for victory. And we dare not delay longer or we will be too late. Thousands of years ago ancient Greece was the height of civilization. Is that little valiant nation of today going to be the inspiration and hope around which all that is left of a moral world will rally for an uplifting future? Or will the blacker and heavier clouds of another Dark Ages cloak the world?

PUTTING FIRST THINGS FIRST

Starting to plan for another year the Greater Boston Community Fund announces the appointment of Maynard Hutchinson as general chairman of the 1942 campaign. Mr. Hutchinson, a well-known resident of Newton, has long been identified with social agencies. He is treasurer and a former president and campaign chairman of the Newton Community Chest. In accepting the chairmanship of the Greater Boston campaign for next year, Mr. Hutchinson points out the necessity for looking forward. "The record of progress of all phases of the undertaking in past years is indisputable evidence of the soundness of the Community Chest plan and of the quality of service given without stint by persons in all walks of life. It is not by accident that Greater Boston has come to have the largest Community Chest in the country. It is the result of untiring effort. This progress must be continued."

As Mr. Hutchinson further points out the meaning of the fortitude and morale for which our health, relief, and character-building agencies strive is exemplified in the bulletins from Britain. We must start in to plan—putting first things first—in all humility but with plenty of courage. Mr. Hutchinson enters upon a task to which thousands of others will rally in the coming months. Under his leadership and inspiration and with the untiring efforts of volunteer workers the 1942 Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign will again be successful.

ACQUIRING LOYALTY FOR DEMOCRACY

We commend to all our readers the address given recently by Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren of Newton on "Acquiring a Sense of Loyalty for Democracy." At the recent convention of national educators the address was one of the outstanding features and received national prominence. Whereas the address largely concerns itself as to how the educational program can best be suited to the natural acquisition of a loyalty for democracy among the school pupils as the youth of today, we all, as individuals, owe it to ourselves, our community and our nation to develop that necessary characteristic if democracy is to survive. Superintendent Warren strikes the keynote of the problem when he states "we must learn democratic living by living democratically. . . . perhaps in becoming unconsciously democratic we will put ourselves in the way of living democratically instead of talking about it."

EDWARD H.

Powers' Paragraphs

In this column last week we commented that Senators Walsh and Lodge were strongly opposed to the Lease-Lend Bill. So, in common with millions of other persons, the writer was surprised when Senator Lodge voted for the bill, which he had consistently condemned during the weeks it had been discussed in Congress. On Feb. 27 the junior Senator from this State interrupted proceedings near the beginning of the Senate session while the debate on the bill was in progress, and appealed to Sen. Barkley, the majority leader, that the Lease-Lend Bill with all its controversial difficulties be temporarily laid aside, so that a bill granting $2,000,000,000 to Britain, as Senator Taft had proposed, could be passed; after which the Lease-Lend Bill could be defeated at leisure. Senator Barkley did not reply to Lodge at the time, but later the suggestion of the Massachusetts Senator was criticized by a proponent of the bill.

Last Friday, March 7, when the opponents of the bill made their final effort to have restrictive amendments passed, which would curb the power granted to the President by the bill, Senator Lodge voted in the affirmative on the O'Mahoney, Norris, Taft, Maloney, Reynolds, Johnson, Danaher, Vandenberg and Wiley amendments, all of which were defeated. Despite this, the following day, Saturday, March 8, Senator Lodge voted for the bill. He made a statement explaining his reasons for so doing. To me, these reasons did not seem consistent with the Senator's attitude as evidenced by his votes on the amendments which were defeated the previous day. There was one reason Mr. Lodge might have given in the statement in which he explained why he voted for the bill. That was—the pressure brought to bear on him by many of his Republican constituents who favored the passage of the Lease-Lend Bill.

Senator Lodge is not the only Massachusetts member of Congress who talked one way on the Lease-Lend Bill and voted the other way. Representatives Joe Martin and Edith Rogers argued strongly against the bill and then voted for it. Even that doughty warrior, George Holden Tinkham, didn't vote against the bill. He did not vote for it. He faded.

Congressman Martin explained his vote for the bill saying—"We live, thank God, in a country where we can debate these great questions and divide as our convictions direct us. But once the decision is reached, we accept the verdict of the majority. We may differ among ourselves, but there is no division in our loyalty to our country or our determination to protect the security of our people."

No sensible person will argue against Mr. Martin as regards accepting the will of the majority, loyalty to our country and determination to protect its security. But, we can't see that this justifies a man in voting for a bill which he believes is contrary to the principles of our government, and threatens the future of our democracy. Had we believed, as did Senator Lodge, Mr. Martin and Mrs. Rogers, that the Lease-Lend Bill was not the proper method of giving aid to Britain (and they are all intensely anxious to aid Britain), we would not have voted for this bill, even though great pressure had been brought to bear on us by many of our constituents who favored it.

When a man sincerely believes he is right, he should "hew to the line, let the chips fall where they may." This principle was impressed on me early in life. When the writer was a youngster attending the fifth grade at the Belmont School, our teacher, Miss Donkin, was giving us instruction in grammar one day, when George Aldrich, then superintendent of schools, came into the room. He sat down as an interested spectator for a few minutes, and then with a twinkle in his eye, he gave a short sentence to the class, and asked the pupils to tell which word was the subject in that sentence. It was a trick sentence, but all of those in the class, with one exception, did not know it. That one was Gilbert Townsend, the smallest boy in the class. While the rest of us agreed on one word as the subject, Townsend picked another word. Supt. Aldrich tried to swerve Townsend to agreeing with the majority of his classmates, but the little fellow persisted in his opinion. In the meantime the other pupils in the class were either snickering at Townsend's apparent stupidity, or were amazed at his seeming presumption in differing from the Superintendent of Schools. Then, to our surprise and chagrin, Mr. Aldrich stated that Townsend was correct and the remainder of the class was incorrect. He congratulated Townsend for having had enough courage to refuse to be scared into agreeing with the big majority. That incident occurred about a half-century ago, and it left a lasting impression on the writer.

As we have gone through life, we have observed that there are very few persons who display the intellectual fortitude that little Gilbert Townsend showed. Even though time may prove that Senator Lodge, Representatives Martin and Rogers, and the others in Congress who opposed the Lease-Lend Bill were wrong in deeming the bill undesirable, personally, we would have had more respect for them had they stuck by their guns.

If the President properly uses the tremendous power vested in him by the Lease-Lend Bill, and we hope he will, and if the aid given to Britain under the provisions of the bill results in the ultimate defeat of the Axis Powers, even though Britain itself might be overwhelmed this year, those who supported the bill from the start and (to a lesser degree) those who eventually supported the bill, will be acclaimed by future generations of Americans. But, if the passage of the Lease-Lend Bill results disastrously, or even adversely to the U. S. A., as opponents of the bill (and we hope mistakenly), predicted, the large majority of Congressmen who voted for it will be condemned by future generations of Americans.

A hobby which one Newton young man has engaged in, for the past several years, has become his occupation. During the past five years Albert Caliguri of Riverdale ave., Nonantum, has kept and trained homing pigeons. Last Saturday he was one of the 90 young men from this city inducted into military service. He was sent to Camp Edwards where his knowledge of homing pigeons was put to practical use. Caliguri was assigned to the Signal Corps of the 26th Division and will care for the homing pigeons used by that outfit.

According to reports, one of Newton's oldest and most faithful officials will retire this year after having served this city very competently since 1899. Francis Newhall, for over two score years City Treasurer and Collector of Newton, intends to take a well earned rest from his arduous duties. It is reported that he will be succeeded by a well-known Newton citizen who recently retired as a member of the Board of Aldermen. Few officials in the history of Newton have held office as long as has Mr. Newhall and none worked more conscientiously in the interest of the city.

In connection with the probable retirement of Mr. Newhall, it is interesting to note that in this year's budget Mayor Goddard has approved a recommendation by Mr. Newhall of a salary increase for the Deputy Collector, Miss Laura Ellice.

In past years the City Collector recommended a salary increase for his deputy. His recommendation was approved in some of those years by Mayor Childs, but was not approved by the Aldermen. In our opinion the Aldermen this year should approve a salary increase for Miss Ellice, and for the full amount recommended by Mayor Goddard. She has worked in the City Collector's office for 28 years, and has been a very efficient and capable assistant. Not only has she been busy at the office in City Hall every working day, but night after night she has worked on city business at her home. She has a thorough knowledge of the duties of the City Collector and Treasurer, and if Mr. Newhall retires, his successor must depend to a great degree on Miss Ellice and the other assistants in this department. It should be mentioned here that the unusual industry of Mr. Newhall and Miss Ellice has been communicated to their assistants, and these clerks are entitled to favorable consideration from the committee of Aldermen which is preparing a new salary schedule for the clerks at City Hall.

During the past week Draft Board 114 of Newton received an order to send two colored men for induction on March 25, and Draft Board 112 was notified to send one colored man on March 19. This is the first time because most of the colored people in Newton reside in Ward 3, West Newton, which is in District 112. There are 40 colored registrants in District 112. In District 114, which is composed of Wards 6 and 7, there are 23 colored registrants. So it seems peculiar that two draftees are called from District 114, which has only half as many colored registrants as District 112. However, we suppose the higher-ups in the draft organization know their business.

Incidentally, we have been hearing a lot the past couple of years about "democracy," and there has been much oratory about the U. S. A. being the "citadel of democracy." So we wonder if this country is so democratic, why does it have separate quotas for its colored draftees, and why are they segregated?

cess of next year's campaign throughout Greater Boston.

"Mr. Hutchinson's acceptance of the post of general chairman of the Greater Boston Community Fund for 1942 is eloquent proof of the growing realization on all sides that the cities and towns of the metropolitan area are interdependent and must work together for the welfare of all their citizens."

Graduate of Harvard College in 1908, Hutchinson is a director of Boston Better Business Bureau, a trustee of Northeastern University, Boy's Camp, Inc., and Newton Hospital, of which he is also a member of the board of governors. He is treasurer of the Newton Community Chest. He is a former member of the Newton Board of Aldermen.

Newton Graphic, March 6, 1886
Rev. Dr. Calkins of Eliot Church preached a rousing sermon last Sabbath morning; very apropos to the present unsettled times and the agitation in the labor world.

The Boston daily papers have reported the death of the wife of Judge Pitman, much to the annoyance of the Judge and his family. Mrs. Pitman has been seriously ill, and at one time her life was despaired of, but we are happy to announce that the crisis has passed, and her speedy recovery is hoped for.

Harold, the 6-year-old son of John B. Taylor of Newton, while coasting on Tuesday, was struck by the wheel of G. H. Adams' grocery wagon, and received a gash on his head three inches long. Dr. Frisbee was called and dressed the wound. No blame is attached to the driver of the team.

The wind was an eye-opener on Friday night. Sleeping with one eye open was in order. The wind blew 55 miles an hour.

The trustees of the Newtonville Universalist Church held a meeting on Monday evening. Owing to the increased number of pews in the church, the sittings have been rearranged, and the rates revised, although not on the whole increased.

A new piano was received at the High School on Thursday with appropriate exercises. Rev. Dr. Shinn, on behalf of the School Committee, made the presentation address, following which a variety of musical selections were given by Wallace Goodrich, Laura Coffin, Miss LeCompte, Miss Clement, John Cole, Miss Chase, Arthur Plummer, Horace Walton and Miss Fleming.

The semi-annual prize drill of the Newton High School Military Battalion was held in Armory Hall, Newton, on Saturday. The drilling was excellent. W. E. Scales, '88, won the medal; E. B. Smith, '88, won honorable mention. A sabre exercise, dress parade and dancing followed.

The dedication of the chapel and church parlors, and the rededication of the church edifice of the West Newton Congregational Church took place on Tuesday evening. The additional seating capacity and spacious parlors will give ample accommodations for many years to come. The cost was $17,500 for the improvements.

There is more trouble at the river in Lower Falls. The water between the lower dam and the long railroad bridge was so high on Sunday that Sullivan's shoddy mill, Wiswall's paper mill, and the Billings & Clapp chemical works were flooded and have since been shut down. Tuesday afternoon an attempt was made to blast out the ice jam at the railroad bridge. Three blasts were exploded, but they failed to loosen the anchor ice.

During the blizzard last Friday night a faithful lamplighter at Newton Centre was seen to make 9 attempts to light a kerosene street lamp before he succeeded.

At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening, the City Solicitor was instructed to obtain an injunction restraining Thomas Belger from erecting a blacksmith shop on Eliot st., Ward 5.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 6, 1891
Last Saturday the Newton Free Library gave out 735 books, the largest number it ever gave out on one day.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday evening a letter was received from the Board of Health recommending that the city establish a station for the sterilizing of milk, and a letter from Dr. Baker telling how important this is for the preservation of health.

The Board of Aldermen on Monday night received a communication from Sherman L. Whipple calling attention to the embankment which the city had built on its property on Washington st., which he says encroaches 15 feet onto his land; and a conduit the city has built, which empties into his land, making an unhealthy pond. He states that although he has called attention many times to these matters, nothing has been done. He gave notice that he will remove the embankment and destroy the conduit unless the city attends to this matter at once. His letter was referred to the City Solicitor.

25 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, March 10, 1916
Governor Samuel W. McCall and Lieut. Governor Calvin Coolidge were the guests of honor last Friday night at a military ball in the State Armory, West Newton. The affair was a complete social success and nearly 1000 of our best citizens were present to pay their respect to his Excellency, the Governor. Gov. McCall and Lieut. Gov. Coolidge were assisted in receiving by Captain Henry D. Comerai of Company C 5th Regiment, and Mayor Edwin O. Childs. The receiving party stood in an arbor formed by a trellis and backed by palms and potted plants. The handsomely gowned patronesses were seated in a reserved space at the left of the receiving party, while the guests were ushered around the hall. Members of Company C were greeted with hearty applause as they filed past the receiving party, and the cheering was led by Mr. Louis D. Gibbs. The success of the affair was due to the untiring efforts of William F. Garcelon, who several months ago agreed to assist Captain Comerai in staging the military ball.

An interesting debate on the powers of the Board of Aldermen in the matter of erection of garages, was the principal feature of the meeting of the Board on Monday night. Residents of Pearl st. had protested against the petition of Henry Hawkins for a permit to erect a series of individual garages on Pearl st., opposite Peabody st. The petitioners ask for a revocation of the permit which had already been granted. The City Solicitor had ruled that a garage building of this type is not a public garage.

ways and responsibilities belongs to the whole of society, not merely to the schools. Just how well has community, state and local school control functioned in this matter of education for democracy? Do we see evidence that their co-operation has been effective in promoting democratic action and behavior on the part of those who have left our schools in the last ten years? Do these young people exercise their right and responsibility for voting? Do the abler among them stand for public office? If these abler ones are willing to run for office, can they be elected? Do they seek to understand public issues and to influence action upon them? Are they swayed in their decisions by prejudice and hope for personal profit? The answers to these questions for large groups of our younger citizens are not too reassuring. In fact, these answers reinforce the importance of straight thinking and action of all of society in order that the school may effectively do a job that is deep-rooted in the interests, growth and well-being of all the people in the democracy.

"Like so many statements about democracy, this is easily said, yet its realization is fraught with difficulties for the teacher, the learner and the practitioner. Democracy is not a natural way of life. In practice it calls for action which will improve the welfare of all individuals, not just the few who are in conflict with his selfish interests and instincts. Since democracy is learned, it does not automatically perpetuate itself. Nor is it static, for conditions of living are dynamic and changing. Democracy, like other concepts must adapt itself to new bodies of knowledge and new forces in society as they appear. Further, in the process of educating youth for democracy, there must be a renewed interest by the learner, thereby placing the responsibility on the educator for finding many new situations in which its vital meaning and experiences may be reviewed and repeated.

"What, then, must we do to build a program which will result in the growing child's and the adult's acquiring a sense of loyalty for democracy? We must avoid the fallacies implicit in many of the old and some of the newly proposed methods of teaching democracy.

"1. We must not plan and act on the thesis that because a child may express a democratic idea fluently and sincerely, henceforth his actions relating to that idea will automatically be democratic. The solution is to make it meaningful and vital.

"2. We must not believe, because children have been provided with opportunities for living the forms of democracy, they are therefore actually experiencing it. The teacher must plan assignments of such a nature that there is need for social intercourse and interchange of ideas, for group thinking and the co-operative undertakings which are basic to democratic experience.

"3. We must not believe that because the administration and teaching personnel are vocal about the critical urgency of teaching for democracy, they will automatically and immediately effect an improvement in its teaching. It will take more than vocalization to counteract the influence of a home that is autocratic in its control, a city government under boss control, a recreation center that breeds social inequality, a school that pays little attention to the individual's needs, or even a church that is intolerant of other creeds.

"4. We must not believe because it is possible to find elements of democracy in every part of our school program it follows that the whole program is democratic. Only to the extent that every teacher sees the implications of his pupil relationships and of his subject matter content to the teachings of democracy will we be in a position to teach for democratic ends.

"Some specific things we must do are:

- "1. See that whatever program of education we build, affecting democratic ideals and actions, grows out of the thinking of a teaching personnel who are themselves experiencing the democratic method, for to fail to enlist the combined creative thinking of those in the ranks is to overlook a vital resource long neglected. If we would build a sense of loyalty to democracy in our children, we must utilize the process of group thinking and decision by the whole educational staff and the community, wherever their real co-operation is necessary for carrying out a plan.
- "2. See to it that this program which we build brings sharply into the foreground those things that are right about democracy.
- "3. In our plans of education for democracy see that the idea of the free man who is responsible for his actions is the cornerstone upon which democracy stands. If I participate in the planning, then I need not—I cannot—follow blindly.
- "4. Remember that the best psychology for learning is also the best psychology for learning the ways of democracy. Under guidance we must learn democratic living by living democratically.
- "5. In building a program for education for democracy and loyalty to it we must see to it that our methods are based on the premise that intellect and emotion are the obverse and reverse of the same educational coin. As we relive the history of the brilliant and sober American heritage we see how emotion and intellect have worked inextricably together toward achieving the greatest successes of the democracy itself.

"Acquiring a sense of loyalty to our democracy is a harmless and simple enough title for an address, but as one attempts to think even partially through its implications, he is likely to be confounded with the errors of omission and commission in his own experience as a teacher and as a school administrator. Struggling toward a solution of the problem presented to us as school people today, I am increasingly certain that if we are conscious of being democratic we are probably unconsciously undemocratic. Perhaps the challenge of the present situation will put us in the way of becoming unconsciously democratic, of actually accepting democracy as our way of life instead of talking about it."

Rotary Club

The speaker for the Rotary Club meeting on Monday was Lieut. Philip H. Johnson, instructor at E. W. Higgins Airways. He was introduced by Harold Batchelder. His talk covered the work and program being carried out by the Civil Aeronautics Authority to train student pilots for commercial flying. The course is financed by the Government and is free to students who have qualified by having passed one-half of their college credits. The object is to train young men in preparation for an aeronautical career and at the same time to assist the Government program of training pilots for the 50,000 proposed planes.

The primary training course occupies three or four months and consists of ninety hours ground work and thirty-five hours night training in light planes. At the conclusion of this course a "Flight Physical" examination is given and if the boys wish to continue, they take up a Restricted Commercial course with another forty hours in the air devoted to the handling of heavier type planes and acrobatics. The flyers are then qualified to take a third course to fit them for apprentice instructors. A fourth course is also given on instrument and cross-country flying which prepares them for an examination for commercial pilot license.

Lieut. Johnson says that the boys having even a portion of this training often enlist in the Army and Navy and due to the excellent foundation which they have received, are able to pass through the training with a much lower percentage of failures than those boys who enter directly into the service without benefit of this civilian training.

Lieut. Johnson spoke briefly on the many different types of planes and the difficulty army pilots have in mastering control of all types. As a result, army training is generally specialized on a particular type of plane. The Naval training program is exactly the opposite, as all flyers are trained to handle all types of planes.

ZONTA CLUB

The eleventh birthday party of the Newton Zonta Club was held March 3 at the Abner Wheeler House, Framingham, where a delicious dinner was enjoyed by members of the club and guests. After a business session, Mrs. Sadler read the minutes of the first Newton Zonta meeting, and spoke briefly of the first organization. The next meeting will be held March 17th at the home of Mrs. Dora Fyfe, Waban.

Eliot Files Bill To Aid Soldiers

Congressman Thomas H. Eliot this week introduced a bill to protect the social insurance rights of families of men inducted into the military service. "Thousands of the men who have been covered by social security but who have not worked long enough in private industry to qualify for survivors insurance," Eliot said, "may lose all chance of qualifying because they are drafted or volunteer for military service. This is not fair, and I think that their military service ought to be added to their years of private employment so that both can be counted together in determining whether these men have qualified or not."

Eliot declared that his amendment would prevent many injustices. For instance, a married Reserve Officer might have worked in private employment for all but two weeks of the time necessary for him to qualify for survivors insurance under the Social Security Act. Then he is called to the colors. If he should die before returning to private employment, his widow would have no right under the Social Security Act. Under Eliot's amendment, his first two weeks of military service would complete his qualifying period and the widow would be entitled to survivors benefits.

Eliot's amendment also provided that the amount of survivors benefits which are based on an individual's earnings in private employment would be increased during his military service just as if he had stayed in private employment. In computing his benefit rights, a theoretical sum of $100 per month would be assigned to his account while he was in the service. Taking into account board, lodging, and equipment, Eliot said this was a reasonable figure even though arbitrarily imposed. In the case of a man in military service for one year, it would considerably increase the amount of his survivors benefit rights, or eventually, his own old-age benefit rights.

Eliot declared that after drawing his amendment he was glad to receive a copy of a resolution passed by the Massachusetts Department Executive Committee of the American Legion recommending substantially the same measures. "The Legion has been doing a fine job in thinking through matters like these," Eliot declared, "and their suggestions are most constructive."

Catch Gang of Juvenile Thieves

On Tuesday Patrolmen Edward Foley and McCormick took into custody seven Newton Centre boys between the ages of 14 and 16 who allegedly have been involved in many thefts from storekeepers in that district. They were taken to the Newton court house and interviewed by the probation officers. Four of them were placed on "informal" probation. The other three will appear in a juvenile session of the Newton court on March 21 to answer charges of assault and battery on younger children.

According to the police the gang stole articles from stores, forced younger children to steal and then turn over the loot, and caused some store owners to give them merchandise so as not to be molested. Among the articles stolen were two revolvers. It is alleged that in one year the gang took merchandise valued at $300. According to the police the gang had its headquarters in a hut in the Thompsonville district.

Speeders Fined In Newton Court

In the Newton court on Wednesday Judge Mayberry fined Chesley Lancaster, 179 Kirkstall rd. Newtonville and Rolo Sylvester, 2 Willow terrace, Newton Centre, $5 each for speeding. Charges of speeding against Joseph Donovan of Winnetaska rd., Waban, and Ann Witherby of Bonard rd., West Newton were placed on file because the defendants had no previous records.

In court the same day George Cutler of 2075 Beacon st., Waban, was found not guilty of driving by a traffic signal at West Newton when the red and yellow lights were against him. Patrolmen McGrath and Walker both testified that the signal lights were red and yellow before Cutler testified the signal was flashing a red light when he drove by.

In the Newton court on Thursday Benjamin Errico of Belmont was fined $25 for speeding. It was his second conviction within a year. Clement Esty of 915 Dedham st., Oak Hill, was fined $5 for speeding.

City Registers Several Tractors

On Thursday the City of Newton registered 10 tractors and two street sweepers. The tractors have been in use for snow removal the past two winters, and the sweepers have been used for snow and street cleaning. They have not been registered, but recently an inspector from the Registry of Motor Vehicles stopped a driver on one of the tractors and warned him that it was illegal to operate the vehicle on public highways when it was not registered.

Talks on Vision, Surgery and Politics at Eliot Men's Club

Speaking at the meeting of the Eliot Men's Club at the Eliot Congregational church on Monday evening the importance of near point vision in national defense was outlined by Dr. Edwin P. Leonard, Jr. Personnel managers are considering vision at near point whereas in the past this was taken for granted. Illustrating this point Dr. Leonard stated that every Curtis Wright plane had 154,000 rivet holes which must be drilled by hand, involving close sight. Also he pointed out that men engaged in defense work must read micrometers, slide rules, and other calibrated instruments. In two public school surveys Dr. Leonard showed that more than half of the visual defects would have been overlooked by the conventional distant test.

Dr. Fred Marshall, Lahey Clinic surgeon, another speaker, told of the modern trend of surgery and showed how many times surgery is put off and successful medical treatment given. The chance of mortality in some operations has been lowered from 30 per cent a few years ago to 5 per cent today. He showed a colored moving picture bringing out the technique of an abdominal operation.

Sterling Williams, teacher of history at the Newton High School, pointed out the cost of indifference of the public to politics and government in a talk on "The Price We Pay."

President Thomas V. Cleveland announced that $1,000 had been raised towards $2500 for a new recreation room. He stated that an anonymous donor would give $500 if $100 were raised among the members. The club raised $200 and the fund now totals $1700. Group singing was under the direction of Robert Angier with John Jepsen at the piano. Nelson Scott was in charge of the dinner. The next meeting of the club will be on April 14th when ladies' night will be observed.

New Camera Takes a Bow At Atwood's Camera Shop

Hailed by Eastman as the "world's most distinguished camera," this firm has announced its long-rumored EKTRA model, a miniature job for advanced amateurs. Its chief feature is its "magazine back." The back together with the film pack, may be easily removed, and other backs packed with different types of film, as easily attached.

Since the scope of any camera and the quality of the pictures it makes depend upon its lens equipment, no feature of the Kodak EKTRA is of greater importance than its special group of EKTRA lenses. These lenses provide great optical adaptability, precision interchangeability, unique structural and operating advantages, and in the case of F/1.9, ultra speed. There are so many new and outstanding features in the Kodak EKTRA such as the new shutter, view finder, range finder, indicators, focusing device etc., that the camera really must be seen and these features explained. Atwood's Camera Shop at 46 Langley rd., Newton Centre, will be glad to show and explain the EKTRA to anyone that is interested.

Letters To The Editor

ICE COMPANY TAXES

The Newton Graphic,
11 Centre Ave.,
Newton, Mass.

Due to my absence from Newton for a period of ten days, a copy of your publication of Feb. 28, 1941, has just come to my attention.

In this issue there appears an article bearing the title or heading "Refute Statement That $20,000 Taxes Were Paid by Ice Company in 8 Years," which article sets forth statements purporting to have been made by me at the hearing held by the Board of Aldermen on Feb. 17, 1941, on the petition to erect a gasoline station at 1365 Centre st., Newton Centre.

I know that it is the practice and policy of your good paper to fairly and accurately report all matters which you see fit to publish and I, therefore, wish to submit the following for your information:

Metropolitan Ice Company took over the business and properties of Purity-Crystal Ice Company in the City of Newton on April 23, 1931. The real estate so taken over by it consisted of property on both sides of Norwood ave. in Newton Centre and also property near the intersection of Walnut and Beacon sts. in Newton Centre and it was with reference to the amount of taxes paid by the company on all of such property in Newton that I spoke at the afore-

I am informed by the office of the Treasurer of Metropolitan Ice Company that the following amounts have been paid by it to the City of Newton on account of taxes since it took over the business and properties of Purity-Crystal Ice Company in 1931:

| Year Paid | Amount of Taxes Paid |
|-----------|----------------------|
| 1931 | $ 4,575.97 |
| 1932 | 3,648.75 |
| 1933 | 3,173.16 |
| 1934 | 2,080.12 |
| 1935 | 2,042.16 |
| 1936 | 1,587.60 |
| 1937 | 1,470.64 |
| 1938 | 2,175.54 |
| 1939 | 1,799.56 |
| Total | $22,548.50 |

The foregoing does not include any 1940 taxes, which taxes have not as yet been fully paid, nor does it include any taxes which were paid by Mrs. Catherine Karalekas while she owned the property on the northwest side of Norwood ave., as mentioned in your article.

To substantiate my statement that the properties have not been income producing for eight years, I wish to advise that no ice has ever been harvested at Crystal Lake since the property was taken over by Metropolitan Ice Company and the ice manufacturing plant located at the property near the intersection of Walnut and Beacon sts. was shut down in 1933 and has since been dismantled. It does appear that I overlooked the fact that a small amount of income has been received since 1939 from the property situated between Norwood ave. and Crystal Lake by reason of the occupancy, for residential purposes, of the office building still located thereon. I am informed that a total amount of $252 has been received since 1939 as rental for the aforesaid building. Previous to the year 1939, the Ice Company permitted the Boy Scouts to occupy this office building, rent free.

It would appear from your article that I had stated at the hearing that the amount of $20,000 had been paid as taxes on account of the property at Crystal Lake alone and, as I made no such statement, I know that you will want to correct any possible misunderstanding which may have resulted therefrom.

I did not attempt to furnish at the hearing exact figures as to taxes paid as I spoke only briefly and without detailed figures at hand.

Sincerely yours,
ALLEN T. ROGERS.

Clean Glasses

cent had drinking utensils which showed a bacteria count of 500 or under. Of these eating places 17 had drinking utensils with a bacterial count of less than 100 and seven under 500. At two restaurants the glasses and cups tested between 500 and 1000, between 1000 and 5000 in two other restaurants, between 5000 and 10,000 in two. None of the restaurants had drinking utensils with a count over 20,000.

The Health Department sometime ago issued regulations for places serving food or drinks to the public in which were specified rules for cleaning and sterilizing drinking glasses. Many beer places and some drugstores do not sterilize or properly wash the glasses they use. They merely dip them in cold, soapy water, and some just rinsed the glasses in cold, dirty water in the past. Danger of customers catching communicable diseases, including social diseases, is prevalent where glasses are not properly cleaned and sterilized.

The Health Department made a survey of Newton taverns, restaurants, drugstores and other places with soda fountains in June, 1940. At that time conditions were found to be quite bad. Only 6 of 39 places serving ale and wines had glasses with a bacteria count within legal requirements. At 12 places glasses were found to have a bacteria count of between 1000 and 5000; and at 14 places the count was between 10,000 and 20,000, and at 7 the count was over 20,000. In the June, 1940 survey less than half of the places with soda fountains were found to be complying with the law. Out of 68 places only 30 were using glasses with a bacteria count under 500. Nineteen were using glasses which had a count of more than 1000, and under 5000; 11 where the count was over 10,000 and under 20,000, and at 4 places the bacteria count was more than 20,000. In the June, 1940 survey, half of the restaurants had drinking utensils with a bacteria count of less than 500, 6 between 1000 and 5000, 4 between 10,000 and 20,000, and 5 over 20,000.

Between June 1940 and February, 1941 three other general surveys of all taverns, restaurants and drugstores in Newton were made by the Health Department, testing drinking glasses. At places where poor tests resulted, additional examinations were made. There has been an appreciable improvement, but many places, especially beer taverns and, to a lesser degree, drugstores, still are not properly obeying the health regulations. The Health Department is considering publishing a list showing, in the future, results of the tests made at the taverns, drugstores and restaurants in this city.

Indoor Cub Palava To Be Held Mar. 22

Approximately 1500 Cubs and their parents are expected to attend the Annual Indoor Palava to be held on Saturday, March 22, at the Newton High School, under the direction of Douglass B. Francis, Commissioner of Cubbing for Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, and a committee headed by Horace Bush of West Newton. Norumbega Council is a pioneer in this form of Scouting for younger boys, one of the first to use it, and has carried it further than many other Councils. Two Palavas are held each year to bring all the Cubs and their leaders and parents together, one indoors and one outdoors at Nobscot Reservation.

The Palava, which is open to the public, will start at 2:00 p. m. with an exhibit of the handicraft work the Cubs of Newton and Wellesley have been doing this year, in which the main emphasis has been on Indian lore. The exhibits will be arranged by each of the 13 Packs separately, in the cafeteria of the school, with a great array of Indian headresses, miniature topees and small canoes. At 3:15 p. m. the Palava will adjourn to the auditorium of the school where Mr. Francis will preside and welcome the Scouts, Cubs and their parents. The Cubs will repeat their official promise, and the next feature will be a new sound picture taken with the approval of the United States Department of the Interior, in the Black Hills of North Dakota, entitled "Before the White Man Came" and it will show Indian customs and life in great and picturesque detail. In charge of the event also will be Deputy Commissioners for Cubbing, Philip C. Shute and P. E. Eden.

Aldermen May Act On Budget April 7

The Newton Board of Aldermen will not take action on the 1941 budget at a meeting next Monday night, March 17, as was expected. Because of bills now being considered by the Legislature, which affect financial dealings between the State and cities, the Finance Committee of the Aldermen find it imperative to postpone definite recommendations on the budget. It is expected that the Legislature will take action during the next couple of weeks which will permit the Aldermen to vote on the budget at the April 7 meeting.

WABAN IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY

At the annual meeting of the Waban Improvement Society on Tuesday evening at the Neighborhood Club Walter B. Hatfield was elected president. Thomas E. Shirley was elected vice-president and Newton C. Burnett was re-elected secretary-treasurer. New directors elected for three years were Mrs. Ernest A. Hale and Herbert M. Cotton. Other directors are W. Merrill White, Mrs. Fred C. Steglich, Robert S. Rose, and Mrs. Frank M. Seamans. The nominating committee included Philip Ver Planck, chairman, John Powell and Mrs. Robert W. Moore.

The principal speaker of the evening was Attorney General Robert T. Bushnell. He traced the legal history of the country from the original thirteen states to the present. He stated, in commenting on letters he had received regarding the Lease-Lend bill that it presented no danger to civil liberty in this country. William B. Plummer, retiring president, conducted the meeting.

date of the meeting had been adjudged invalid, he believed that the place of the meeting also could be changed, and he selected Engine 1 house because the facilities for holding the meeting are much better there.

Deputy Commissioner O'Leary said to the members of the Newton association present—

"You men are engaged in a very hazardous occupation," Commissioner O'Leary declared, "and this organization is important to take care of the members of your families if you should become incapacitated. We don't like to see this dissension in a benefit organization. If you can't handle your own affairs, we can't do it for you, and we will have to recommend dissolution of the organization to the commissioner of Insurance."

Mr. O'Leary suggested that a petition be filed with the President of the Association by five members, asking that a special meeting be called to determine if a new election shall be held.

Ninety Singers In Glee Club Concert

Although the storm of Tuesday evening caused fewer music lovers than usual to attend the 72nd concert of the Highland Glee Club at the high school auditorium an enthusiastic audience enjoyed a well-balanced program. The largest number of singers in the history of the Glee Club, ninety in number, participated. Guest artists were Olive Appleton, soprano and Harry Newcome, baritone, who have become widely known for their concert work.

An innovation included the singing of three selections by the Glee Club in costume and with lighting effects. D. Ralph MacLean was the director and Karl Switzer the accompanist.

Eight Balls of Fire

IF YOU like fireworks, and who doesn't, it's really too bad you can't see what goes on inside the sparkling big Buick FIREBALL straight-eight engine.

There you'd see eight busy cylinders, with pistons flashing up and down...

You'd see each fuel charge packed tight into a tiny bundle shaped like a flattened ball...

You'd see the spark leap, the flame spread, the piston thrust down with extra force as each furious fireball lets go its pent-up wallop—as fast as thirty times a second in each cylinder.

Gasoline gives up more of its power when it's packed as tightly as it is here.

That special, flattened-ball shape of the compressed fuel charge means smoother, better burning, full focus of the power on the piston head, where it counts.

So when you've got these eight balls of fire working busily under the bonnet, you really travel!

You travel farther on every gallon and you travel more pleasurably.

You travel—but, shucks! Why listen to talk when there's a Buick dealer nearby waiting to show you how you travel behind a FIREBALL?

and how they can travel!

Fire Damages West Newton Mansion

The 28 room residence of Mrs. George R. Whitten at 260 Chestnut st., West Newton, was damaged by fire to the extent of $2500 on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Whitten recently sold the big house and had moved to Brookline. Employees of Mrs. Whitten were engaged in packing household furnishings on the second floor of the house, when a passing motorist informed them that the roof was afire. Box 392 was pulled at 2:17, and a second alarm was ordered by Chief Randlett at 2:28. Sparks from a chimney started the fire, which burned a hole in the roof and spread to the third floor.

At 3:47 p. m. Wednesday a fire occurred in the house at 1159 Walnut st. It was extinguished before much damage resulted. At 7:22 p. m. a slight fire in the home of Thomas Bresnahan at 27 Waban Hill rd., Chestnut Hill, caused a still alarm which brought Engine 9. Paper which had been wrapped around an electric light bulb ignited and started this fire.

Health Seal Sale Aids New Program For T. B. Patients

Through the employment of a rehabilitation worker, a program to adjust themselves back into the community following hospitalization has been developed in recent months by the Health Committee of the Family Service Bureau. This committee, in co-operation with the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, supervises the annual Christmas Health Seal Sale in Newton. The program of rehabilitation is one of several uses towards which the Health Seal Sale fund is used.

Shortly before the end of 1940 the rehabilitation worker, Mrs. Sallie Amundsen, a graduate of Simmons College School of Social Work, was given supervision of the program. She has also taken advanced courses at the Pennsylvania School of Social Work and at the London School of Economics.

In co-operation with the Middlesex Sanatorium, plans are made while the patient is receiving medical care, so that on discharge employment for which he is especially fitted and which, in addition, protects his health, may be found. A goal of this program is to lower the percentage of readmissions to the sanatorium by a follow-up of patients to check their medical condition. In frequent cases, forced to take any work available, the discharged patient has to work under conditions that contribute to the possible need of rehospitalization. In many instances the Health Committee also is of assistance where adequate food and shelter is not provided.

In co-operation with the physician in charge of the case, the rehabilitation worker plans with the patient for his occupational future, giving him tangible hope and tending to improve his interest and strengthen his morale. Resources are opened through the Sheltered Workshop, the Rutland Training Center, the School of Occupational Therapy and the State Department of Rehabilitation.

The program carries out the recommendations of the Tuberculosis Survey of Newton made by Dr. Jacobs who states: "Viewing the entire tuberculosis problem in Newton, one is impressed with the fact that there is great need for special attention to some plan for rehabilitation of tuberculosis patients. Middlesex Sanatorium does a praiseworthy job in the medical service it renders. Considering the fact that the towns and cities of Middlesex County spend close to $1000 on an average of every case admitted to the sanatorium, it would seem reasonable to assume every effort should be made to capitalize this investment and prevent a relapse."

Newton citizens have shared in this program in the purchase of Christmas Seal Sales from the various sections of the city as listed below.

Aldermen Grant Permit to Enlarge Gasoline Station

The petition of Elvira Tedesco for a permit to make alterations at the garage and gasoline station located at 255 Auburn st., Auburndale, and to increase the storage of gasoline there to 2000 gallons, was granted on Monday night by the Board of Aldermen. The property was owned by the Melody estate and there was a sidewalk pump in front of the garage. It is planned to tear down part of the building so as to permit moving the pump away from the sidewalk. Alderman Fahey, chairman of the Licenses Committee, said that the petition had been recommended favorably by the committee although Chief Randlett of the Fire Department had not approved it. Chief Randlett disapproved of the enlargement of the gasoline station because the lot is in a congested area and buildings are quite close. Alderman Fahey said it was the first time, to his knowledge, that the committee had disagreed with the Chief, but it was believed by the committee that the advantages to the public which would follow the removal of the old pump from its proximity to the sidewalk, more than offset the hazard which Chief Randlett believed the increased storage at the station would cause.

The petition of Susan Waterman to change a single residence at 340 Cabot st. into a two-family house was granted. So was the petition of William Downey for a waiver of the set-back line from 25 to 10 feet at a lot of land at 100 East Quinobeguin rd., Waban. Alderman Rawson explained that this lot is alongside the Cochituate aqueduct and there is a very steep bank on one side. It cannot be used unless the waiver is granted. Replying to a question from Alderman Hughes, Alderman Walker stated that allowing the proposed houses on the lot to be only 10 feet back from the street will not adversely affect nearby properties, as there is a sharp curve on the street at this point, and the next house is on a higher elevation. The petition of Silas Phillips for a waiver of a 5-foot set-back at a lot line, so he could erect a metal garage at 72 Oxford rd., Newton Centre, was denied. So was the petition of the Greylock Construction Company for a two-hour parking limit in front of the apartment house at 27-41 Commonwealth ave.

The Aldermen voted unanimously to confirm the reappointment of Harold Young as a member of the Registrars of Voters for 3 years, and Dr. Richard Scofield as Inspector of Animals for a one-year term. Renewals of auctioneer licenses were granted to John Gordon, 331 Auburndale ave.; Joseph O'Donoghue, Elmhurst rd.; Edmond Poulin, 16 Everett st.; Frank Harris, 567 Centre st.

Appropriations made by the Board included—pension for Richard Cody, retired fireman, $873; Street Department, widening of Grove st., $1400; land damages in connection with widening, $75; drains and sewers, Fair Oaks ave., $1250; Fessenden st., $5600; Nevada st., $4500; Water Department, mains in Wachusett rd., $1230; Belmont Park and Oakmont rd., $7390; Soldiers' Relief Department, for burials of veterans, $500.

Alderman Hoffman inquired if Mayor Goddard intends to make any more changes in his budget recommendations? Chairman McKay of the Finance Committee answered that the Mayor had stated the only changes he might make in his budget recommendations will be in connection with the salaries of employees at City Hall.

Friction Between County and City On T. B. Hospital

Controversy between the City of Newton and Middlesex County Commissioners over this city's share of the cost of maintaining the county Tuberculosis Hospital at Waltham became serious this week when county officials notified the city that unless an assessment of $39,415.87 levied against Newton will be paid on or before April 1, interest at the rate of 12 per cent will be charged. Mayor Goddard last month recommended the payment of this amount, but the Board of Aldermen laid the matter on the table pending further investigation.

Two years ago the Aldermen appointed a special committee to investigate the cost to Newton of this hospital and it was found that the per-diem charge to cities and towns for patients at the institution was much below actual cost. The deficit was made up by assessing cities and towns on a basis of valuation. This resulted in Newton and other places in the county paying much more than their proportionate share of the cost of running the hospital, while other cities and towns paid much less than their share. As a result of a protest by the Newton Board of Aldermen, county officials made a slight compromise in reducing Newton's assessment.

Last year the Aldermen refused to vote an appropriation for the assessment levied against Newton by county officials for the hospital expenses, but finally yielded. The next meeting of the Board of Aldermen will be on April 7, so, unless a special meeting will be called before April 1, Newton may have to pay some interest to the county on the $39,414 assessment.

Safety Council Meeting April 1st

Members of the Newton Safety Council will attend the annual conference of the Massachusetts Safety Council at the Hotel Statler on Tuesday, April 1. Governor Saltonstall will address the gathering, and Newton will receive an award for having the best highway safety record in cities of its population class for 1940. The award will be accepted by Mayor Goddard.

On Tuesday, March 25, representatives of the Council will attend the hearing to be held at the State House on the petition of the Newton Chamber of Commerce to have that part of Route 128 constructed from the Newton-Wellesley line through Wellesley, Newton, Weston and Waltham to Route 2. At this hearing photographs taken by the Newton Traffic Division of the Police Department, showing the condition of Walnut st. in Newtonville will be exhibited.

On Thursday, March 27, at 10 a. m. the Committee on Highways will hold a hearing at the State House on bills filed for the purpose of licensing and regulating the use of bicycles.

State Employment Office Registers Defense Workers

The local office of the Mass. State Employment Service at 290 Centre st., Newton, will be the registration point for residents of this area to file their applications for work in defense industries. William S. Knudsen, director of O. P. M., urges employers in defense industries to utilize State Employment offices.

Mr. Wight, manager of the Newton office asks any unemployed workers to register now. Employed workers with skill in any type of shipbuilding, aircraft manufacturing, and machine shop trades are also urged to register, provided they are not utilizing their skill in their present jobs. At the present time there are openings for tool makers, machinists, electric welders, die makers and shipbuilders. Workers are not wanted to leave their present jobs if they are engaged in any defense industry, and anyone who had registered at the office within the past 30 days need not register again.

Reject Petition For Gasoline Station On Site Near Crystal Lake

Aldermen Favoring Station Predict Smith Memorial Will Not Develop

By a vote of 16 to 4 the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night refused the petition of Elsie Tufts of Somerville for a permit to establish a gasoline filling station at 1365 Centre st., corner of Norwood ave., Newton Centre and ended for this year, at least the latest attempt to obtain such a permit at this locus. During the past nine years various attempts were made to obtain a filling station permit on the ice company property near Crystal Lake, but until last year the several petitions were promptly given leave to withdraw.

Last year, however, owners of the property agreed that if the Aldermen would grant a permit for a filling station at 1365 Centre st., they would be willing to have the remainder of the property, which included land abutting Crystal Lake and on Norwood ave., changed from manufacturing to residence zone. A majority of the Aldermen voted to grant the petition for the filling station at a meeting on Sept. 9, 1940, but this vote was reconsidered at a subsequent meeting and there was a persistent and somewhat bitter controversy over the matter until it was settled on Monday night. There was strong opposition to the petition.

Several months ago, Alderman McKay, who had consistently opposed the attempt to establish a filling station near the lake, advocated a plan to use the property as a memorial park to Rev. Samuel F. Smith, author of the patriotic hymn "America." Dr. Smith was a long-time resident of Newton Centre and a former pastor of the First Baptist Church there. This plan has met with the approval of leading citizens and organizations of Wards 5 and 6. At the meeting on Monday night the Aldermen voted against the petition. The unanimous report of the Licenses Committee which recommended the rejection of the petition for the gasoline station were: Jamieson, Rawson, Walker and Whidden. Alderman Jamieson questioned the practicality of the memorial project and said he did not think we shall see it established by contributions from the public, unless the city purchased the property, and he predicted that the city will not pay for this property. Alderman Fahey characterized the memorial project as "a dream that has burst," and commented that the plan for a memorial park to cost $150,000 does not exist. Alderman Lee suggested that the city adopt a definite policy on filling stations, and establish zones, only in which gasoline stations may be built. Alderman Rawson argued that the granting of a permit for the filling station is the only practical way to clean up the eyesores on the ice company property near Crystal Lake. He said the property is in a manufacturing zone, and being alongside the railroad, a spur track can easily be placed there, making it a practical location for a manufacturing plant. He said that any kind of manufacturing, not expressly forbidden by city ordinances may be located there, and that in turning down the petition for the filling station, the Aldermen were doing something which will cause regret to people of Newton Centre. Rawson said he believes in memorial parks, but such parks should be created on an assured basis, and not left to chance. He said the situation as regards the future of the ice company property is precarious. Alderman Walker agreed with Rawson. He said the opposition to the granting of a permit for the filling station had been built up on the expectation that the ice company property, and he regretted to have come to the conclusion that there will be no memorial park created there.

Alderman Hoffman said that it had been made clear at the hearing on the petition of the general opposition of the people to the granting of a permit for a filling station, but there is danger that there will be indefinite continuance of the unsightly condition on the property there, and that the city may be called upon to pay for the proposed memorial.

After the Aldermen had voted to refuse the permit, Alderman Hoffman requested that the Claims and Rules Committee make a report regarding the rezoning of the ice company property. Alderman Rawson, chairman of the Claims Committee replied that he had asked some time ago that the report be referred back to the committee, that his request had been granted, and that the report will stay with the Claims and Rules Committee until that committee is ready to act. Hoffman replied by saying that while he did not intend to be discourteous to the committee, but a public hearing had been held on the zoning matter and the committee had made a report on it. Hoffman commented that he did not think that the way this matter is being handled is either legal or according to Hoyle. He moved that the report of the Claims and Rules Committee on the zoning be presented, and Alderman Hughes seconded the motion. Alderman Temperley referred to a promise that had been made by an attorney for those interested in the filling station petition that $1000 would be contributed toward cleaning up the debris of the old ice house, provided the permit for the gasoline station were granted. Temperley told of the hazards caused by having filling stations at dangerous locations. He produced a newspaper clipping which told of two men having been killed

Newton Police To Get Pistol Range

WPA officials in Boston on Monday approved plans for a Newton project which will permit the building of a revolver practise range for the Newton police department. It was planned to build this range over a year ago, but because its estimated cost was $17,000, WPA officials would not approve the project. Revised plans have reduced the estimated cost to $12,000. The range will be erected adjacent to the police headquarters on Washington st., West Newton, running along the Cherry st. side of the building. The police formerly practised revolver shooting in the State Armory at West Newton, but were deprived of this range about two years ago when the use of the armory was restricted to military purposes.

HIGHWAYS AND PARK SYSTEM OF LOCAL INTEREST

At public hearings at the State house next Tuesday two proposals of local interest will be considered. The Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles will hear proponents of a measure to relocate Route 128 so that it will not pass through the congested sections of Newton along Centre and Walnut streets. The new route proposed several years ago by the Metropolitan District Commission begins at the junction of the present Route 128 and the Worcester turnpike, just over the Wellesley line near Echo Bridge. The new road would follow the Wellesley side of the river, crossing to the Newton side near the aqueduct, thence by an underpass at Washington street across to Grove and Concord streets to Weston. Many Newton individuals, representatives of various organizations and interests, will attend the hearing. The Newton Chamber of Commerce, which introduced the proposed bill, will present arguments in favor of the relocation of this route.

The other proposal of local interest is the expansion of the Metropolitan Park system to include all cities and towns within 25 miles of Boston. About fifty years ago the park system was created by the legislature so that the maintenance of facilities available to cities and towns within the district could be equalized. The automobile age has so reduced boundaries which were adopted at that time that thousands of persons now living outside the park area use the beach, highway and other facilities provided by the assessment of costs upon the cities and towns within the area. The expansion of the area to a 25-mile limit would bring into the district towns as far south as Duxbury, as far north as Gloucester and as far west as Maynard. It would cost the seventy or more cities and towns about five cents per capita annually and would give the residents of every one of them access to a larger, more varied and better protected area. No new expenditure of funds is planned in the proposal as advocated by the trustees of public reservations and approved by the State Planning Board and special committees. Over a course of years a more closely integrated park system would result.

Powers' Paragraphs

Next Tuesday morning, March 25, at 10 o'clock, a hearing will be held at the State House, Boston, on House Bill 1074 for consideration of continuing Route 128. This is the State road which bears the imposing designation — "Circumferential Highway." It was partly constructed about 10 years ago when a section of it was completed from Highland ave. in Needham, near the Newton line, to Route 138 in Canton. Several years later that part of Route 128 from Route 138 to Route 37 in Braintree was widened and improved. During the past couple of years another section of Route 128 from the Newburyport turnpike in Lynnfield toward Beverly has been improved. Work is now in progress improving Route 128 from the Newburyport pike westerly toward Wakefield.

But, during the past 10 years and more, traffic on Route 128 has not been improved. It has been dumped through the center of the city, through the business sections of Newton Highlands and Newtonville, along congested Walnut st., thence over narrow streets in a thickly settled section of Waltham, and through a crowded section of Woburn. For years efforts have been made to construct that section of Route 128 which was planned from its present dead-end at the Worcester turnpike in Wellesley. This section would roughly follow the Charles River in Wellesley and Newton and continue through Weston toward Lexington. It would end the nuisance caused by Route 128 traversing business and congested areas in Newton and Waltham.

The principal cause for the failure of the State to construct this section of Route 128, as planned by the Metropolitan Planning Board, has been the increasing diversion of millions of dollars annually from the gasoline tax to cities and towns for other purposes. Huge amounts of money mulcted from owners of motor vehicles allegedly to improve and construct State highways, have for years been wrongly diverted to other purposes. To complicate matters there are demands this year for State highways to relieve congestion on roads leading to Camp Edwards and Fort Devens. So, unless a determined fight will be waged by Newton and Waltham citizens, and by representatives of these two cities in the Legislature, the chances are slight of the long delayed section of Route 128 being constructed this year from the dead-end at the Worcester pike northward.

President Roosevelt in his speech last Saturday night warned the people of the U. S. A. — "You will have to be content with lower profits from business, because obviously your taxes will be higher. You will have to work longer at your bench, or your plow, or your machine."

This admonition of the President did not bring a new realization to those millions of Americans who have done serious thinking the past couple of years. They have reasoned that the regimentation of workers in Germany and other totalitarian countries, with accompanying long hours and low wages was presenting competition both in production of military materials and articles for peaceful uses which would have to be met by greater efficiency and industry in this country.

But, the people of the U. S. A. will be more apt to pay higher taxes willingly, to face increased cost of living and longer hours of work if there will be a speedy cessation of high profits to those engaged in the manufacture of war materials and the construction of camps, and if there will be a speedy ending of the payment of extravagant wages to unskilled workers masquerading as expert mechanics. A large percentage of the people of this country will have to meet increased taxes and higher cost of living with incomes that will not be increased, and in many cases which will be decreased.

A number of our prominent commentators and columnists are making predictions regarding what Germany will do, what Britain will do, what President Roosevelt will do. It has been predicted that ships of the U. S. Navy will soon be used to convey across the Atlantic ships carrying supplies to Britain. In his speech on Saturday night the President said — "Upon the nation's will to sacrifice and to work, depends the output of our industry and our agriculture. Upon that will depend the survival of the vital bridge across the ocean — the bridge of ships which carry the arms and food for those who are fighting the good fight."

On Monday Winston Churchill announced that German submarines have been sinking ships as far west in the Atlantic as the 42nd meridian of longitude, and on that same day Lord Halifax, the British ambassador at Washington, gave the information (which he got it) that Germany is sending a long range submarine to operate near the American shore, probably off New York. Of course, these statements coming right after the President's remark were mere coincidences.

Hitler has asserted that Germany is to intensify its submarine and airplane attacks on shipping to Britain. Britain is appealing for more ships from the U. S. A., and British officials are asking for more warships from this country. If, and when U. S. naval vessels are used to convoy merchant ships across the Atlantic, it would not surprise us to see Britain at that time seize ports in Ireland as bases.

The City of Boston this week put into operation an ordinance which will curb the making of unnecessary noises in that city. This should be a boon to the large majority of inhabitants of that city. Modern, urban life has brought many comforts and conveniences. It has also brought many discomforts, and unnecessary noises are among the worst and most prevalent of them. The most annoying of unnecessary noises, probably the most common, is the blowing of horns on automobiles. Many years ago this State passed a law forbidding the unnecessary sounding of horns on motor vehicles. In recent years many cities have enacted ordinances prohibiting the blowing of automobile horns between late night and early morning hours.

Some years ago a West Newton resident petitioned for an ordinance in this city. He resided on Waltham st. over which a considerable amount of traffic passes. His petition was turned down by the Board of Aldermen. We commented at that time — that if the Aldermen resided on a street such as Waltham st., or Pearl st., or other streets over which much traffic passes, they would have passed the ordinance. Even on side streets the blowing of automobile horns is a nuisance. Inconsiderate, ornery operators of automobiles will stop in front of a house at midnight or after, and blow the horn on their vehicle to attract the attention of someone in that house for whom they have called. It doesn't matter a d— to the hornblower if he or she is awakening persons in other nearby houses or if they are disturbing sick persons. And the same thing can be said of the drivers of automobiles who blow horns at 6 or 7 o'clock mornings, when they stop their cars in front of a house to pick up a passenger. Many persons who work nights sleep late mornings, but this does not occur to the horn-blowing addicts.

The Boston anti-noise ordinance also deals with persons who keep barking dogs. There is a State law which provides for penalizing persons who keep barking dogs. It would be enforced more frequently but for the reluctance of decent people to make complaints against inconsiderate or selfish neighbors who own poorly trained dogs.

Greek residents and business men of Newton are justly proud of the heroic struggle their mother country has been waging against the huge armies of Italian invaders. No Greek in Newton is more enthusiastic in proclaiming the courage of his countrymen than is Paul Mihalakos of Carleton st., who with George Mouyas conducts the Newton Grill at Newton Corner. Good-natured, Mr. Mihalakos insists that the Greeks will continue to win and will successfully resist the might of the Nazi armies and air forces.

Paul is from Sparta and he asserts that the Greek soldiers of today are emulating the heroic deeds which made "Spartan" the synonym for courage for more than 2500 years. He refers to that rigid practice of the Spartans in exposing weak infants in the Apothetae so that a high standard of physical efficiency was maintained, and he predicts that the modern Greeks will be victorious over the forces of Hitler as the Greeks 24 centuries ago were over the armies and fleets of Xerxes. We admire the loyal optimism of Mr. Mihalakos and hope he is not too singular.

Now that the Board of Aldermen by a convincing majority has voted not to grant a permit for a gasoline filling station at 1365 Centre st., near Crystal Lake, it is up to Alderman McKay and the other proponents of the plan to use this site as a memorial to Rev. Samuel F. Smith to get busy. As was stated at a recent hearing on this matter before the Board of Aldermen, it will take some time to collect contributions for this memorial, but we believe it can be done.

It was intimated at the recent hearing before the Aldermen on the petition for the filling station permit that the owners of the property may demand an exorbitant price for the land. This intimation came from one of the opponents of the petition. We do not believe that the owners of the property would resort to this expedient. To do so would not be good judgment by a business concern which must court the good-will of the public. The city can, of course, take the property, but we don't favor this method unless it is necessary to resort to it in order to obtain the property at a fair market value.

The fight over granting of this petition last year, and the early months of this year, was one of the most stubborn we have witnessed in the Board of Aldermen for over a decade. While the agreement by the owners of the property to allow a change of zone on the site of the former ice house from manufacturing to residence, undoubtedly influenced some of the Aldermen who changed from having been opponents of a gasoline station at 1365 Centre st. to proponents, because it would remove the eyesore which has existed for 8 years at this place, this compromising was properly condemned by other members of the Board of Aldermen and residents of Wards 5 and 6, who argued that the Rumor has it that Rev. Wolcott Calkins of Eliot Church has asked his people for a leave of absence of 6 months to recuperate his health. He has a tempting offer to preach in the American Chapel in Paris for 3 months.

We hear that the party of Newton people which recently left on a tour to Mexico in a private car, has switched off for California. They are evidently having a fine time and don't want pie at home.

Watertown has gone no-license. The regulars who went there daily from Newton for whiskey, must now extend their trips to Cambridge or Boston. Now that rum has been cleaned out of Watertown, Newton should turn its attention to Tremont st., at its Brighton border, and appeal to the new Boston Police Commissioners to refuse licenses there, and keep rum out of Newton.

Tuesday morning George Wallace's fine St. Bernard dog, "Rat," was struck by an inward bound train at Newtonville and killed.

Patrick Lynch, 17 years old, an employee in the Nonantum Worsted Mills, had his right hand badly crushed in a machine Tuesday afternoon. It had to be amputated.

The boys of Engine 3 at Newton Center gave a supper on Tuesday evening and a jolly time was had by the 35 present.

Last week, Wednesday, there was a hearing at the State House on a petition from the City of Newton for an act enabling the city to license plumbers.

The Board of Health has issued an order prohibiting the keeping of swine without a license in the following areas: — Wards 1a and 7, within a radius of ½ mile from the railroad station; Ward 2, within ½ mile from the railroad station; Ward 3, ½ mile of City Hall; Ward 4, ½ mile of B & A station; Ward 5, ½ mile of Hamilton School; Ward 5, ½ mile of Prospect School; and ½ mile of B & A station, Newton Highlands; Ward 6, ½ mile of B & A station.

As one of the new stations on the circuit branch of the B & A railroad is to be called "Waban," why can't another of the stations be called "Elit," as a testimonial to a great man?

Several rifles (dummy) of the Newton High School battalion, have been missing since the prize drill at Armory Hall on February 23, and anyone having information about them will please give notice to Adjutant Greene.

Newton's new clubhouse is an assured fact. The plans for the new Newton Club building will be ready on April 1 and work will start on May 1. The building will be located at the corner of Walnut st. and Highland ave., Newtonville, and will cost $755,000 without the furnishings.

Newton may in the near future have an Old People's Home as the will of the late Joseph L. Stone of West Newton leaves a legacy for the erection of one or more buildings as a home for aged men and women in indigent circumstances. It is to be called the Stone Institute. The will provides that half of a fund of $68,000 shall be used for a building and the other half to be invested as a maintenance fund.

We hear a rumor that George H. Ellis, not being satisfied with owning the surface of Crystal Lake, has with the assistance of a Newton Center lawyer, become the owner of it all from the surface to the ground underneath. Mr. Ellis would become a large land owner if such is the case. However, the affair has been kept very quiet for some reason or another.

Joseph Levine of Roxbury who has purchased the Scales property at the corner of Centre and Church sts., Newton, and who has just been refused a building permit to erect an apartment house of 12 suites there, has asked the Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus to compel Building Commissioner Walter Forbush to issue the same.

Fred Harwood of Willard st., Newton was the victim of a peculiar accident while waiting for a train on Thursday morning at the Newton depot. A passing express train threw a piece of ice which hit Mr. Harwood on the face, knocking him down and badly cutting and bruising his face.

While the city may receive full value for the money to be paid out for the proposed investigation of municipal departments, too much emphasis should not be given to a report made by a young college professor who is seeking a reputation along these lines. As a rule our city departments suffer at present from application of academic and theoretical ideas of some members of the city government and groups of citizens who sometimes influence them.

Rotary Club

Dr. Lucius Porter, professor of philosophy at Yenching University, Peking, China, was the speaker at this week's meeting of the Newton Rotary Club. He related some experiences in trying to run a Christian university in a city garrisoned by the Japanese and told several incidents of the difficulties in dealing with the Chinese Puppet rulers, who are in turn completely dominated by the Japanese military authorities.

Yenching University is a Protestant, inter-denominational and international college founded twenty-five years ago with the consolidation of three smaller schools. The first year of the present war, 1937, the enrollment was 600 students but has since grown to 1100. No small part of the university's ability to carry on under present conditions is due to the diplomatic ability of President Leighton Stuart and of Dr. Porter. The university is now subsidized in part by the free government of West China which recognizes the need for trained leaders in the reconstruction period that will follow the war.

A most remarkable feature of the war, according to Dr. Porter, is the strong moral resistance of the Chinese people and the new national heroism that has arisen in the past few years. The Chinese army and the guerilla bands have immobilized a force of two million Japanese. The only parts of China completely occupied are the cities and rivers which are garrisoned by the Japanese military. Every other part of China has its own county and village groups which are better organized than ever before. Under the motto, "Resist and Renew," the Chinese resistance is growing every month while long range plans are being formed for a recreated rural and social life later.

Charles A. Meeker was in charge of the program and the speaker was introduced by Arthur G. Robinson, a former member of the club. President John M. Cahill presided.

The Newton Y. M. C. A. is host today to a gathering of Y. M. C. A. secretaries and college students, interested in the Y. M. C. A. secretaryship as a career. Heading the program will be Mr. Leslie Thompson, National Personnel Secretary, who will speak at the opening session on "The Y. M. C. A. Secretaryship." In addition to the opening address, talks on various phases of Y. M. C. A. work will be given by secretaries, experienced in their own fields. The closing part of the conference will be turned over to interviews of the young men by the different secretaries. It is hoped by a conference of this type to find men who are interested and fitted for Y. M. C. A. secretaryship.

Last Wednesday night the Board of Directors and their wives, secretaries and wives, trustees and wives plus the officers of the auxiliary and their husbands had a very enjoyable dinner and informal party at the Y. Over sixty people were present. Mr. Sayford Bacon was chairman of the affair assisted by Mrs. Arnold Barker, of the Auxiliary.

The Camp committee will meet on Monday night at 8:15 for a meeting. Mr. C. D. Kepner will be in charge of the meeting and Mr. Evan Johnson, camp director, will be present to discuss plans for the coming season. An informal splash party and dance is being planned by some of the young men in the membership for Saturday night, March 29th at the Y. Heading the committee are Arthur Linthwaite, Ernest Groves and Andy Kaspar Jr.

Boy's Division

The Framingham Hi Y met last Wednesday evening at the Y for a basketball game and swim. On Thursday night the Tri Hi held a Mothers' Nite, at which meeting they invited their mothers. Dinner was served at 6:30 followed by entertainment and a Tri Hi induction ceremony. The final Boy Scout swimming meet was held on Friday night. This completes the series of meets that have been held for the past five weeks.

The Watertown Tri Hi will meet at their regular meeting on Monday night. Miss Helen Beale will be the speaker.

The two-state wrestling meet will be held this evening at Newton with Y teams from Mass. and Rhode Island participating. Newton expects to have a strong team representation.

Letters To The Editor

HIGHWAY EXTENSION

To the Editor:

Upon next Tuesday, March 25th, at 10 a. m. at the State House, Boston, there will be a hearing upon House Bill Number 1074 for the consideration of continuing of Highway Route No. 128.

Route 128, planned as a circumferential highway, has been completed in part as far as the Worcester Turnpike. Then it stops looking into space over the open lands which are an invitation to continue and relieve the City of Newton of unwarranted congestion.

To review the route now taken by those who desire to pass to points north we can start at the "Pike" at the junction of Needham st., thence as follows to Needham st., to Center st. to Walnut st. through the business district of Newton Highlands, thence over Walnut st., passing the Newton Cemetery and City Hall to the congested area of the Newton Schools to the business center at Newtonville. Thence over the Boston & Albany railroad across Washington st. passing another school and continuing to the Waltham line. There are many turns and traffic lights to be encountered in this route through Newton and if rapid traffic is desired in this defense period it would seem as if this congested route was not up to the modern standard. Newton people knew about this traffic hazard and it should be possible to convince the legislature that this is a very important project that should be undertaken at once.

The legislature meets now once in two years and every reason should be presented to the end that the proposed route to the west of these congested centers will be assured. Traffic is most important especially in this period of defense when delays of men and materials are important. If you have any ideas upon this subject, they should be transmitted to the proper official representatives.

HERBERT J. KELLAWAY.

GRATEFUL FOR BOOKS

Editor,
The Newton Graphic,
Newton, Mass.

Dear Sir:

Kindly extend to the people of Newton the sincere gratitude of the soldiers of the 101st Infantry for the excellent collection of books and magazines brought down today by Fire Chief Clarence Randlett and his aides, Messrs. Halewood and Orleans. Newton men are now scattered throughout the regiment, the largest number, outside of Co. C, being some fifty men in Co. L so I am informed.

If any of your readers are inclined to go further in this matter they may be interested to know that our war point is in non-fiction, such as history, science and languages. Many of the men would like to improve their education along these lines. Books may be left at any fire station in Newton. Please mark for 101st Infantry.

Gratefully yours,

JOHN SHADE FRANKLIN,
1st Lt., Chaplain and Librarian,

May I take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to you and through you to the other patriotic citizens of Newton who were responsible for the gift of this very excellent booklet, "The Key to the Constitution of the United States."

I have gone over the material contained in this booklet and feel that it is very well set up and of exceedingly good value. The sketches are excellent and pique one's interest. We have distributed copies to the pupils in the high school and they have been received with much interest.

Again, may I thank you for your generosity on behalf of the school. With best wishes, I am

Dear Mr. Brimblecom:
I received the copies of the "Key to the United States Constitution" for distribution to the young people of our Temple and I wish to extend to you my gratitude.

I feel that this is a splendid idea, and that the work you are doing to disseminate greater knowledge about the Constitution of our country and the foundations upon which our great nation are built can bear nothing but good and wholesome fruit. Especially in these days of crisis when the principles and ideals of democracy and liberty are being attacked on all sides does your effort in the dissemination of knowledge concerning the greatness of our traditions become increasingly important and worth while. I acclaim your efforts and wish you success.

Thanking you again for the books and assuring you of my wholehearted cooperation in the future, I remain

Kiwanis Club

Speaker at the meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club held last Tuesday noon was the Reverend Ramkrishna Shahu Nodak, Pastor of the First Church of Amhednegar, India. He is also a former Moderator of the Bombay United Church of India, and a former member of the Bombay Legislative Council. The speaker was introduced by Reverend Warren Daniel Hall, former pastor of the Old South Church in Windsor, Vermont.

Reverend Nodak spoke on the present day situation in India. He said that India consisted of 4,000,000 people crowded into an area one half the size of the United States. Top governmental offices are filled by British, but the actual administrative work is done entirely by Indians. Agriculture is exceedingly important, but today industry is rapidly increasing. The largest steel plant in the entire British Empire is located in India.

The Reverend Nodak is a personal friend of Lord Halifax, and called on him in Washington last week. In discussing the difference between American life and Indian life, Reverend Nodak said that he receives the impression in this country that machines are the important thing, and that a man is judged by the worldly goods which he possesses. In India the individual is considered the important thing, and his station in life is judged by what he can do with no regard to his possessions.

He outlined the fact that employment in India was steady and that the people do not feel particularly concerned about the European war. They feel that this is Europe's problem, but they are co-operating with England very definitely, because if they must be ruled from Europe, they would prefer to be ruled by England rather than by the central powers. Reverend Nodak feels that India has the ability to rule herself, and that the time will come when she will be entirely independent.

President Raymond Green called attention to the Kiwanis International Convention which is going to be held at Atlanta, Georgia, on June 15th-19th this year.

Special music, consisting of an instrumental quartet was supplied under the direction of Haydn Morgan, Musical Instructor for the Newton schools. Several numbers were played by four students of the Newton High School.

High Country Trees Are Inferior in Lowlands

Forest experience shows that individual trees of the same species vary widely in rate of growth, branching habits, strength and stiffness of wood, resistance to cold and drought, and to insect attack and disease. Such characteristics, both favorable and unfavorable to good growth, are handed down through the seed.

The forest service points out that the importance of the careful use of seed suitable for best results in tree culture has been demonstrated time and again in growing experiments on national forests. One test dates back to 1912, when ponderosa pine planting stock from several regions varying widely in climate and altitude was planted at the Priest River experimental forest in northern Idaho. In their new surroundings, the young trees persisted in developing characteristics of their faraway parents.

In another forest service experiment, Douglas fir seed was collected in 13 widely separated localities in Oregon and Washington, grown to seedling size in a nursery and then planted in four different localities at four different altitudes. Stock from high altitude parents tends to do poorly on lower ground but grows well on different soils of similar climate and altitude.

Other experiments have demonstrated geographic adaptability strains in trees of many other species. These tree-growing experiments have been conducted in several of the 27 national forest nurseries which produce more than 160,000,000 trees a year, and use 25 tons of "pedigreed seeds" annually.

Coast Guard Established Before Navy Was Born

The United States Coast Guard was 150 years old in August, 1940. Antedating the United States navy, it was established to combat smuggling before the new nation felt the need of naval defenses. Later the coast guard took over the life saving operations, and recently the lighthouse service has been added to its functions.

Duties of the coast guard are multifarious; they may be summoned to save lives and property and enforce the laws at sea and in navigable waters generally. Their regular schedule includes the escort of fur seal fleets on their annual trek to the Pribilof, voyages of mercy to the natives of northern Alaska and representing the government in enforcing the international whaling convention in the Antarctic.

Coast guard pilots fly out to sea to locate vessels in distress or to rush stricken seamen shoreward to hospitals, while a storm at sea is a signal for emergency operations for all branches of the service. During war the complete facilities are transferred to the navy.

Meanings of Words Change

The word "highball" has developed widely separated meanings in America. It was originally a gambling game; later it became a baseball term, a tall alcoholic drink, and a railroad "go" signal. "Mexican monte, keno, faro, high ball, etc., are the prevailing games in Socorro, and everybody indulges," Editor's Run in New Mexico said in 1881. A pitch higher than the batsman's belt but lower than his shoulder was called a highball by Chadwick in 1885. In 1898 the New York Journal stated that "Evening dress and khaki talked much sport and a little war over 'high balls' or chicken livers." By 1913 Dialect Notes found that a sentence like "The conductor gave the engineer the 'highball' to go ahead," was in good railroad usage. The above was gleaned from the tenth section of the University of Chicago Press' new American-English dictionary.

Invents Airplane Radio

A University of Washington graduate, Moulton Taylor, has invented an airplane radio, which he claims is cheaper, smaller and perhaps even more efficient than those now in use. His innovation is especially designed for the light airplanes now used in student training programs. One set is so small that it can be carried from plane to plane. He has organized a company to manufacture these radios, and he claims that the company already has more orders than it can fill. He hopes to obtain a government contract soon. And among his employees is one who made the headlines of most every newspaper in the country a few years back. He is Douglas Corrigan, who gained considerable fame with his "Wrong Way" Corrigan flight.

Watt Did Watt Invent?

Watt did not invent the steam engine, as we have been led to believe, according to a man in Dallas, Texas. He says that in "Hero's Pneumatics," written about 120 B. C., can be found descriptions of steam turbines, fountains, etc. He also has proof, he claims, that in 1650 the marquis of Worcester utilized a steam fountain to raise water; in 1690 Denis Papin suggested the cylinder-and-piston engine; in 1698 Thomas Savery patented a water-raising steam engine. Thomas Newcomen and John Calley, in 1705, he claims, made a practical steam engine and in 1763 James Watt added various valuable improvements to this engine which had been in use before his birth.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS REGAINS P. O. LEAD

In a tight match with both teams manifesting the nervous strain expected because the league championship practically hung in the balance, Newton Highlands took 3 points from Newton and are now one ahead in the Postal Employees Bowling League. The last string resulted in a tie and the roll was won by Highlands, as well as the pinfall by three pins. Both teams rolled below par with spares being rare, owing to the noise of the large number of rooters on hand and the closeness of the score at all times throughout the match. With but three easy matches remaining the Highlands should now breeze through to the pennant.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, March 23, on the subject: "Matter."

The Golden Text will be: "All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field: the grass withereth, the flower fadeth; because the spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it" (Isaiah 40:6, 7). Bible selections will include the following passage from 1 John 2:15, 17: "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. . . . And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health" with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "The fading forms of matter, the mortal body and material earth, are the fleeting concepts of the human mind. They have their day before the permanent facts and their perfection in Spirit appear" (pp. 263, 264).

One-Way Traffic

First traffic regulation for one-way traffic appears to have been established in New York city, December 17, 1791, when a regulation incidental to a performance at the John Street theater requested that "Ladies and gentlemen will order their coachmen to take up and sit down with their horse heads to the East River to avoid confusion."

THE COMIC STRIP adventures of "NAPOLEON" and his round master "UNCLE ELBY" are additional reasons why more and more people, these days, are reading THE BOSTON GLOBE.

RECENT DEATHS

NELLIE A. RUST

Mrs. Nellie A. Rust, of 42 Oakwood rd., Newtonville, widow of Eugene Rust, who was formerly general manager of the Kansas City stock yards, died on March 16 at St. Petersburg, Florida. She was born in Kenduskeag, Maine, 87 years ago, the daughter of Isaac W. and Pamela (Gillman) Case. She married Mr. Rust in 1874 and they resided in Belfast, Me., until 1881 when they moved to Kansas City. After the death of Mr. Rust in 1912 she joined her sons in the East and made her home in Newtonville. Throughout her life Mrs. Rust engaged in many charitable and civic activities, particularly her church interests. In later years she spent her winters in the South.

Mrs. Rust is survived by two sons, Frederick W. Rust of Newtonville, and Donald E. Rust of Boston; a daughter, Mrs. Eldon C. Hemenway of New York; four grandchildren; and two great grandchildren. A private funeral service was held on Wednesday at the home of her son, Fred W. Rust, 98 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville.

JESSIE A. SOUTHARD

Miss Jessie A. Southard of 343 Crafts st., Newtonville, died on March 14 at Palmer Memorial Hospital. She was born in Fairfax, Vermont, 45 years ago and graduated from the University of Vermont in 1916. She taught at Montpelier High School before coming to teach English at Newton High School about 10 years ago. She organized the verse speaking choir at that school. Miss Southard's funeral service was held on Monday at St. Albans, Vermont, and burial was in Fairfax. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Southard of Fairfax.

A Tribute

In the passing of Miss Jessie A. Southard, Newton High School has lost a teacher who stood for the highest ideals in education and in the art of living. For ten years she gave of her time and strength, without thought of herself, to the up-building of youth, who came to appreciate the high standards she maintained for them. Never was she satisfied with anything she believed less than the best of a pupil's capacity, both in work and in character. She brought to her classes the qualities that are traditional of a daughter of her beloved Vermont: industry, thoroughness, directness, conscientiousness, loyalty, courage. Even to the last she evinced a genuine interest in the school and in her friends old and young. The many friends who visited her hospital bedside in the four months of her illness will never forget her gay cheerfulness and her fortitude in her acceptance of the inevitable. Such a character leaves the lives with whom it comes in contact stronger and better.

In her class work Miss Southard was most successful, for she taught boys and girls rather than books. Her interest in her pupils never waned. Not a month ago she wrote to congratulate a Montpelier pupil upon receiving a prize for her first novel, and was thanked by the young author for her fine understanding of its theme. In Room 131 many pupils traveled to distant lands in rare company, and richly increased vocabularies opened new worlds of thought. On all hands we hear from former pupils tributes to the value of her teaching as a preparation for whatever course each has since pursued. These appreciations in words and gifts made her very happy, and up to a week ago notes, gracious and gay, acknowledged the gifts that daily came to her room.

A FELLOW TEACHER.

Cities Enact Their Own Civil Service Agencies

The 869 municipal civil service agencies in the country are set up on a wide variety of legal bases and under many types of organization, the Civil Service Assembly of the United States and Canada reported recently.

Known by more than 50 different terms—"civil service commissions"—the agencies may be set up by the state constitution, by an act of legislature, by municipal charter or by a local ordinance.

In California, for example, a city whose voters have approved a civil service charter amendment must obtain permission—usually a formality—from the state legislature before civil service becomes effective, although cities may install merit systems by ordinance. In Ohio, the constitution requires that city civil service commissions be established for selecting employees in all municipal departments.

Provisions in the civil service acts of Minnesota, New York, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Wisconsin authorize the state personnel agencies to render technical and administrative service to local jurisdictions for a fee.

More than three-fourths of all city civil service agencies are of the three-member type, appointed so as to provide overlapping terms and, thus, to further continuity of policy, according to the survey. Commissions of five members are next high in number. Most of the municipal civil service commissioners hold office for six years, and in a few cities the commissioners serve at the pleasure of the appointing authority.

Many civil service commissions, especially in the smaller cities, do not employ an executive officer, but elect one of their own members to serve in that capacity. In the larger cities the trend is toward the appointment of a trained, salaried executive to handle all administrative work.

Many Freakish Exhibits Never Enter Museums

Museums get many amusing and freakish offers to place on exhibition and purchase odd, unique, historical, etc., things, but in most cases, the offers are turned down for various reasons; mostly because they are not bona fide curios and because in many instances the sellers ask too high a price.

As a matter of fact, museums don't even accept everything that is offered to them free. To accept a specimen, means postage, express or freight, correspondence, cataloging, printing of gift, name of giver and other details, all of which would entail considerable expense.

One woman offered to sell her husband's body which "is petrified, and as he was no good to me in life, I should like to turn him into cash as a curiosity or as phosphate." This offer was made to the New York Museum of Natural History.

Another offered the Pittsburgh museum a complete set of hair clipped from each of the former German royal family including Kaiser Wilhelm. A New York jeweler offered T. R. Roosevelt's tooth, set in a circle of diamonds. And in New Jersey, a man wanted to sell to a museum, the "original" apple with which Eve tempted Adam.

Gadget Guesses Weather

If an ultra-modern device, now in use by the United States weather bureau, comes up to expectations, the word, "probably" in weather forecasts, will become almost extinct and weather conditions for a week ahead will be forecast with accuracy. The new gadget is called "radio-sonde." It was developed by the bureau of standards, weighs two pounds and is attached to a balloon from five to six feet in diameter. The device can reach an elevation of 70,000 feet. In the air, the machine transmits radio signals picked up at weather bureau stations on the ground and from these signals, men who listen, can tell by their sound and frequency just what the air pressure, temperature and humidity is at the altitude from which the automatic device is broadcasting.

Billiards in Texas

Texas is, perhaps, the only state in the Union that outlaws commercialization of the pool and billiard parlor. But for that matter, Texas is the lone state that makes it a misdemeanor to play cards on trains for no stakes. For a matter of two decades it has been a misdemeanor in Texas to operate such a parlor where a fee is charged for the use of the table. Operators of these recreational parlors insist on the entire respectability of their premises, but the repeal they seek can only be found in repeal of the law which Texas so far, sets its face stubbornly against. The irony of it all is that in nearly every club in Texas the game is played, but is banned to commercial use. No wonder operators of these places are up in arms against raids.

Smallest Motor

Three thousand revolutions per minute and a consumption of five one-thousandth watt are attained by the smallest electrical motor in the world, no bigger than a match head, recently exhibited in Zurich, Switzerland.

Government Studies Fit Of Children's Clothes

Children, hereafter, will wear clothes that fit them, if the U. S. government has anything to say about it. Until now manufacturers didn't use patterns that were accurate, aside from skimping on materials. As a result the outfits they turned out were either too big or too small for the boys and girls they were supposed to fit.

But Uncle Sam has corrected all this. With the aid of manufacturers, state universities and other agencies, the government recently completed the measurements of more than 100,000 children to find out just what a dress or a pair of pants for a certain age should be in terms of length and breadth.

These officials measured the youngsters from all describable angles and from all this laborious work arrived at a set of standards that should make things easier for fathers and mothers who have to buy children's clothes. The survey was conducted in eight states, with about 12,000 youngsters scaled in each of these states.

The measurements have been filed away in the bureau of economics, a branch of the department of agriculture and are now available to manufacturers who are willing to co-operate with the government in seeing that American children are dressed with the right fitting clothes.

Poor Sunglasses Cause Eye Strain, Astigmatism

Last summer a fad of wearing colored glasses was created by movie stars and other prominent persons who got behind the smoked glasses at first to hide, and then continued to wear them because of the air of mysterious glamour they afforded. The more hideous and streamlined were the blinders, the smarter they were considered, and many girls had different colored ones to match their wardrobes.

Inferior quality sun glasses, made from celluloid, poor blown or pressed glass, will add irregular astigmatism, myopia, hyperopia, or prismatic imbalance to the refractive mechanism. Consequently, they only increase the strain produced by the glare. The best advice to give on this score is: Buy your sun glasses from a reputable source and insist upon good quality, ground and polished protection lenses, and, if necessary, ground with your correct prescription.

Some advice which may save you trouble is that sun glasses are designed for day wear and should not be worn for night driving, as they lower visibility too much. As yet, no glass has been made which will overcome the glare of auto headlights and still be safe.

New Ore Fields

Alaska this year will produce between 50 and 60 tons of tin, and government geologists are reported to have found new fields of the ore in Arctic Alaska, Jack Underwood, manager of the Washington, D. C., bureau of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, announced recently. The known fields are being surveyed thoroughly and if the deposits are extensive enough a tin smelter plant may be erected in the Puget sound country. Miners have known of the existence of tin in Alaska for years, but since they were looking for gold, they didn't bother with it. Practically all of Alaska's tin ore is being produced at Tin City, in the Cape Prince of Wales area.

Underwood reports that a big force of government geologists is making a complete survey of Alaska's strategic mineral resources, with the hope of also finding chrome, which now comes from West Africa, and manganese, imported largely from Russia and Brazil.

He declared that some chrome is being mined in the Cook's inlet district and that quicksilver has been discovered in the Kuskokwim river area.

Cut Tetanus Death Rate

A plan of management which has reduced the tetanus death rate to 29 per cent as contrasted with the usual 50 to 70 per cent has been announced by Dr. Wyman L. Vener and Dr. Albert G. Bower of Los Angeles. The death rate was only 19.3 per cent for patients who survived the first 24 hours in the hospital, Dr. Vener said. Each tetanus patient is regarded as a surgical emergency, he declared, and regardless of the mildness of symptoms, immediate action is taken. "The prime object in the management of tetanus is to administer a minimum dose of 200,000 units of antitoxin in a definite period of 24 to 36 hours," he said.

'Borax Line' Ends

Abandonment of the Tonopah and Tidewater railroad has been announced. It was known as the famous "Death Valley's 'Borax Line'" since the 20-mile-team days. Permission for giving up the "ghost" of the once-a-week mixed train service on 169 miles of track from Cruero, Calif., to Beatty, Nev., was granted under a railroad commission order. Since "borax" shipments stopped 12 years ago, the railroad has been pared to a skeleton system. The road had a payroll of 40 employees, with only 778 persons living in the strip 10 miles on either side of the line.

granting of a filling station permit should be decided on its own merits. It has been suggested that the Aldermen take action to compel the razing of the burned stable on Norwood ave., as they have taken action recently to compel the razing of other unsightly buildings in this city.

The danger to democracies is not alone from without by aggressive dictators. It is also from within by corrupt holders of public offices and by venal citizens who will conspire with such politicians in graft and bribery. So all good citizens who have concern for the future of this country, will approve of the conviction and punishment of any public official who solicits and receives bribes, and by so doing adds to the tax burdens of the people who placed trust in him. But why should not the men (some of whom also held public office) who gave the bribes also be prosecuted and punished? Why should all the bribe givers receive immunity from punishment because they squealed?

Human nature does not change in its essentials through the years. We are having many repetitions now of things which were in evidence during the World War when this country entered it in 1917. At that time young men who openly objected to being drafted into military service were severely criticised by many, and other young men obtained the credit of patriotic courage by enlisting in the army or navy. But through influence those I refer to were assigned to duties that would assure them being kept far from combat and hazards. Now we read of sons of prominent fathers enlisting in the "armed services" of the U. S. A., but in branches of such services that will keep them on terra firma, or far from front lines. The "arms" they will use will be pens or typewriters.

Radio Commentator To Speak At Newton Ctr. Father's Night

Howard Pierce Davis, well known Columbia Broadcasting commentator and news analyst, will speak to the "Fathers' Night" audience of the Newton Centre School Association in the Mason School auditorium next Wednesday evening, March 26th.

The program is planned for all who appreciate news first-hand. Mr. Davis has spent nearly a decade in Europe where he has interviewed Hitler, Goering, Blum, Count Ciano, Herbert Morrison and others. Through close observation he has been aware of the political and social maneuvers which culminated in this second world conflict. He was still abroad to witness the fall of Warsaw and the evacuation of Paris.

In Latin America this summer, Mr. Davis caught up with events that tied in with world affairs as they affect the Western hemisphere. In Cuba as an observer at the Havana conference he broadcast eye witness accounts over a nationwide network, and filled the place, by request, of Mr. Lyman Bryson, regular moderator of "The Peoples Platform." C. B. S. weekly forum of public opinion.

Radio Stations Change Frequency Tomorrow Morning

When Mr. and Mrs. Average American switch on their radios Saturday, March 23—any time after 3 a. m.—they will be due for a surprise. They will learn that most of the stations they regularly listen to are no longer in their usual positions on the dial. There will be just one exception in the Boston stations—WEEI—which will remain at 590 kilocycles.

WHDH, now heard at 830, will shift to 850; WORL, now on 920, will go to 950; WBZ changes from 990 to 1030; WCOP, which now broadcasts on 1120, will be heard at 1150; WNAC is now heard at 1230, but will shift to 1260; WAAB, now on 1410, will go to 1440; WMEX, now on 1470, will be heard in future at 1510.

All stations affected by the frequency change have made necessary tests and installed new equipment essential to proper operation on their new frequencies.

Most important item in the individual station's transmitting equipment is its crystal, a frequency-stabilizing device of quartz, maintained at constant temperature in an electric oven.

The crystal may well be called the "policeman" of the transmitter. Its sole function is to keep its station on the exact frequency assigned to it by the Federal Communications Commission, radio's supreme authority in this country—often referred to as the "FCC."

Reason for the frequency changes is the North American Radio Conference, held in Havana, Cuba, from November 1 to December 13, 1937. This conference resulted in the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement, governing the distribution of the 106 "channels" in the broadcast band, which ranges from 550 to 1600 kilocycles.

The treaty was ratified by Cuba December 22, 1937; United States, June 15, 1938; Canada, November 29, 1938; Mexico, December 28, 1939 and goes into effect March 29, 1941. The treaty remains in effect for five years.

The Havana Conference may be classed as a meeting of North American radio executives for the purpose of evolving a workable wavelength allocation system, to "clear" certain channels used by specific stations in specific countries.

The main thing to bear in mind is the fact that on all automatic push-button radios, the buttons must be reset so that favorite programs may be heard at their correct dial settings—a change made for the North American radio public in the interests of better radio reception.

Newton Third In February Building

Newton rated third among cities of Massachusetts in residential construction during the month of February, and it was actually first so far as single residences were concerned. Boston was first with $388,800, but this was largely a Federal Housing project. Brookline was second with $242,000, including 8 apartment buildings. Newton was third, with 19 residences; their estimated cost $105,700. Springfield was fourth with $78,350.

Recent Events

The Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. James G. Patterson, president of the Auburndale Review Club, presided at the business meeting, when this group met Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, 45 Woodland rd.

After reports by committee chairmen she turned the program over to Mrs. Ernest F. Drew who had changed the date for her paper with Mrs. F. F. Davidson who is in Florida at present. Mrs. Drew read her own paper first, and on her subject "South America Views Us" she gave the impressions of several South Americans, including a clergyman, several journalists, a statesman and a teacher in a Chilean University.

Not at all flattering to this country were their criticisms, but they were backed by facts regrettably too true. The conduct of American tourists in South America, the showing of many of the "run of the mill" movies on their screens, and editorials in our newspapers, were among the causes for criticism.

Mrs. William Tenney followed with a paper on "Rio de Janeiro" and she described this city which is older than any in the United States, as comparing most favorably with our large cities. Modern buildings, up-to-date displays in shop windows and roads winding through a country which resembled tropical gardens, was her description.

She showed a collection of feather flowers which came from Rio, also a watch, the case of blue enamel, beautifully inlaid. An interesting part of her paper included her description of their annual festival which is held the three days before Easter and is a very colorful affair.

Miss Alice Dike brought the morning to a close with her talk on "Conquest of Disease." Yellow fever and malaria, both formerly a menace to native and tourist, have been studied by the Rockefeller Foundation together with South American scientists, and the discovery that mosquitoes are largely to blame for the spread of infection, has led to a control of these insects in many of the infested places, and the use of vaccination with serum to prevent it from becoming virulent, has greatly minimized the danger of both these diseases.

Before adjourning the club, Mrs. Patterson reminded the group of the bridge for philanthropic purposes at her home on Friday afternoon. The next meeting will be two weeks later at the home of Mrs. Edward Kelly, 91 Central st.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The chorus of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club under the direction of Florence Hale Ginn presented an afternoon of music, Tuesday, at 2:30 o'clock in the Congregational Church parish house. The chorus was accompanied by Elizabeth Fairchild Cash.

Anna B. Eichhorn, violinist, assisted the chorus and played a group of violin solos.

The program included arrangements of Stephen Foster's music sung in costumes of the American Civil War period. Members of the club chorus participating included Mrs. Harry P. Forte, Miss Madeline Cobb, Mrs. Kenneth J. Waite, Mrs. George L. Gogan, Mrs. Frederick H. Knight, Mrs. Theron B. Walker, Mrs. Richard F. Pickett, Mrs. Robert D. Flansburg, Mrs. Dana B. Turner and Mrs. George P. Frost.

Others were Mrs. Mildred Sircorn, Mrs. Vincent H. Mariotti, Mrs. M. Raymond Smith, Mrs. John H. Scammon, Mrs. William Murdoch, Mrs. Osborne E. Brown, Mrs. Everett L. Bunker and Mrs. Ford Osborne.

Mrs. Roger C. Ellis and members of the Art committee sponsored an exhibition of hooked rugs—in the Art Corner. Members of the club exhibiting were: Mrs. Donald D. McKay, Mrs. Walter E. Decker, Mrs. B. R. Gilbert and Mrs. Robert Maltos.

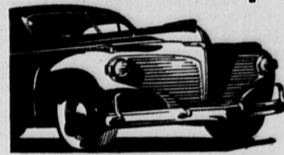

Newtonville Woman's Club

President's Day was observed by the Newtonville Woman's Club at a meeting on Tuesday, March 18th, at the Clubhouse. The usual business routine was omitted as the afternoon was overflowing with activity and entertainment. The meeting opened with the Salute to the Flag and the singing of "God Bless America." Seated on the platform with Mrs. Frank E. Morris, Club President, were Mrs. David A. Westcott, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. James Dunlop, Twelfth District Director, and Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Morris warmly welcomed and introduced each guest who responded briefly.

Mrs. Westcott and Mrs. Dunlop brought greetings from their respective districts and Mrs. Pearson, a member of the Newtonville Club, expressed her delight at being home again if only for a short time.

Mrs. Raymond A. Green, Program Chairman, presented the guest artists, Reginald and Gladys Laubin, honorary members of the Hunkpapa Sioux Tribe of Indians, in a program of American Indian Lore and Folk Dances. School Pays Tribute to Miss Southard

The assembly on Wednesday morning included a memorial service for Miss Jessie A. Southard of the English Department, who died on March 14. Mr. Green, the principal, read a tribute to her work in the school and her character. The Verse-Speaking Choir, which was founded and trained by Miss Southard, recited selections from the Psalms, selections which she had made and had used on several public appearances of the group. At the conclusion of the service, Mr. Green asked the entire audience to dedicate a moment's silence to the memory of a respected and beloved teacher.

At its last meeting, the Debating Club was privileged to hear four former officers of the club, and at present students at Harvard debate on the topic Resolved: that a British victory is essential to the welfare of the United States. The participants were Hollis Wyman '44, and Sid Guberman '42, who upheld the affirmative, and Vahe Sarafian '44 and Tom O'Toole '42, who argued for the negative. Last year Tom won a cup for being the outstanding college debater in New England. The meeting was presided over by the vice-president, Alice Sarafian.

Haydn M. Morgan, director of music in the Newton schools attended a musical and literary contest held in Columbus, Ohio, February 22, under the auspices of the Central Ohio Elisteddof Association.

Mr. Taylor has just been invited to serve on the School Tennis Development Committee of the U. S.
L. T. A. (U. S. Lawn Tennis Association) by Holcombe Ward, president of the association. He is the only public school representative on the New England committee of which
P. C. Rogers of Exeter is chairman.
The committee acts on problems and policies affecting tennis in secondary schools and junior tournaments.

ton in 1940, is now a premedical student at Gettysburg College. He has earned his freshman numerals in swimming and is teamed with Peter tain of the team this year.

Charles Mergendahl, Newton '37, was awarded the Bowdoin Masque and Gown "Oscar" as winner of the 1941 student written One-Act Play
Contest. Mergendahl, whose play,
"My Last Duchess" was inspired by Robert Browning's poem of the same name, said that his play was not an interpretation of the poem "but rather a thing apart, suggested by what the poem might have meant." Tryouts are being conducted under the auspices of the Masque and Gown Club for "Me and Harry," another of Mergendahl's productions.

Mr. Charles B. Harrington, head of the science department, spoke before the Eastern Association of Teachers of Physics on Saturday, March 15, on the subject of secondary school physics.

Warren Jr. High

"Alaska's Silver Millions," a sound film, was shown at the Junior
I and Junior II assembly on Friday, March 14. The picture told of the discovery of Alaska, described the country and pictured steps in the returning of the fish from the ocean for spawning to the time of canning.

Automobiles driven by Walter Hartford of 40 Clarendon st., Newtonville, and Barbara Kenney, 16, of Park Lane, Cochituate, collided at Commonwealth ave. and Melrose st., Auburndale, shortly before midnight last Saturday. Hartford, who is radio technician of the Newton police department, had driven onto Commonwealth ave. from Melrose st. after coming to a stop, when the car driven by the Kenney girl crashed into Hartford's car. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Ferguson of 82 West Pine st., Auburndale, was hurled out of his car and knocked unconscious. Hartford received an injury to his left shoulder. Lillian Palmer, 18, of Cochituate, who was riding in the other car, was slightly injured. All were taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and released after treatment.

William Riley, 4, of 42 Auburn st., West Newton, was hit on Tuesday morning near his home by an automobile driven by James Turner of 21 Jerome ave., West Newton. The child received a cut on his forehead that required 7 stitches to close. He was taken to Newton Hospital by William Tisdell of Rowe st., Auburndale. Turner reported that the child ran from behind a parked truck and into the path of his car.

recently in an automobile accident on Commonwealth ave. near a filling station. He and a bare majority of members of the Board had voted against the expansion of this station.

Alderman Rawson disagreed with Hoffman that the Claims Committee had reported on the zoning matter. Rawson said he was not aware that the Licenses Committee was to bring in a report at this meeting relative to the filling station. He commented that his committee was not the only one in the Board which had held up reports for three weeks, and he asked that it be given further time before making its report on this matter. Alderman Walker also stated that he was not aware that the Licenses Committee intended to make a report on the petition for the filling station permit.

Damaged Car and Is Assessed $11

As a result of allegedly losing his temper when he lost a job of towing a stalled automobile, Joseph Millman, 32, of Dorchester, an employee in a garage on Beacon st., Newton Centre, was fined $5 in the Newton court on Wednesday, and ordered to pay $6 for damage to an automobile owned by Julius Bindman of Holborne st., Roxbury. He appealed. According to Bindman's testimony his car became stalled on a street in Newton Centre and when Millman came along with a truck, he arranged with the defendant to tow his disabled car. Millman was slow in returning to tow the car, and Bindman phoned to another garage. When Millman arrived to tow the car and was not allowed to do so, he demanded a fee of $1. According to Bindman's testimony, when he refused to pay, Millman tore wires leading from the distributor and the coil.

He was also given a suspended prison sentence of 3 months. Another youth and two Newton Highlands men were in the Newton court the preceding week and found guilty in the same cases.

Protecting Mahogany Table
Dish rings, also called potato rings because invented by the Irish silversmiths, in the last half of the Eighteenth century, were ornamental stands for circular wooden bowls. Their purpose was to protect the polished mahogany table from the hot bowls. They were usually placed in the middle of the table all during the meal to hold the various dishes.

Silent Burglar Gets 2½ Year Term

Bert Gibson, 43, of 7 Dillworth st., Boston, a colored gentleman, whose sphinx-like demeanor flabbergasted the police, was found guilty of two burglaries in Newton by Judge Williams in the Superior Court at Cambridge on Thursday, and sentenced to serve 2½ to 3 years in State Prison. He was charged with having stolen 141 pieces of silverware from the home of James Cimaglia at 934 Commonwealth ave., and jewelry from the home of Dr. Joseph Cohen at Rosalie rd., Oak Hill. Mr. Gibson committed these crimes some months ago, but was not captured until he made the mistake recently of going again to the Cohen home. He was observed near that house by a neighbor who telephoned police headquarters. Inspectors Crowley, Bannon and Lyons hastened to the district and arrested Gibson, whom Crowley identified as the burglar who had been captured at West Newton a couple of years ago after he had hidden himself in the rumble seat compartment of an automobile.

When Mr. Gibson was captured this time a rubber bone was found on his person and the police inferred he carried it to quiet watch dogs in houses he entered.

Columbus Saw Bahamas First
The Old world's first contact with the Western hemisphere occurred in the Bahamas, for it was on October 12, 1492, that Columbus, after a terrifying voyage of 70 days, saw the first land in the New World. It was the Island of Guanahani, one of the Bahamas, which the explorer named San Salvador. The landfall of Columbus is now known as Watling's island.

On October 15 Columbus took possession in the name of the king of Spain of the island he called Santa Maria de la Concepcion, now called Rum Cay, and on the same day he visited another island which he called Ferradina, known now as Long Island. A few days later he named another island Isabella after the queen of Spain. This island is today known as Crooked Island.

First Homesteader
Daniel Freeman of Nebraska was the first person to file a claim under the homestead law, while on a furlough from the Union army. The farm in Cage county which was given to him by the federal government has been officially dedicated to the Homestead National Monument of America.

AIR'S FREE -

so why not use it?

GETTING right down to it, one reason why you get as much as 10% to 15% more miles per gallon from a 1941 FIREBALL Buick with Compound Carburetion is that this engine is supplied with more air.

For it is a mixture of gasoline and air that gives you power.

A single carburetor, no matter how many jets it has, can handle only so much air—which is nearly always too little for full-out, high-power performance.

But two carburetors that function as needed, as is the case in Compound Carburetion, can meet any fuel-supply need from low-speed to heavy-power use—and always provide a well-balanced mixture.

They can double the air supply as well as the gasoline feed—and that's something you can't do in any single-carburetor car.

So Compound Carburetion leads to big savings in fuel costs.

You get as much as 800 miles for the gas-cost of 700 in earlier Buicks of the same size.

It also provides a whopping big bank of reserve power, which means an up-and-at-'em lift and surge that's nothing short of thrilling to experience.

And you can have Compound Carburetion, you know, on any 1941 Buick—it's only a few dollars extra on the swell big SPECIAL pictured here, and standard equipment on all other models.

Newton Wins Point In Contest Over T. B. Hospital Tax

By order of State Director of Accounts Theodore Waddell, the Commissioners of Middlesex County last Friday increased the per diem cost of patients at the T. B. Hospital in Waltham from $1.75 to $2.35. This action came as a result of a persistent fight waged the past three years by the Newton Board of Aldermen. Until last year the county officials charged cities and towns only $1.50 per diem per patient, although the actual cost was much higher. The deficit was obtained by assessing cities and towns in the county on a basis of valuation, and Newton was the hardest hit by this method. Twenty cities and towns have been paying less than the cost of their patients in the hospital, at the expense of 31 other cities and towns.

Newton Aldermen demanded that the per diem cost be raised, and last year delayed in paying the assessment levied on this city. In fact, the Aldermen considered taking legal action. As a result, the county commissioners increased the per diem rate last year from $1.50 to $1.75. They also sponsored a bill in the Legislature which would have legalized the old method, and set a per diem rate of $1.50 to cities and towns in any State or county hospital. Representative Clarence Colby, who, as a member of the Board of Aldermen, was a leader in the fight against the unfair assessments against Newton to maintain the county hospital, strongly opposed the bill, and it was defeated.

The assessment this year for Newton, as set by the County Commissioners for the cost of the T. B. Hospital is $39,914.87. The Board of Aldermen contended that the slight increase made in the per diem cost was far from being satisfactory, and took no action to authorize an appropriation to pay the $39,914.87. The County Commissioners then sent word they would start charging a high rate of interest if the assessment will not be paid on or before April 1. Following Director of Accounts Waddell's action in ordering the County Commissioners to raise the per diem rate from $1.75 to $2.35, Mayor Goddard ordered a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen to be held on March 31 to make this appropriation. The increase in the per diem from $1.50 to $1.75 made this year's assessment about $2000 less than it otherwise would have been. The increase from $1.75 to $2.35 will cause a further reduction of about $4500 in next year's assessment.

In 1938 the actual cost per day for patients in the Middlesex County hospital was $3.66, but Newton was charged at a rate of $4.70, and the City of Somerville had to pay only (Continued on page 4)

Next School Year To Have 4 More Days Than This

At the regular meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night Supt. of Schools Warren submitted the school calendar for 1941-1942 and it was adopted. It provides for 186 days, or four more than the calendar for the current year. The State law specifies that there must be a minimum of 180 school days, and unforeseen closing on several days this year brings Newton below this minimum. Hence the provision made for the four additional days.

Newton schools will open on September 8, and the first term will extend to December 23, with holidays on October 13 and November 11, and a Thanksgiving vacation from November 26 to December 1. The Christmas vacation will last from December 23 to January 4 and the second term will start on January 5. It will continue until February 20. There will be no school sessions from February 20 until March 2, when the third term will start. This will continue until April 17, with a holiday on Good Friday, April 3, 1942. The spring vacation will start on April 17, and the fourth term will commence on April 27 and end on June 24 for pupils and June 26 for teachers. There will be a holiday on May 30.

Supt. of Schools Warren informed the committee of the theft of $588.75 in school funds from the vault of the Weeks Junior high school at Newton Centre over the week-end. The money included class dues, student patrol fund and bus ticket funds. Cafeteria funds amounting to $800 were in the safe in the vault which the burglars failed to open. Mr. Warren said the funds kept in the Weeks School were covered by insurance. He said it was the third attempt within a year to break open safes in Newton schools, and it was suggested that a burglar alarm system be installed in the schools. Some of the committee members inquired as to the necessity of keeping so much money in the school buildings. It was explained that the money stolen included 37 small accounts of various school funds, and much book-keeping would be required if these various accounts were sent to a bank. The committee refused an application from St. Bernard's Court, M. C. O. F., for the use of a room in the (Continued on page 4)

Hearing Held On Bill To Take Route 128 Around Newton

In the State House on Tuesday morning before the Committee on Highways and Motor Vehicles a hearing was held on the bill sponsored by the Newton Chamber of Commerce. This bill seeks to have Route 128 constructed as a new highway from the present terminus of the State-built section of this route at the Worcester turnpike in Wellesley, near the Newton line, through Wellesley and Newton to Weston and toward Waltham and Lexington. For years Route 128 has been diverted at Highland ave., Newton, through business sections of Newton Highlands and Newtonville, and through a congested section of Waltham.

Rupert Thompson, secretary of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, told what serious traffic conditions have been caused by heavy traffic on Route 128 travelling over Walnut st. at Newton Highlands and Newtonville, its adverse effect on business at Newtonville, and the hazards it brings to children attending Newton High School, and the Clafin and F. A. Day Schools. He also referred to the fact that there are three churches on Walnut st. by which this traffic passes. He presented letters from Supt. of Schools Warren and the Newtonville Improvement Association telling of the nuisance Route 128 causes by being (Continued on page 4)

Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston University, gave an interesting address at the all-Newton Methodist Men's night at the Newtonville Methodist Church on Wednesday evening. Over one hundred and sixty men from the various sections of Newton were present at the meeting which was sponsored by the Clafin Club, a men's organization of the Newtonville church.

He picks as outstanding men in the moral and religious history of America, George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln and Woodrow Wilson. The latter, he said, will not be really appreciated until a century from now.

Spaulding at the piano. The committee on arrangements included Howell E. Dupuy, Sr., Howell E. Du Puy, Jr., George W. Taylor, Dr. J. Franklin Knotts, Warren K. Brimblecom, Allan MacQuarrie and Frank Simmons. It was voted during the evening to hold a second annual all-Newton Methodist Men's night next year at the Newton Centre Methodist Church.

Retires After 40 Years Service In Newton Postoffice

Michael B. Collins of 36 Jewett st., Newton, for over 40 years an efficient employee of the Newton postoffice, will retire on a pension on March 31, having reached the age limit of 65 years. Mr. Collins was born in Newton and as a youth worked for Lynch Brothers of Watertown in the grocery business. He was appointed a substitute postoffice clerk in February 1901, and in July 1903, he was appointed a regular clerk and assigned to the Newton postoffice. All his service was at that office. For many years he had been in the financial division and held the rating of special clerk.

Mr. Collins has been absent from his former duties for the past several months, except during the Christmas season, because he had a long period of compensatory time due him. He was a competent, faithful clerk, his service of more than two score years without a blemish, and his quiet, friendly temperament won him the respect of his fellow employees who were associated with him during the more than four decades he worked at the Newton postoffice. His unfailing courtesy also made him popular with the patrons of that office. Mr. Collins has been active in charitable work in Newton for many years as a member of the St. Vincent Paul Conference of Our Lady's parish since that body was organized.

Burglars Steal $598 From Weeks School Vault

Burglars broke into the Weeks Junior high school on Hereward rd., Newton Centre, over the week-end and stole $598 from the vault attached to the principal's office in the school. The money stolen included school funds belonging to the various classes at the school, and it was in separate containers of wood and other materials which were kept in the vault. After obtaining this money, the burglars attempted to open a safe in the vault which contained $800. They failed to do so, but badly damaged the safe.

The burglars entered the building by breaking a window in the janitor's room at the rear of the school. Then they went to the sheet metal shop on the first floor of the building and took an electric drill, hammers and other tools which they used to break open and jimmy the door of the vault and grill work behind it. The safe resisted their efforts. The damage to the vault and safe is estimated at $200.

The burglary was discovered at 11 a. m. Sunday by John McNamara, engineer at the school. He reported it to Raymond Blaisdell of Moreland ave., principal of the school, and police headquarters were notified.

Malone, Jr., of 21 Durant st., Newton, and Vincent P. Dangelo of 27 Thornton st., Newton, both assigned to Engine 1. Newton. Mullen of 32 Woodrow ave., Newtonville, was appointed a military substitute to take the place of David Jennings at Engine 3. Jennings was drafted recently for military service and is at Camp Edwards.

City To Protest Long's Plan To Lower Edison Tax

The hearing which was to have been held at the State House on Tuesday before the Committee on Taxation on the proposal of Tax Commissioner Long to compel assessors of various cities and towns served by the Boston Edison Company to reduce greatly the assessments placed on that corporation was postponed until Thursday, and then again postponed to April 14. Mayor Goddard went to the State House on Tuesday to protest against Long's plan. Officials of the other cities and towns affected were also present to protest.

The Edison Company has been assessed in Newton in recent years about $2,500,000. Newton assessors have assessed the utility company on figures given by officials of the company, and the Edison Company has raised no objection accordingly. Last year Tax Commissioner Long placed a franchise value in estimating the amount of taxes to be levied against the Edison Company which that corporation deemed too high, based on what it held to be an excessive stock valuation, and the matter is now in litigation. Before the State can take the corporation tax levied against a public utility company, deductions must be made to provide for the assessments levied by cities and towns on properties of such companies, including real estate and equipment. If drastic reductions on such assessments were made, as proposed by Tax Commissioner Long, the tax obtained by the State would be proportionately larger.

The Edison Company tax valuation in Newton for 1941 is $2,499,636.81, based on the company's own figures. Tax Commissioner Long wants this valuation reduced about $1,000,000 to $1,543,610. This would cause a loss in taxes to Newton of $29,200 this year. The valuations given by the Edison Company are: underground conduits, $393,243.83; underground conductors, $650,140.36; street lighting fixtures, $95,725.71; poles and overhead conductors, $772,463.44; transformer plant, $188,476.05; Homer st. substation, $372,414.76; substation 35 Chapel st., $8,457.69; substation Oak st., $2,515.37; new construction, $16,200.

Recreation Board Holds Meeting

The annual organization meeting of the Newton Recreation Commission was held last week. Mrs. Therese Marshall was reelected chairman and Howard L. Rich, clerk of the commission. Recreation Director F. Ewing Wilson reported that because of weather conditions there were fewer skating days at public skating places in Newton the past winter than in the preceding winter. There were 37 days at Crystal Lake and 33 at Bullough's Pond, the two most patronized skating places. There were 49 skating days at Ware Cove, Auburndale, and 53 at Edmonds Park, Newton.

The commission voted to grant a permit to the Del Carmine Society of Nonantum to hold its annual fiesta at Hawthorn Playground, Nonantum, on three days and nights, July 19, 20 and 21.

Alderman McKay Makes Statement Regarding Smith Memorial Park

Mr. McKay Intends to Resign From Aldermen to Devote Time to Working For Proposed Memorial

Alderman Donald D. McKay of Newton Highlands, who originated the plan to convert the property formerly occupied by the Crystal Lake Ice Company at Centre st. and Norwood ave., Newton Centre into a park as a memorial to Rev. Samuel F. Smith, author of "America," explains in the following article what he has done to date in connection with this plan, and states that nothing definite will be done until the matter of the zoning of this land has been settled. Then, Mr. McKay says, a citizens' committee will be formed and an association probably organized.

Mr. McKay also announces that he intends to resign from the Board of Aldermen in the near future so that he can give more time to the work of campaigning for the Smith Memorial. He has been a member of the Board of Aldermen for 9 years, much of that time chairman of the Finance Committee. His statement follows:

Since March 17th when the filling station permit was denied there have been numerous inquiries regarding the proposed Samuel Francis Smith Memorial Park. To answer these questions a brief review of the past year and the immediate future must be made. After holding the filling station petition in committee for about six months, Franchise and Licenses made a majority report in September, 5-2, recommending that it be granted. The report stated that although four similar petitions had been unanimously denied in recent years, it seemed expedient to grant this one in order that an eye-sore on an entirely separate area be cleaned up and rezoned by agreement. Six aldermen vigorously opposed the recommendation, but it prevailed 11-6. Notice of intention to move reconsideration was filed by Alderman Colby, and at the next meeting this motion prevailed, and the matter was laid on the table for two months. During that period I enlisted the services of eminent landscape architects and displayed the model to many civic and patriotic organizations. No effort was made to raise funds, although there were some voluntary offers. The best advice was to get the public reaction to the plan, and if this were favorable and enthusiastic, other steps could be taken in an orderly and leisurely manner, when belodung issues were disposed of. Acting as a cooperative committee, three presidents of the most interested Improvement Associations selected a representative to confer with the Metropolitan Ice Company and to seek a reasonable purchase and sale agreement. Quite properly the company said no terms could be agreed upon as long as a conditional contract was in effect with the oil company petitioning for a permit. That contract expired with the denial of the petition March 17th.

So now it may be asked why I have not done something in the past ten days. I have. I have worked night and day, Sundays included, on the budget. This, of course, began several weeks ago, not to mention a few other activities, which the press is currently reporting to Newton's financial advantage. While the budget work is apparently completed as far as the finance committee is concerned, its chairman has plenty to do in preparing for the verbal presentation on March 31st. It may be pertinent to remark that I am also engaged in a private business for a livelihood. But even if time and strength permitted, I would make no further move until every controversial question regarding the ice-company's property has been settled. There is still the re-zoning petition. In the press I see they have asked that it be granted leave to withdraw. They intimate the land has one value if left in the manufacturing zone—and another lesser value if changed to residential. For the latter they themselves petitioned. I shall not here argue that point. But I am of the opinion that the company is not yet ready to discuss terms until it is settled. So I shall for the present continue to make no further moves, even if I had the time. The first person singular has been too prominent in these remarks, as it has necessarily been for six months since the Memorial Park plan was announced. At the proper time a citizen's committee should be formed, possibly an association incorporated to provide responsibility and accountability.

There are innumerable persons of prominence, ability and in the public confidence who as individuals or as representatives of civic and patriotic organizations will take up this work. I may have elected myself to initiate and to champion the plan in its early inception, but I shall be happy to be only a worker in the ranks when it is under way. And that I may do all that is possible at the right time, I take this opportunity of announcing my intention in the near future of resigning from the Board of Aldermen. This is not a sudden or unpremeditated decision. It was my wish not to be a candidate for re-election in November 1939. But because I urged our present Mayor to run for the office, I could not disregard his reciprocal request that I file my nomination papers. I did so with the reservation that I would do all that I could for as long as my experience in city government seemed to be of any value whatever. We on the Board enjoy some very friendly scraps. Because there have been differences of opinion recently has nothing to do with my contemplated action. I have been discussing it with the President of the Board for at least a year. There are one or two matters which will possibly come before the Board in the next three or four meetings in which I shall wish to participate. Before our summer adjournment (which seldom is an adjournment) I expect to ask to be relieved. Nine years is an awfully long time.

Weeks Treasurer Republican Party

Ex-Mayor Sinclair Weeks of West Newton was elected treasurer of the Republican National Committee at a meeting in Washington on Monday. He had been serving as assistant treasurer and chairman of the executive committee. He was succeeded as chairman of the executive committee by William F. Knowland of Oakland, Calif. Congressman Joseph Martin, Jr., agreed to continue as chairman of the National Committee after his resignation had been unanimously rejected.

The final series of talks on the Far East situation, was given by Prof. Warren A. Seavey of Harvard Law School under the title of "The Far East—A Prophecy for Action." He brought to attention, Japan's need of importing raw materials and their gradual acquisition of territory. Japan has been ruled by the military class since before 1900 and their conquest of Samosa, Korea, Port Arthur, Manchuria, Mongolia has been carefully watched by their army leaders for possible repercussions amongst the Democracies. In 1931 they broke the Nine-Power Treaty by the invasion of Manchuria, and the United States missed a splendid opportunity to settle an issue at that time—instead, Democracy again proved itself "soft" and unwilling to take the offensive.

Japan has lost nearly 1,000,000 men in the present Chinese war and its army is hopelessly bogged down, but she will not give up for fear of "losing face." She is now leaving a small force in China and turning toward the South—Indo China, Thailand, Burma Road, and then to Singapore and the Dutch East Indies. Her entire war effort is now based on the fact that she has made possible by the receipt of credits, oil, and scrap iron from the United States.

Prof. Seavey pointed out that England must keep Singapore in order to carry on the present war, as practically all the raw materials of the South Pacific clear through this port. England needs Singapore more than the Mediterranean and if Singapore were threatened she would be compelled to give up her Balkan plans and transfer her Mediterranean fleet to the East Indies.

Japan's fleet is effective and strong but does not have the cruising range of the U. S. Pacific fleet. She is already a bankrupt nation, has oil supplies for only six months, and has not large facilities for the manufacture of war materials. Now is the time to base the U. S. fleet at Pearl Harbor, Manila, and Singapore; to stop exports of metal and oil; and to stop all commercial credits. Prof. Seavey believes that Japan will not fight back, but if she does, a very early economic collapse will take place at home. Now is the time for the United States to take stern measures—war if necessary—to keep Japan out of Indo China, Singapore, and the Dutch East Indies. The Japanese firmly believe that they have been "selected" to rule all mankind, and only harsh measures can stop them. In order to help Britain, immediate steps are necessary to keep the Japanese out of the Malay and Singapore.

The program for next week, will be colored sound movies "Gallatin Gateway Honeymoon."

Girl Scouts

In the children's room of the Newtonville Library there will be an exhibit arranged by Brownie Troop 88 beginning March 20. According to Mrs. T. Jerome Cutting, the leader, they will show the Brownie uniform and insignia, their Initiation Pool and their Birthday Ribbon, as well as the results of their season's work. The latter includes first-aid kits, which will interest the many members of the First-Aid courses given at the library this year, knitted afghan squares for the Red Cross, party favors made from natural materials; milk-bottle dolls in all stages of "manufacture"; clove apples, which can be preserved a hundred years; and toy houses that give an idea of Brownie thinking and planning for a good community.

Among the eighteen girls in the troop those who assisted in preparing the exhibit were Sylvia Bernard, Nancy Shea, Joan Howlett, and Mary Louise Cutting, all of Newtonville, with the help of their leader and Mrs. Louis F. Gebhardt, assistant leader.

Powers' Paragraphs

When it comes to real loyalty, one has to hand it to Sinclair Weeks by his action in accepting the office of Treasurer of the Republican National Committee. Mr. Weeks has already sacrificed a lot of time and money in supporting the Republican party and in assuming this greater responsibility with the national prestige of the party at its present ebb, the former Mayor of Newton proves his fealty to the G.O.P.

In the Legislature on Monday Senator Krampf of Pittsfield opposed the proposal of Senator Lane of Lawrence that the State build a $200,000 aerial tramway on Mount Greylock in Berkshire County. Krampf suggested that Lane attend to affairs in his own part of the State and permit the Legislators from Western Massachusetts to look after that section of the Commonwealth. It does seem peculiar that a Legislator from Lawrence should be so interested in the other part of the State. The skiing season on Mount Greylock each winter, and the quality of skiing there, would make a $200,000 tramway a doubtful investment.

We had our first ride last week in one of the new "Presidents" cars which the Boston Elevated is placing in operation on the Watertown-Newton-Brighton line. These cars are certainly a big improvement over the older type vehicles which have been in use on this Elevated line for many years. They ride smoothly, and start and stop without the jerks which made travelling in the older cars disagreeable. They are streamlined and seem from an outside view so much smaller than the older conveyances, that we wondered how they provide seats for 54 passengers. The interior arrangement of the "Presidents" type explains this. In the forward part of these cars the seats run lengthwise and a wide aisle affords standing room for a number of passengers. The rear section of the cars have 12 cross seats and a narrow aisle. The only "out" we observed in these new cars is—that leg space between the cross seats is much less than in the older type cars. A person 6 feet or taller will be rather cramped in them. However, long-legged individuals can use the lengthwise seats in the new cars, provided there are seats available. It is quite certain that persons of ordinary size will select the cross seats in preference to the seats with less privacy.

There is an old axiom that—"One has to live or work with a person to really know him." There is much truth in this adage. The writer knows Michael B. Collins, who retires on March 31 after 40 years' service in the Newton postoffice, because for 17 years I worked with him. During a somewhat varied career, I have met people of diverse types, but few persons who impressed me as favorably as did "Mike" Collins. He was blessed with a serene, honorable disposition. He was ambitious, but not too ambitious. Content to perform his duties efficiently, he declined some years ago promotion to the superintendency of the Newton postoffice, although he was well qualified to serve in that capacity. He preferred to continue the even tenor of his way, rather than assume added responsibilities, and perhaps worries. Michael Collins has led an upright, friendly life and we wish for him many years of happiness following his retirement from active duties.

In last week's Paragraphs we commented that since the Board of Aldermen had rejected the petition of Elsie Tufts (a representative of the Metropolitan Ice Company) for a permit to establish a filling station at 1365 Centre st., it is now up to Alderman Donald McKay and the other proponents of the plan to create a memorial park there in honor of Rev. S. F. Smith, "to get busy." In this issue of the GRAPHIC is a statement from Mr. McKay which shows that he is preparing to get real busy on the memorial project. The present time is both unfavorable and favorable for such a project. Unfavorable because of the many demands on people for donations to relieve victims of the war. Favorable because there is supposed to be an unusual surge of patriotism current. The first steps necessary will be to negotiate with the owners of the land near Crystal Lake for its purchase, and to raise the money to buy this land. It is to be hoped that the owners of the land will see fit to be reasonable and co-operative. The task of raising funds to purchase the property should not be difficult. After the land has been acquired, ample time can be taken in developing the memorial and financing the cost of so doing.

The annual Sports teams splash party and dance will be held this evening, beginning at eight o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. building. Over forty couples are expected to attend and much planning has been made to insure a successful affair. In addition to swimming and dancing there will be group games in the gym, ping pong, pool, bowling, badminton and stunts. At the close of the party refreshments will be served in the auditorium.

The Boston & Albany Railroad will resume work upon the Newton Circuit branch as soon as the weather will permit. Erection of the new stations has begun, and it only remains to ballast the road and lay the iron. It would not be strange if trains were running before June 1.

At a meeting of Newton High School Alumni held on Wednesday evening in the school building, the proposition to form an association of graduates was discussed and a committee of 10 appointed to report an organization in the near future, with a view to the holding of annual social reunions.

The audience which gathered in Armory Hall last Saturday night, notwithstanding the nasty weather, to witness the Uncle Tom's Cabin performance, proves that the people want entertainment.

At the meeting of the Common Council on Monday evening the Water Board reported an important amendment to the ordinance governing the Water Department. It gives the Water Board power to appoint and remove all officials and employees of the Water Department, fix compensation, provide for the placing of meters on all services, and renew meters at the expense of the city. An order was offered establishing the pay for all able-bodied city laborers at $2 a day. It was referred to the Water Board and Committee on Highways for joint action.

The barbers of Newton and Watertown are agitating the question of closing on Sundays. There are 10 barber shops in the two places and the majority want to keep closed on Sundays. Boston barbers will soon make an effort for Sunday closing; in fact there is such a desire all over the State. There is a law which prohibits barber shops from opening on Sundays and it is up to Mayors and Selectmen to enforce it. Barber shops keep open till 12 Saturday nights, and it is 2 o'clock Sunday mornings before the barbers get away. Nine out of ten of the Sunday customers can get their work done Saturdays if they want to.

Newton Centre stores will not open on the morning of Fast Day as heretofore.

The fourth section of the Metropolitan sewer, which runs from a point along the river near the Faneuil depot to Waltham, was begun this week. The distance is about 4 miles. The sewer will be of brick, 4 feet in diameter. About 40 men will be employed and the digging will be done by steam.

Seventeen members of the trustees of Newton Cottage Hospital were present at the meeting held on March 16. The average number of patients for the past 3 months has been 20. The ward for private patients is completed and ready for furnishing. The contagious wards are completed and one of them occupied by a patient sick with diphtheria.

Dr. Thayer's horse was frightened by an electric car on Elm st. on Monday and performed some remarkable feats in high kicking. He did some damage to the buggy.

There are quite a number of cases of malaria and typhoid in Newton Centre and unless the sewerage question is acted upon soon by our city officials there will be more cases. Newton Centre, being on high land, should be free from these diseases, but while the city has no sewers, what else can we expect.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Fenno moved that the city make a contract for the furnishing of crushed stone. He said it will save $15,000 a year, on the basis of last year's cost of city laborers getting the stone from the Murray st. ledge, and the Florence st. ledge. Alderman Hyde said he did not want to oppose the contract, but he believed that the city should get crushed stone as cheaply as a contractor can. The order was passed.

The mandamus brought by Joseph Levine against Building Commissioner Forbush to compel him to issue a permit for an apartment house at the corner of Centre and Church st., Newton, was heard before Judge Carroll of the Supreme Court last Tuesday morning. After hearing the case, Judge Carroll refused to issue the writ.

The question of public and private garages occupied considerable time at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday evening. The matter came before the Board on the petition of Herman Weisberg for a permit to have a public garage and sell gasoline in connection therewith on Summer st., Newton Centre, and on the protest of residents against the erection of a multiple garage on Pearl st. by H. H. Hawkins. The Weisberg garage was favored by his attorney, Max Kalman, who said it would cover 5600 square feet and cost $40,000. It was opposed by a delegation of leading citizens of Newton Centre, headed by Charles E. Kelsey. He said the garage would lower values of nearby properties, and would be dangerous to children who attend the Mason School.

Newton Recreation Department Outlines Scope of Work

So many questions have been asked recently in regard to what activities the Newton Recreation Department sponsors and where such work is being done, that a brief outline of it is herein presented in order that taxpayers and other interested citizens may have some idea of the scope of this city department which is endeavoring to render a vital community service through providing opportunities for all age groups to lead fuller, more balanced lives.

In addition to promoting healthful and wholesome activities at twenty-five of the children's playgrounds during the summer months, supervision is provided for bathing at Crystal Lake, Auburndale, Newton Upper Falls and Allison Beach, these having a total attendance of more than 200,000 bathers each season. Two baseball leagues for young men from 18 to 25, two softball leagues for boys and men from 18 to 50 and two football leagues for youths from 18 to 25 are scheduled. The picnic grounds at Auburndale, with its excellent cook-out facilities, and 44 tennis courts located all over the city are in constant seasonal use. Skating is provided on six different areas in winter, with a total attendance exceeding 250,000 skaters. Tobogganing is provided at Newton Centre playground whenever weather conditions make its use possible.

The maintenance men of the Recreation Department are on the job year around and the importance of their work must not be overlooked. They do all of the seeding, ground-rolling, grass cutting and sprinkling of playgrounds, including the high school and other fields; mark and maintain all baseball, softball and tennis areas; clear, plane and sweep the ice in winter, and do all of the department's painting and repair work.

It is quite impossible to list every activity carried on during late fall, winter and spring, but the public should be informed about some of them and be appreciative of the co-operation between the School Department and the Recreation Department, resulting in the use of several school buildings after regular hours.

Mr. Harry W. Brown, Troop Committee Chairman and Chief Examiner of Troop 20 of the Trinity Church, Newton Centre, took six Scouts from that troop for a day at their cabin, on the Nobscot Reservation near Framingham, last Saturday. The Scouts were: Malvin Clifford, Donald Huke, Bill Paul, Ralph Moore, Ed Almond, and Dan Murphy, the last four being new Scouts invested only one month ago. The morning was spent in compass work under the guidance of Mr. Brown with particular emphasis being placed on the value and use of the compass in map making. Plan for Coming Season At Camp Frank A. Day

With the advent of spring, thoughts of boys and their parents quite naturally turn toward camp. Camp Frank A. Day, the popular camp for boys operated by the Newton Y. M. C. A., and located in Brookfield, Mass., is already feeling the surge of camp interest. The camp director, C. Evan Johnson, is busy interviewing parents and prospective campers. His schedule at the "Y" is as follows: Monday 7 to 9 p. m., Tuesday 4:30 to 6:00 p. m., Wednesday 7 to 9:30 p. m., and Thursday 3:30 to 5:30 p. m.

An enthusiastic meeting of the camp committee was held at the Y. M. C. A. this week. Chairman Charles D. Kepner presided. The most important action of the committee was the approval of the annual camp budget which included this year the erection of two cabins to be constructed in the midget camp. Designs for these cabins are now being drawn. They will be permanent structures with rough finish and each capable of housing seven boys and a leader. Among other new construction projects this year will be a screened porch on the camp hospital.

Camp Director Johnson is now completing staff appointments and in the near future will be able to announce the staff in its entirety. Good news for all campers is contained in the acceptance of the popular camp chef, Nils Johnson, to care for the wants of the innerman, again during the season of 1941. Professor Fred L. Lens Fragments Cause Capture of Hit-Run Driver

Pieces of a broken lens from an automobile headlight caused the capture of a driver who hit two youths on the Worcester turnpike on Monday night shortly before 11 o'clock, and who did not stop. The driver of the car was Sebastian Vigilio, 48, of 116 Florence st., Newton Centre, and his arrest was the result of sleuthing on the part of a brother of one of the victims.

Mario D'Innocenzo, 17, of 292 Langley rd., Newton Centre, and Quindino Vespa, 18, of 31 Maplewood ave., Newton Centre, were walking on the turnpike near Hammond Pond Parkway when the car came along from Brookline direction and hit them. D'Innocenzo received a fractured knee and Vespa a fractured nose. They were found lying on the north roadway of the pike by John Rich, 19, of 1947 Beacon st., Waban, and he took them to Newton Hospital. Sergeant Sheridan, Patrolmen Turner and McArthur, picked up fragments of the broken lens at the scene of the accident. Inspectors Hammell and Dowling of the Traffic Bureau took the fragments of the lens to the Newton Motor Sales Company in Newtonville, and with the assistance of James Sheridan and William Ryan, the pieces were placed together and found to be from a 1931 model car.

Upon learning of the make and model of the car involved, Ernest D'Innocenzo, Jr., had a hunch that the lens might have been on a 1931 car owned by a man residing in his neighborhood, so he went to the garage of Vigilio on Wednesday morning, found the right headlight on the car with the lens missing, and notified Newton police. Lieut. Moan and Patrolmen Bell and Springer went to Vigilio's home and placed him under arrest.

Arraigned in the Newton court, Vigilio pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident. Judge Mayberry continued the case until May 1 to permit the injured victims to appear against the defendant, who was released in $1000 bail. Vigilio said he was driving along the pike when an approaching bus driver blew the horn on his vehicle, and as Vigilio swerved his car he felt a bump, but saw nobody. On Tuesday he observed the broken headlight on his car and heard of the accident, so he concluded his car was the one involved. He said he had planned to inform his insurance company on Tuesday, but postponed doing so because it was raining on that day.

Automobile Accidents

A car driven by Alfred Chute, 22, of Mountain Lake, N. J., a Harvard student, hit a parked car opposite 398 Watertown st., Newton, on Tuesday night. Chute, who had fallen asleep at the steering wheel, was badly cut and bruised. He was taken to Newton Hospital in the police ambulance.

Cars driven by Joseph Bryson of 146 Pearl st., Newton, and Reuben Lipsey, of Dorchester, collided on Tuesday at Homer and Walnut sts. Bryson reported that he had received an injury.

ALL-WABAN BRIDGE

Many reservations have been made for the All-Waban Bridge to be held Friday and Saturday evenings in the Waban Neighborhood Club, 1610 Beacon st., Mr. John M. located as at present, and urging the planned extension from its present terminus at the turnpike. He also presented a letter from the Newton Planning Board favoring the bill. Alderman Clifford Walker, chairman of the Legislation Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, advocated the passage of the bill and said the Board had voted unanimously in favor of the bill. Alderman George Rawson said Route 128 should be extended as planned so as to keep it away from business areas and thickly settled residential zones in Newton. He said that the heavy traffic over Route 128 on Walnut and Crafts sts. not only causes congestion in the business districts, but adversely affects the residential zones which comprise the greater part of these two streets.

Representatives Colby, Patrick and Spear of Newton were present and were recorded in favor of the bill. Representative Francis, who attending a meeting of the Ways and Means Committee, was also recorded as in favor. Otis D. Fellows of Newton Centre, engineer of the State Planning Division, spoke in favor of the bill, and so did the engineer of the Metropolitan District Commission. $2.16. In 1940 the average cost to all cities and towns was $3.95 per day for patients in the hospital, but the cost to Newton was $4.86, despite the increase in the charge at the hospital from $1.50 to $1.75 per day. Had the $2.35 rate been in effect last year, the per diem cost to Newton would have been $4.43, and the per diem cost to Somerville $2.46 instead of $2.35. Newton would have been assessed about $4500 less for the year than it was, and Somerville about $3800 more.

Auburndale Woman's Club

Prof. Dirk H. Van Der Stucken of Phillips Academy, Andover was the guest speaker at the Auburndale Woman's Club, at the Tuesday afternoon meeting.

Prof. Van Der Stucken drew a vivid picture of conditions in war torn Europe and how this war would affect the United States. He pointed out that we are now the only solvent nation in the world and explained the problem that must be solved to allow us to keep our present democratic institutions. The Professor stated we must avert the breakdown of our Capitalistic System for if that goes—then our Democracy is gone. The Professor stated Totalitarian methods were already shown within the United States and our predominant thought must be the keeping of American Democracy.

Mrs. Howard P. Converse, day chairman introduced the speaker, who came to the club through the courtesy of the Newton Trust Co. Tea was served in the lounge by Mrs. Raymond Perkins and her committee. The annual meeting will be held at the Club house April 8th. (Continued on page 8)

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, president of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was the guest of honor at the meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club Monday evening at the Emerson School.

A varied and interesting musical program was presented by Miss Edith Marshall Clarke who used bells, lyre and xylophone to interpret numbers by Mendelssohn, Bizet and MacDowell. Miss Clarke gave some humorous as well as philosophical observations as she gave a portion of one of Dr. J. Whitcomb Brouger's lectures.

The Club is sponsoring a spring fashion show and bridge to be held at the home of Miss Clementine Vira, 522 Chestnut st., Waban, March 31.

Newton Federation

Brief reports by chairmen of the Standing Committees were given when the Executive Board of the Newton Federation met Monday morning at the Newtonville Public Library, the president, Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, in charge. Among these was a most encouraging report from Miss Adelaide Ball, chairman of Health Seals, and she stated that $6,282.70 had already been received and a few more sales to come in. The money received has been turned over to the Family Service Bureau and is being used for Newton residents who are in need either of curative or preventive treatments for tuberculosis.

Miss Harriet Parsons, secretary of the Family Service Bureau, spoke of the work of her department and said that they were cooperating with the local Draft Board, and were looking after the interests of those families who were affected by the call to service.

The speaker of the morning was Mr. Allen Forbes who is at the head of the Vocational Department of the Newton High School. He described the work that is being done on the national emergency program in his department and said that the class held were for twenty four hours a day, being divided into three eight hour shifts. Men from the ages of twenty to sixty are admitted but the average ages are from twenty five to twenty seven. The number of hours required for each student is four hundred and eighty. The students from the WPA are paid for their time, but no others. Out of the new eight million dollar appropriation made by the Federal government, thirty five thousand will be allotted to Newton, and new courses added with these funds for equipment. Among these will be a welding department.

For the women there are courses in home nursing and first aid, as well as such mechanical work as can be done by women. Out of one class of forty-five men, thirty-nine finished. From a class of thirty-nine girls, but one was dropped.

Mr. Forbes added that the results obtained were far ahead of those at the time of the World War. As one of the shifts is from eleven at night until seven in the morning, occasionally a student would show signs of sleepiness and to raise him, a klaxon horn was sounded.

Before adjourning the meeting, Mrs. Pearson announced that she had been appointed as the contact member of the Thrift Centre from the Federation to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Edgar P. Hay.

ZONTA

The Newton Zonta Club met Mar. 17th at the home of Mrs. Dow Fyfe, White Oak, Waban, with the members of the Waltham Zonta Club as guests. A number of dramatic selections read by Miss Jean Krueger were enthusiastically received. With the leadership of Miss Krueger, three skits were originated and acted by members of the clubs, furnishing a great deal of evening. April 7th, the club will meet at the Newton Hospital for dinner and a business session.

NEWTON W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Everett C. Herrick will entertain the Newton W. C. T. U. on Thursday, April 3, at 2:30 p. m. in her home, 196 Institution ave., Newton Centre. Mrs. Herrick will give an interesting talk illustrated with bells from many lands; music by Mrs. Ethel Keach Ferrin. At the March meeting of this organization an address was given by Mrs. Malcolm Green, International Chairman of Newton W. C. T. U. and member of the Board of International Relations of Mass. Federation of Woman's Clubs. Mrs. Green's subject was: "It Happened Here," saying that this is the most critical year in the destiny of the world and that we should feel great responsibility for the outcome. She illustrated her theme by reading "Nothing Ever Happens" by Dorothy Canfield Fisher. At the business meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U., presided over by Mrs. Walter F. Stevens who has recently returned from Washington, D. C., Mrs. John A. Groves, Legislative chairman, called attention to the bills pending in Washington, D. C.: Senator Capper's bill, S. 157 protesting liquor advertising in newspapers and on radio which violates the 21st amendment and also Senator Edwin S. Johnson's bill, S. 517 against radio advertising of liquor. Senator Morris Sheppard's bill, S. 860 was also called to the attention of the organization as it is the climax of the work being done by Temperance Organizations all over the country to take alcoholic beverages out of the camps and commercialized vice away from the vicinity of the camps.

It just Breathes a little Deeper and Wades In!

EVER stop to figure why Nature gave you both a nose and a mouth to breathe through?

Your nose, barring colds, does all right for ordinary purposes.

But go up against some heavy exercise and you can open up your mouth as well and increase the intake of oxygen.

Your 1941 Buick with Compound Carburetion* works something like that.

Its "nose," which is the forward one of your two thrift-size carburetors, does a grand job of supplying "breath" for your engine on normal jobs.

But when the time comes that your engine has to dig in for a tough pull or a burst of power, then your extra foot-pressure on the gas treadle opens up the "mouth" and your engine "breathes" through two carburetors.

Simple, isn't it? Yet look what happens:

Your engine always consumes gas according to the need, never overfed by a carburetor too large for light jobs or underfed by one too small for the big ones.

By simply taking it easy when easy does it and breathing deep when the work piles up, your power plant gets as much as 10% to 15% more mileage from the same gasoline.

That, in these days, is nothing to be sneezed at.

So why don't you get the whole story from your Buick dealer?
